John Barratt, whose mangled body was jound, was seen about the premises from two o'clock in the afternoon until dark. He was drunk; a portion of the time, almost stupidly so. It is supposed that Mrs. Jones had money laid away, and that to gain this the murder was perpetrated. Two little child-ren; the oldest only seven years of age, were up stairs, and probably asleep, at the time the dreadful work was going on down stairs. Yesterday morn-ing Wilkinson was sent to Media, and placed in prison, to await the result of the coroner's investi-gation of the case.

The board of managers above recorded are well known, responsible, and energetic; and, as voluntary ministers in a good cause, are ready to roll up their sleeves and go to work in earneat in the coming winter in relieving the wants of the miserably unor.

CORONER'S INQUEETS. — The Coroner held an inquest, yesterday, on the body of an unknown man, who died in the yard attached to the residence of the Catholic priest, on Marriott's isne, near Eighth street. When discovered, he was so far gone as to be scarcely able to articulate anything. The priest bears the reputation of being able to oure many of the ills that flesh is heir to, and it is be-lieved the stranger had come a hundred miles to be cured of some bodily affliction. An unknown man, supposed to be a fancy painter, was found drunk in the streets yesterday. He was zaken to the Filth-ward station-house, where he died. The coroner held inquests in both cases, but failed to ascertain the names of the deceased.
