A Foolish Scheme of Murder. Hannon W. Beecher, alias Zenas Ourtis, was year terday afternoon arraigned at the Police Court, be-fore Justice Dowling, charged with an attempt to murder Bordan W. Plumb, a diamond broker, at 512 Broadway. The facts, which have been already pub-lished at length, were reiterated on this trial, and may be briefly thus recapitulated: The prisoner, Beecher, was staying at Powers' Hotel about two weeks ago, and there met one George W. Howard. He proposed to the latter a plan by which they could gain a large amount of money by only murdering a man. Howard appeared to lean isvorably toward the scheme, and learned that the intended victim was Mr. Plumb, just mamed. The plan was this: Beecher was to induce Plumb to display as, large a stock of diamonds as possible, and, at the appointed moment, was to blind bin with snull, while his accomplice. Howard, was to enter, knock the broker on the head, and aid in securing the plunder. If they were caught in the attempt, they were to saw their way out of, prison with implements provided and secreted on their persons. hirty days.
