THE CONSCRIPTION.—There is a diversity of sentiment in the public mind as to the expe-diency of executing a new draft to fill up the ranks of our decimated armies. One thing, however, ap pears to be clear to every right-thicking mind, and that is, that there will be just as great an amount of coal consumed in this city after the draft as there was before it, and that the place to procure it in its greatest purity and excellence, at. moderate prices, is at the famous yard of W. W. Alter, Ninth street, above Poplar.
