"Sunshine in Thought," by Charles Godfrey Leland, (published by O. T. Evans, New York,) has the excellent purpose of denouncing the morbid melan-choly and miserable affectation which have increasingly crept over us of late years. Mr. Leland wishes to encourage "cheerfulness and joyousness in every phase of literature and of practical life." Scholars will enjoy this book more than general readers, for it is crowded with references to ancient and foreign literature. The second chapter, on the Ballad and Legend of Sir Tannhœuser, is worth the price of the book, ten times told over. The concluding chapter is a mere rhapsody-fine sentences, without much serse in them.

Those who have read a popular sensation story, "Among the Pines," by Edmund Kirke, will be pleased with "My Southern Friends," by the same author. It is so powerfully written as, at times, to make its perusal even painful. It bears evident marks of being drawn from life, but is very highly colored. It is impossible to deny this book the merit of being extremely striking and graphic, (W. P. Hazard, Philadelphia.)

A certain D. A. Mahony, whilom of Iowa, has prevailed upon Mr. Carleton, of New York, to pub-lish a meanly-printed volume of his entitled "The Prisoner of State." It treats de omnibus rebus in general and of Mahony's confinement in the Old general and of Mahony's continement in the Oil Ospitol prison in particular. The first 117 pages are occupied with Mr. Mahony's views of the Habeas Corpus. Then follows a spun-out account of his ar-rest and transmission to Washington, concluding with over one hundred pages about his fellow-prisoners, with whom, especially "Bells Boyd," spy and Secessionist, he seems to have tenderly sympa-thized. He corresponded with her through a hole in the floor. The dedication to the Secretary of War is insolent to a degree, and the whole tone of the volume shows that the South is the proper place for its writer to retire to., Mr. Carleton has made a mistake in publishing such a book. (Received from T. B. Peterson & Brothers.)

The Harpers have reprinted, in a neat volume, with six engravings from designs by O. Keene and E. K. Johnson, (noted English artists,) a very superior book for boys, written by John G. Edgar, and called "Sea-Kings and Naval Herces," I contains twenty one blographies of leading naval heroes from Rollo the Norman and Hasting the adopted Dane, in the tenth century, to Nelson and Collingwood in the nineteenth, and is, in all respects, a very suitable book for young people. (J. B. Lippincott & Co., and T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia.)

The twenty-ninth Part of "The Rebellion Record." ably edited by Frank Moore, has reached us through Mr. J. K. Simons, 33 South Sixth street. Its illustrations are portraits, engraved on steel. of Generals Robert H. Milroy and W. S. Hancock. The record of the war is here brought down to the Battle of Corinth, in October last. We have reneatedly expressed a favorable opinion of the design and execution of this publication.

The late General O. M. Mitchell, who was deathsmitten at Beaufort, S. O., in October, 1862, was the greatest astronomer this country ever produced. His works are "Planctary and Stellar Worlds," published in 1848; "Popular Astronomy," in 1860, and "The Astronomy of the Bible," which Blake-man & Mason, of New York, have just issued. It consists of seven lectures, delivered by the author, in various places, ere war had drawn him into active life. Their object was to show that Astronomy is in perfect harmony with Holy Writ. He does this successfully, though, it must be said, rather diffusely. The volume is rendered complete by a portrait and memoir of its learned and gallant au

William Wells Brown, an intelligent colored person, who had previously written a volume of foreign travel, and two or three works of fiction, has brought out a small volume, entitled "The Black Man, his Antecedents, his Genius, and his Achievements." It contains his own autobiography, fol-lowed by fifty-three sketches of colored persons who have in some way distinguished themselves. Some of these sketches are very slight, and credit is sometimes claimed for very common place per-sons. There is a sad want of arrangement here, the sketches being placed neither in classified, alphabetical, nor chronological order. Mr. Brown as-serts that Euclid, Homer, and Plato were Ethioplans, and, therefore, negroes. This is begging the question. Englid was first heard of in Greece Homer has usually been claimed as a native of the noncer has usually been called as a native of the same country. Plato was born at Athens. The horrible confession of Nat Turner does no credit to this collection. Mr. Brown, himself a colored man writes with ease, though not always with correct-ness. For example, it is ungrammatical to say of John Sella Martin, "he has written considerable for the press." Mr. Brown shows, however, that the negro race has produced a few able and gifted

[Before Mr. Alderman White.]

[Before Mr. Alderman White.] Larceny Case. A woman. named Ellen Hagen, was arraigned be'ore Alderman White, yesterday morning, on the charge of the larceny of the sum of $32 and a set of window cur-tains, tassels, &c., valued at $23, the property of Mary Ann Wolf, residing at 143 Dock street. The accused boarded at the house of complainant and, availing her-self of the opportunity afforded, purloined the arcicles mentioned. She was arrested at the corner of Second-house, the window-curtains were found concaled be-neath her hoop skirts. She was committed in default of $1,000 to answer at court. District Court No. 1-Judge Stroud. Thos. Summers and Harriet R. Summers his wife, in right of such wife, vs. Charles Toon and Jos. D. Fisher. An action of trespace to recover damages for the alleged unlawule scizure and sale of certain persons) property, alleged to be the separate property of the wife, under an execution issued against the husband by Charles Toon, and executed by Joseph D. Fisher, the other detendant, who was a constable at the time. Notice had previously been given to the constable that the property was the separate property of Mrs. Summers. It is claimed that she derived it from cartain legacles under the will of her aunt. It was also alleged that there was collasion bet tween the defendants as to the sale, and other circum-stances of bad conduct, which vitated the whole trans-cetton. After the evidence was all in, plaintiff took a pon-suit. H. Warriner, Esq., for plaintiff, H. M., Dechert, Esq., for defendant:

President LYND in the CLEIT. Petitions, Communications, &c. A communication was received from the Board of Health seking an additional appropriation of $3,000 for the use of the Sanitary Committee in defaying expenses to be incurred in the treatment of small pox cases. Re-ferred to the Committee on Health. Mr. CATHERWOOD presented a remonstrance from citi-zens of the Ninth and Tenth wards against the erection of a building for the storage of coal oil by the Pennsylvania Sait Company. Referred to the Committee on Law. Reports of Committees. The Committee on City Property reported an ordinance appropriating $3,500 for the removal of the cocons of in-sects from the trees in the public squares. A discussion ensued upon the ordinance. Some of the amount reported by the committee on law. Mr. Kins-moved to amount vas too large, while others argued that an immense amount of labor will be required to remove these insects, and every cent of the amount reported by the committee will be necessary. Mr. Kins-moved to add a second section, which provides that the officers of police shall notify owners and occupants of property with the built-up portions of the city to remove the cocous from the trees in front of heir thermes. Adopted. The bill was then passed. Dr. Unues introduced an ordinance making an appro-priation of $200, to be expended under the direction of Prof. Joseph Leidy, for, the purpose of making ensure ments in determining a method of destroying the insects apponded the may deem proper. It was adopted. Ordinances to Purchase City Rallways. The Committee on Rallways reported two ordinances for the purchase of city passer in the apponded the may deem proper. Ordinances to Purchase City Railways. The Committee on Railways reported two ordinancess for the purchase of eity passenger railways; one for the Second and Third-streets, and the other for the Fifth atd Sixth-streots. The first ordinance was read. It was preceded by a lengthy preamble, which recites the acts of Assembly and the ordinances of Councils, in which the right of the eity to purchase the roads at their original cost is resorved. The first section of the bill ap-propriates $188,033,92 for the purchase of the Second and Jhird-streets Railway. The second section provides that the Mayor shall appoint a compatent person to act an conjunction with the Second and Third-streets Pas-senger Railway Company, to value the cars belonging to the companies. The Mayor is then directed to report the amount to Councils, that the necessary appropriation may be made. The third section authorizes the Mayor to draw a warrant for the amount, when, in the opinion of the City Solicitor, a proper deed of convergence is re-corded.
