binding, and will subject all who take it to Yankee conceription. VIONSBURG, May 9.—Nothing new from the front to-day. The enemy are landing troops at in Young's Point. It is supposed they are destined to reinforce Grant. The Whig newspaper office was destroyed by fire this afternoon. The origin of the fire is unknown. Among the Yankees captured by Forrest, are many citizens or natives of Southern States. We hope the Governors of the several States will promptly make demand for the retention and trial of these traitors under State laws. It will be worse than idle mociery to turn them loose on exchange. An act has passed the Confederate Congress esta-blishing that the flag of the Confederate States shall be as follows, viz: The field to be white, the length double the width, with the Union (now used as the battle flag, lo be a square of two-thirds the width of the flag, having the ground red thereon, a broad saltire of Shue-bordered white, and emblazoned with mullets or flow-pointed stars; corresponding to the number of Confederate States. Approved, May 1, 1863. Four thousand prisoners arrived in Richmond on barrel. How this would startle some of our economical housekeepers. Gen. Lee has issued a lengthy order, dated May TOWN. PA. At Suffolk everything continues quiet. Captain ID DEALERS. Skelly, with two companies of the 11th Pennsylva-nia Cavalry, was scouting near the Blackwater, EET, and was fired on by some bushwhackers-no damage done. Four rebel conscripts came into the lines there, and were kindly treated. Their tale was a G 8; simple one, unvarnished by rhetoric or flattery, and was believed by all who listened to its recital. Forced into the Confederate service, ill used, misock of CARPETtrusted, poor fare, and bad pay, made them conclude that they might do better by deserting, and joining the Union army, while they were satisfied they could which we call the origination of the second states and the second states of the second ars. fe21-Sta Ther state the rebel force on the Biaok water to be Gen. Lee acknowledged that Longstreeps corps was the orean or west Point; though I have heard a Yurkies that Longstreet would soon be there. B. THE REBEL ARMY. Richmond papers of Friday and Saturday furnish a number of interesting articles, which abound in comic falsehood. Contradiction is unnecessary, ex-cept in the rebel summary of losses. To the certain involedge of one of the most reliable correspond-ents, the fational forces captured, and possess over 4,500 prisoners. There can be no question that their loss, at least, will fully equal ours. The Richmond Sentined, of Friday, says that Geno-real tookier took advantage of the furious storm of We denesday evening, and "run." The Examiner, of the same date, declares that had Gen. Hooker been con-ied to have fidd the Fredericksburg Heights, and his possilion the leff, Gen. Lee must have fidlen back de feded. A glorious victory was, indeed, juat within our grasp. The number of cannon captured by our army is not yet knewn, but it is said to be over fity. It is doubtful whether the pieces taken from the Wash-ington Artillery were recaptured. New York, Hon. Chas. F. Stansbury, Washington, and from a number of others, residents of this icity, acknowledging the receipt of notices of their election to membership, manifesting much interest in the prosperity of the society, and expressing a desire to co-operate in earrying out the objects for which it was established. The librarian's report was also read, informing of numerous donations received during the last month from individuals, and from similar societies in this country and Europe. Dr. B. H. Coates aunounced the death of a valued member of the society, Wm. Darlington, M. D., of West Chester, Pennsylvania, widely known as the "Botanist of Chester county." He stated that the Dootor had been honorably acknowledged by bo-tanists of Europe generally, and was considered the representative of that branch of science in his native county. In the early part of his life he was actively engaged in the practice of medicine, and enjoyed a high reputation in that part of the country; later in life he was engaged as a leading man in the manage-ment of prominent moneyed institutions, and was well versed in local history and the biography of the early settlers of this State. He then offered the following resolutions, which-were passed: "Work and the following resolutions, which-were passed: "Work and the members to the family

He died studenly in this city, while on a visit, having only four weeks ago read before us the memoir of our late vice president, Neville B. Oraig. A resolu-tion was then offered by him and adopted, providing for the appointment of a committee to prepare suit-able resolutions on the death of Dr. William H. Denny, expressive of the feelings of the Society. Hon. James Pollock, Dr. Rene La Roche, J. Ross Snowden, Solomon W. Roberts, and Charles S. Brad-ford were appointed on the committee. A NEW ATLAS OF PHILADELPHIA CITY. A New Atlas of the city of Philadelphis, and one which is at once minute, extensive, and correct, has lately made its appearance. The manner in which this work has been designed and completed sug-gests years of toil and endeavor, and reflects credit upon all who have been engaged in it. The illumi-nated tile-page, printed on stone and in colors, is designed from the coat of-arms of Philadelphia, and is most admirably executed. The descriptive tille-page fursishes a synopsis of the whole work. It is prepared from official records in the survey depart-ment of the city of Philadelphia, and from private records of original surveys, and exhibits on a large ecale the size of the blocks, the width of the streets, courts, and alevs, the location of churches, public buildings, parks, squares, cemeteries, railroad routes, and extent and present position of the buildings throughout the city. Not only the already opcned streets are represented, build buildings, throughout the city. Not only the already opcned streets are represented. Juit also those surveyed, laid out, or projected. They are marked out accurately in distinctive coloring. All the wharves are exhibited, and the lines denoted to which they may lawfully be extended. The old as well as the new names of the streets are givea. The passenger railway routes are all of them traced out. A list appended to one of the maps shows the pre-sent extent of every street, the area of the public squares, the height alow enditions of the aca-demice, asylumas, eith alla, hospital, heles, libra-ries. literary, scientific, and art associations, mar-ket houses, medical colleges, public halls, theatres and offices, railroad dépots, institutions for the re-lied of the poor, etc., and fifty other places. The volume is printed on heavy sized paper, prepared expressly for the purpore, and which admits of both writing and erasure. COL. COLLIS' ZOUAVE REGIMENT.—'At a meeting of the surviving officers of the 114th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, Collis' Zouaves, held on the battle-field, near Chancellorville, Va., on Monday, May 4, 1863, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously passed : Whereas, This regiment has just passed through a most severe ordeal; therefore, be it. Resolved, That the gallantry and enthusiasm of the men of this regiment, under circumstances calculated to appal the stoutest hearts, was attributable to the spirit of confidence and invincibility infused into them by our brave young colonel. Resolved, That every officer and man of the regiment owes a debt of a sincere gratitude to Colonel Charles H.J. Collis for his undawnied courage, interpid bravery, unitring zeal, and unflinching determination to win for our regiment an imperimable name. Resolved, That in remaining upon the field of battle whiles uffering from severe exhaustion, which entitled him to be carried to the rear, and not submitting to be taken away, although repeatedly advised to be, and then being carried away insensible, but returning again to us in a few hours, he displayed a spirit of devotion to his regiment which by us will always be cheriahed with grateful hearts: Recoved, cohered and devise our willing meet on the sould always and the being carried to the rearts.

Yesterday, it and a fight took place between our cavalry and a part of the infantry with the enemy's force, composed of artillery, caralry, and infantry. In the beginning, the enemy succeeded in obtaining some advaniage over our cavalry, on which account I or-dered the battallion of infantry sent to their support to fail back to the possition which I had previously selected to give or resist an engagement. Then the enemy formed in infantry column, advanced upon our pover lossition as far ag the foot of the declivity of Tianguismanalco, opening upon usa fire of artillery. The result of the combat was that we remained maslers of the field, there having fallen into our power about 500 head of cattle, mules, and horses, about 300 sheep, about 30 Arabian hGueci, and several arms. Such a result could not be obtained, as was natural, without some misfortunes, of which I will inform you when I receive the accounts of the commanders of the forest hat forght on that day. In virtue of the instructions that you were plaased to five and, I returned last night to this place, where I ar-rived at 10 o'lock. Liberty and Reform. IIGUEL MARIA ECHEACAR
