the last report, was one hundred and thirty-two. The examination of the respective classes took place before a committee of the Board of Directors; the discourse before the society of inquiry having been delivered by the Rev. Charles W. Shields, D. D., of this city, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church. eventh street, below Arch. His theme was "The Duty of the Church to give the Gospel to the whole World," and, by a correspondent who heard it, its treatment is described as rich in practical thought, and characterized with the force, simplicity, and elegance peculiar to Dr. Shields' style of pulpit eloquence.

Augher versus Breckinkidge.-A writer in the current number of the Presbylerian criticises the Rev. Mr. Aughey for stating in his recently publiebed book, the " Iron Furnace," with reference to lished book, the "Iron Furnace," with reference to Rev. Dr. R. J. Breckinridge, the following: "On leaving his house he gave me some directions as to the road I must travel to reach a certain point. "You will pass,'said he, 'a blacksmith's shop, where a one-eyed man is at work—my property." The phrase, 'my property,' I had never before heard ap-plied to a human being," &c.

In answer to this, the writer says, on authority which he claims to be indubitable, that "the Rev. Dr. R. J. Breckinridge has never stood, during his whole life, in such a relation, either to a blacksmith or to a one-eyed man, white or black, that he could say of him, 'my property,'" and adds that aside from the incident narrated, the collocation of it is such as to aggravate the wrong done.

THE MIDNIGHT-MEETING MOVEMENT FOR THE FALLEN, IN THE CITY OF LONDON.-The annual meeting of the friends of the midnight-meetings for depraved and fallen women was recently held in London. The statistics of the secretary showed that there were at least 50,000 fallen women in that city alone, pursuing their immoral occupation, while in the United Kingdom four hundred thousand was the lowest computation. Since the formation of this movement upwards of five hundred of these unfortunate creatures have been rescued from a life of shame, several of them have been restored to their friends, and not a few are now filling respectable situations. This is one of the most worthy humanitarian movements of the age.

SINCULAR IMPOSTURE ATTEMPTED WITH AN ARCHRISHOP'S BODY .- The Cardinal Archbishop of Capua's body was lately laid out in state in one of the chambers of the palace. While the crowd of visitors was thickest, the Cardinal was suddenly seen to raise an arm and nod his head. The sensation created was immense: "A miracle! a miracle!" was the general cry, while some ran away in terror; others stood transfixed to the spot in astonishment. Two bersaglieri, however, who witnessed the scene did not share the general opinion, but, stepping forward, raised up the curtain which concealed the bedstead, when, lo! a lazzaroni crept forth and took to his heels
