Taxation, North and South.

To the Editor of The Press:

SIR: As Northern traitors are endeavoring to inflame the public mind against the Government, and using among other arguments, the subject of taxation, I ask you to let your readers see the difference between our taxes and the taxes which the slave oligarchy is imposing upon its impoverished and oppressed people. The following is the bill passed by the last "Confederate" Congress:

"That on the first day of January, 1863, there shall be levied and assessed on each person resident in the Confederate States, for the support of the Government and the defence of the country, the following tax, to wit: One-fifth the value of all the wheat, corn, rice, oats, potatoes, hemp, flax, peas, beans, barley, hay, wool, rosin, tar, pitch, turpentine, cotton, sugar, molasses, and tobacco produced by them in those States, during the previous calendar year; also, one-fifth of the value of the increase for the preceding calendar year of the horses, asses, cattle, sheep, and swine; and, also, one-fifth of the profits made in the preceding calendar year by the feeding of swine, sheep, cattle, or mules; also, one-fifth of each person's yearly income for the precedent calendar year, from all sources whatsoever, except the sources hereinbefore described, and except from the interest on Confederate bonds, certificates, or treasury notes. Provided, That said tax so levied and assessed shall be due and payable on the first day of April 1863. Provided further, That foreigners resident within the Confederate States shall not be required to pay, except from the aforesaid articles produced by or for them, or from incomes or profits derived from business conducted by them in those States; nor shall any tax be levied upon the products of residents where the total value of such products, during said year, is less than $500; nor shall any tax be levied upon the income of residents where the total value of such income is less than $500."

What would the farmers of Pennsylvania say to a tax bill like this? What would the capitalist or mechanic say? How long can the leaders and tyrants, who thus oppress and impoverish their people, hope to maintain a cruel and hopeless war against a generous Government? There is a tax of one-fifth of every person's income and profits, more than six times the amount of our taxes, and yet the Ingersolls, Reeds, and Biddles, are endeavoring to stir up among our people a feeling of hostility against the payment of those taxes, while at the same time they are so in love with Jefferson Davis and his colleagues, that they are willing to make any peace with them that will oblige us to assume and pay their immense debt and taxes in addition to our own! We think the people of Pennsylvania will have their eyes opened before long to the true purposes of these would-be Democratic leaders.

I am, sir, very respectfully yours,

UNION.

An Appeal for the Suffering.

To the Editor of The Press:

SIR: I would like to suggest to patriotic members of the Union League some attention to the misery now existing in this city in the families of unpaid volunteers; or, sadder still, in the families of those who have given their lives in the service of their country. Let them learn through the ladies of the "Special Relief Committee," at the Sanitary Commission rooms, 1307 Chestnut street, the pitiful cases that daily come under their notice, and we are sure they will so much to alleviate their misery. A few cases will suffice to enlist their sympathies, as well as to call attention to the fact that the ladies of this committee are dependent upon a fund raised outside of the Sanitary Commission, for the noble work which they have undertaken, of relieving the distress of these families: The wife of a private in the Corn Exchange Regiment applied for assistance. Her husband had received no pay, in consequence of his being in the hospital at Falmouth when his regiment was paid. She owed seven months' rent, and her baker's bill had amounted to $14. She had been sitting up until two o'clock at night, upon Government work, until her health gave way from incessant labor. She has several small children, the youngest three months old. Her name and residence were taken, and her immediate wants relieved. When the regiment was paid the following month she went down to the Exchange and received sufficient money to pay off the above-mentioned debts, together with the arrears of rent which she had contracted in the neighborhood. This left her a balance of three dollars. The day was wet, her shoes in a miserable condition, the exposure added to her cold, and painful and acute suffering was the result. This poor wife, dying with consumption, occupied a little room scarcely larger than a butler's pantry, with her young children. The ton of coal and the barrel of flour, which the "Special Relief" left with her, were needed. But the city attends to these cases," say some. Yes, the city gives this woman two dollars a week; and how far will this sum go to relieve her need!

Another woman applied for assistance, and was received any of her husband's pay for many months. Upon visiting her, one cold day in March, they found her scarcely conscious of her surroundings in the upper part of the city. The room was exquisitely neat. A thread-bare, but clean rag-carpet covered the floor. The stove was very little used in it, but was freshly blacked. A child was sleeping on a settee—the pillow snow-white. This woman owed her landlord $60; but he had been very kind, and was willing to wait until she received her husband's pay. She had supported herself and children by her needle, and not having been able for some weeks to pursue any sewing, she had applied to the Special Relief. They gave her army shirts to make, at 37½ cents apiece, which, she says, "pays beautifully." The ladies, mindful of her personal cleanliness and the neatness of her room, spoke in praise of her house. She replied that there was water in her cellar, but while she owed her landlord so much she could not complain; although her physician had told her that unless it was boiled out, sickness would result. The appearance of the woman was delicate in the extreme. A discharged soldier, low with consumption, came to the rooms for assistance. Not many inquiries were made; but, upon visiting him, the case was found to be one of far more suffering than he had represented. He was sleeping on a sack of straw, the bed having been pawned. Four pairs of stockings and shoes of his wife had been disposed of for bread. The room was clean, but almost destitute of furniture of any description. After supplying for their most urgent necessities, the Special Relief furnished the wife with sewing, and weekly gives a small sum in addition to the amount that she earns.

The widow of a volunteer, killed at the battle of Williamsburg, who has a family of small children, and who has been confined to her room with a rheumatic affection for the greater part of the winter, was one of the applicants. In six months' time she would receive her pension money; but what was to become of her in the meantime? The Special Relief advance her weekly a small sum, a portion of which she will return to them when her pension is collected.

One other case merits especial attention. A young woman made application for work. Her sorrowful face excited interest—her story still more. Her husband, known to one of the ladies, was a sergeant in Colonel Jones' regiment, afterwards entered the regular service, and was promoted to the Second United States Artillery. At the time of the battle of the Blackwater he was disabled by a kick from a horse, which he had received in the chest. His wife, to which his wife had received from the captain, thus explains how he came to be in the battle: "Your husband was not on duty, and was not obliged to be out all some days from injuries; and the first that I knew of his being in the engagement, was when he was reported as one wounded." I said to him, 'What came you to go into the fight?' He replied, 'I could not help it when I heard the firing, and knew that I was needed.' He is a gallant soldier; I wish that I had more like him." His wound in the head was of such a nature that his discharge was given to him, although he did not ask it, nor wish it; but the surgeon who gave it knew that he never would be fit for duty. He had received neither pension nor bounty, and was robbed of a portion of his pay, which he had upon him during the two days of insensibility that followed after receiving his wound. Some washing and sewing were given to the wife; and may God help her in her efforts to support her disabled husband, who, for his health been spared, could always have secured to her, with his own strong arm, a comfortable living.

I am sure that they must be extremely from our city, singing the well-known words of this favorite song,

"Our wives and our children we leave in your care."

We know you will help them their sorrows to bear,"

they had faith in the men who remained behind, that they would do their share in the country by looking after the families of those who were perilling their lives in its service.

I am, sir, your obedient servant, L.

THE POLICE.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

Collision in the Street.

James Callahan was arraigned before Alderman Beitler yesterday on the charge of assault and battery. The evidence developed the following facts: On Monday afternoon a carriage, containing two little girls, daughters of a Mrs. Keim, was going down Sixth street, near Spring Garden. Callahan was driving a cab at a fast rate in the same direction, and came in collision with the carriage, but did not attempt to restrain his horses. The carriage was overturned and the occupants thrown out, but fortunately the children were not much hurt. The cab-driver was arrested near Buttonwood street. He had no defence to make at Alderman's office. He was bound over to answer at court.

[Before Mr. Alderman Miller.]

Selling Liquor on Sunday.

John Grimstone was arraigned yesterday morning, before Alderman Miller, in the Twenty-third ward, on the charge of keeping a disorderly house in the southern part of the Twenty-fourth ward, and selling liquor on Sunday. He was required to enter bail, to answer at court.

[Before Mr. Alderman McMullin.]

Larceny and Receiver.

John Rose, a boy, was committed yesterday, on the charge of stealing from a railroad car, near Front and Shippen streets. A man named Patrick Marooney, charged with receiving the same, was also arrested. Both defendants were bound over to answer at court.

For purifying the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat, Fetter, Erysipelas and Eruptions of the Skin.

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

Not a few of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the remedies that have been used to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUNDEXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Its extraordinary virtues are not yet widely known, but when they are, it will no longer be a question what remedy to employ in the great variety of afflicting diseases that require an alterative remedy. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the EXTRACT of SARSAPARILLA added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction, as usually made.

THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in the Hospital Service of the STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTIONS throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.

MEDICAL.

NOTICE.—JUMELLE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF COCH.

If you have a Cough, the best remedy in use is JUMELLE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF COCH. As a purifier of the blood, it has no equal.

For sale by the Proprietor, at NO. 1025 MARKET Street, And all the principal Druggists. je5-3m

AYER'S PILLS.—ARE YOU SICK, FEEBLE, AND COMPLAINING? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take AYER'S PILLS, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles upon some part of the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take AYER'S PILLS, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common case, is also true in many of the more deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the diseases they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, or Constipation. As a Dinner Pill they are unsurpassed, and should be taken by those requiring a gentle aperient.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, Mass., and sold by J. M. MARIS & Co., at wholesale, and by ROBERT WOODSIDE.
