On being asked by the Chief as to how he became in possession of so much money, he replied that he was an herb doctor; and that he gathered herbs in the State of Ohio, and took them to Prussia, where he exchanged them for United States treasury notes, with which he would buy all the thalers he could from Germans and Prussians in the United States. The Chief was incredulous. He said that he had been in America, at intervals, for five years past; that he had lived in Oxford, Ohio, where his wife die recently. She was a member, and so was he, of the Lutheran Church at that place. His wife points in the city, and there was a grand display generally. On being further questioned, he could not give the name of the pastor of the church, nor was he able to state the name of a member of the congregation. He could give no references in this country or in Europe. His equivocation and lamentable want of proper knowledge confirmed the suspicion of the Chief still stronger. It seems that at the Southwark Hall, Second-dis-trict station, he offered Officer Bloomer the sum of $100 not to send him back to Prussia. This was said in reply to the officer, who suggested that he would probably be sent there. On his person were found two watches, one gilt ; the other, a lady's watch, being gold. There was also a due-bill for banking Wold dollars in thalers issued by a German lef. wing questioned as to tus. Threatening an Enroller.
Samuel Reinhart, belonging to "District Township," in Berks county, was arraigned at the Central Station yesterday afternoon, on the charge of threatening Oliver D. Bechtel, the enroller of said tewnship. The evidence was given in the purity of sweet Pennsylvania Dutch, and had to be interpreted for the edification of the worthy squire. The gist of the affair is that a few days since the defendant and another man procured a loaded gun each, and threatened the life of the enrolling officer. He became frightened and ran. They started after and chased him for a mile. He dropped his enrolling book. The fielefundant picked it up, and finally gave it to a man named Fox, who returned it to the authorities. The defendant picked it up, and finally gave it to a man named Fox. The loce we may say that, like all others, the parties appear to be very ignorant and superstitious. The above mention-dedefendant is uppead to this case we may say that, like all others, the parties appear to be very ignorant and superstitious. The above mention-dedefendant, when locked up in the station-house, underwent mental torture enough to drive him orazy. He is could then understand enough of English to form some judgment of his supposed position. It being ascertained what he had been arrested for, he at once became the victim of some of the wags of the station.
"You'll be hung," said one. The defendant is the defendant groaned.
"You'll hear the drums, old fellow, then you're gone.

THE MILITARY. — Recruiting still pro-gresses fairly, and the quota of men called for under the proclamation of the Governor is nearly made up, and many of these are now at Harrisburg. The remainder will no doubt be ready to take their leave in a few days. General Dana has authorized the officers of the Twenty-third ward troop of cavalry to recruit it un to a squadron. Recruiting stations are now opened in the ward, and the prospects of filing the squadron are good. When the requisite number of recruit are obtained, they will be sent to guard publicatores at West Chester. The First Regiment of the Union League Brigade is now one thousand strong. Its officers are as fol-lows: Colonel, Wm. D. Whipple, U. S. A. ; Lieut, Colonel, Frank Wheeler; Major, Chancey ; Adju-tant, J. W. Claghorn ; Quartermaster, Adams; Sur-geon, Houghton ; Oaptains, Lookerman, Hesser, Humphreys, Crozer, Slack, Frankenfeid, Schoffeld, Corrie, Gansed, Appleton. Most of the officers have seen service. The colonel is an old soldier, naving served with distinction in the Mexican war. A beautiful stand of colors was presented to the re-giment by the League. Mr. J. R. Frymale the presentation speech, which was handsomely re-sponded to by Col, Whipple. Temembers of Broad-street M. E. Church have formed themselves into a military company for city defence. They have been but three days at the work, and are now nearly full. This is a destrable company for patriotic or moral young men to join. company for patriotic or moral young men to join. THE CAUSE OF THE SOLDIERS AND THE LADIES OF THE CAUSE.—The ladies in almost all our churches are busying themselves at present in making bandages, etc., for the suffering wounded from the battle field, and they are indefatigable in gathering together wines, fullts, and other deli-cacies, for the use of the gallant fellows who are suffering from wounds reserved while idding to drive the invader from our soil. Even the little children are picking lint, and rendering such other service as already forwarded large quantities of these con-tributions to points where they are most needed, and the ladies are busy in keeping up a stock to fenders who are in the field. On Sunday night Mrs. E. W. Farnham, accompanied by three other ladies, do started for Getrysburg, by the way of Baltimore, to asist in nutring. The following note has just been freceived from one of the ladies: "We are here all right, and badly need all kinds of stores for the side. The army has left Getrys-burg." We were not here now how ear here. You know that the rebels have striped this country of many of the delicacies so important to the comfort of them." July 7th, 1863.
