RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. The Great Jewish Fast. Thursday of this week was the "Great Day of Atonement"—the most solemn fast in the Jewish year—and was universally observed by the Israelites of this city, as well as by all "orthodox" Jews, we precume, throughout the warld. In the Jewish calendar Thursday was the Tenth of the Seventh month (Tishri), that being the only fast-day ordained by Meses for the people of whom he was the chosen leader; although sundry other fasts are now observed by the latter, in commemoration of certain dis-	BISHOP HOPKINS ON SLAVERY.—The subscribers deeply regret that the fact of the extensive circulation, through this diocese, of a letter by "John Henry Hopkins, Bishop of the Diocese of Vermont," in defence of Southern slavery, compels them to make this public protest. It is not their province to mix in any political canvass; but as ministers of Christ, in the Protestant Episcopal Church, it becomes them to deny any complicity or sympathy with such a defence. This attempt not only to apologize for slavery in the abstract, but to advocate it as it exists in the Cotton States, and in States which sell men and women in the open market as their staple product, is in their judgment unworthy of any servant of Jeeus Christ. astrous events in their subsequent history, especially those which occurred at and after the destruction of the two temples. As its name imports, the fast observed on Thursday, the 24th instant, was ordained by the great Law-giver for the purpose of general absolution, and however derelict in other duties may be a Jew who has strayed this far away from the city of his future King, (which is yet to become the joy of the whole earth,) the Tenth of Tishri is 'sacredly and religiously observed by him. During the temple worship at Jerusalem the ceremonics of this day were of the most awful and significant character, and even at this distance of time, with only the synagogue to resort to, they have a melanrholy interest to the Gentile student of Soripture, as well as to the descendants of faithful Abraham, according to the fiesh. While the temple remained the duties of the high priest, among others, were frequent washings, changing his clothes, lighting the lamps, barning incense, &c., which operation commenced soon after midnight of the day above designated. The ceremonies of worship peculiar to this day alone were, that the high priest, in his pontifical dress, confessed his own sins and those of his family, for the expiation of which he offered a bullock; that two goats were set aside, one of which was by lot sacrificed to Jehovah, while the other was sent to the diesert burdened with the sins of the people. On this day also the high priest gave his blessing to the whole nation; and the remainder of the day was spent in prayers and other works of penance. dox Jews, for the scapegoat of old a cock has been substituted, which, on the eve of the day of Atonement, they turn three times around their head, each time saying (in Hebrew) that the cock is to be sacrificed instead of them, after which it is slaughtered and eaten. In some cases, also, towards the evening of the 9th of Tishri, and before they take their last meal for the next twenty-four hours, they repair to the synagogue, where each inflicts upon his neighbor thirty-nine blows with a piece of leather, in explation of those sins which are punished by the law of Moses with flogging. Most Jews on that day wear a white gown—the same shrouds in which they are to be builed, while all of them are obliged to stand the whole day without shoes, or even slippers. GREEN STREETS.—The beautiful new building now rapidly approaching completion, at Broad and Green streets, for the (N. S.) Presbyterian congegation, known as the North Broad street Church, of which the Rev. E. E. Adams is pastor, will not only be a fine architectural ornament to that section of the city, but a desirable convenience to the churchgoing people in that vicinity. At a recent meeting of the congregation, the statement of the Building Committee was read, from which it appeared that every payment due the contractors had been promptly met, to the amount of nearly $20,000, and in response to an appeal then made, the additional sum of $1,271 was subscribed on the spot, although but few, if any, of the wealthier members of the congregation are said to have been present. The Rev. Mr. Adams, who has been away from his charge some	He will conclude this preliminary investigation in the course of a few days. It is said that parties are employed at the arsenal, who publicly profess to be loyal to the Union, but who privately are dangerous plotters of treason to the Government. It is openly said by the friends of the defendant, that this attempt to bring obloquy upon his name is a specimen of the treasonable work of a few conspirators who hover about the arsenal. [Before Mr. Alderman Ogle.] Drugged Liquor. Thomas Bell, the alleged proprietor of a public house on South Water street, and his bar-tender, named Pomeroy, were arraigned at the Gentral Station yesterday afternoon, on the charge of robbing a soldier named Michael Mack, belonging to Trenton, N.J. It seems from the evidence that Mack arrived in Philadelphia for medical treatment, and stopped at the drinking house. He obtained some refreshments. Being pretty flush with money, he was treater several times by the bartender. The soldier fell into a deep sleep. In this condition he was taken to bed. An Old Soldier of the Cross.—At the late session of the North Ohio (M. E.) Conference, an aged member of the itinerant ministry gave the following interesting personal reminiscence: "I am living on borrowed time. I was born in 1779, and born again in 1808. I was converted in the oldest Methodist church in the country, and ran shouting glory up Chiatham street to my lodgings on Forsyth street. Some thought me crazy, others thought I was ridiculing, but I understood that I was in my right mind. From that day to this I have never lost my confidence in God. The Methodists of that day were a simple hearted, plainly dressed, God-fearing, devoted, self-sacrificing people;	In the morning he was found lying in a state of slupor on a settee down slairs. Value attempts were made to arouse him, and finally a physician was sent for by a friend of the soldier. The medical gentleman found that Mack had been stupefied with landanum. Restoratives were applied, and during the day he recovered. He found the silver half-dollar, and one of the teu-dollar gold pieces in his pocket; all the remainder had been stolen. There was no evidence, of course, that either Bell or his bar-tender had committed the robbery; but the evidence is very positive that druged liquor had been given him, and that shortly after he swallowed lit, a deep sleep overcame him, from which he was roused with great difficulty.	be obtained at this office. The gate leading into the yard was found open. Birs. Jackson finally returned home, and found a watch, worth $250, had been stolen. On questioning the prisoner, she said that the children were playing in the yard, and had opened the gate; that some-body must have come in that way and committed the robbery. Mrs. Jackson tated that none of her children were large enough, nor had they sufficient physical power, to open the gate. It was upon this point that Rhoda was taken into custody. Resolved. That, in this time of national peril, where the wicked hands of a blood thirsty rebellion have been raised to strike a death-blow at the Constitution and laws of the land, and overthrow the liber ties of every citizen, we recognize the merciful ham of Providence in the constant and zealous loyalty of the great majority of our people, as well as the victories which have recently crowned our arms, and while we still appeal to our rulers and the people no to abate their vigor in prosecuting the war until the rebellion is effectually subdued, we yet feel that ou trust must be in God, who alone can give us perma nent triumph. Resolved, That we renew our expression of Christian fidelity and leyalty to the Government, and reafirm our confidence in our Chief Magistrate, whose honesty of purpose stands unimpeached, and the we recognize in his proclamation of January 1, 1363 the carrying out of the injunction of Scripture to break every yoke and let the oppressed go free.
