Counterfeit Note Case.

On Saturday afternoon, at the Central Station, a young man calling himself George H. Bartlet, was arraigned on the charge of passing a counterfeit five-dollar note of the Manufacturers' Bank of Indiana, upon John F. Bryant. On Wednesday morning last Mr. Bryant was at the public house of Major Kleintz, near German street and Passyunk road. He assisted Mrs. Kleintz, from motives of friendship; and watted upon Bartlet and two or three friends. The defendant passed the note upon him. It being ascertained that it was a counterfeit, Mr. Bryant redeemed the note, so that Mrs. Kleintz was not to be the loser.

A soldier named John O. Drain, of Oamden, N. J., preferred a charge against Bartlet of selling him six dollars of counterfeit money for one dollar. This affair occurred on Friday night. It seems that Drain and a friend were standing at Sixth and Walnut streets looking at some recruits going away. Bartlet made some remark which led to a conversation with Drain and Jompanion. Bartlet presently asked them into Gree's cellar, in the vicinity, to take a drink. The invitation was accepted. While in the cellar, Bartlet said he was in the army at Chambersburg, where he got six dollars that he would sell for one dollar. Drain said he would give him a dollar for caix at any time. The exchange was made. Subsequently the money that Drain had received proved to be bogus, and on acarching around a little found Bartlet and "nailed" him, and took him to the station house. These fact having been fully developed, the accused was committed in default of $1,200 ball to answer both charges. The women of the Northwest, deeply feeling the necessities of our battling soldiery, are about inaugurating a great fair, which it is hoped will be the means of bringing them pecuniary assistance. Streams of supplies are needed for our western hospitals, and must be kept flowing so long as the war continues, for already lifty thousand of our "boys" pine and suffer in those sad places, and the number is constantly augmenting. You need not be reminded, gentiemen, that there is a peculiar affinity, as well as a tie of consanguinity, between your State and ours. Some parts of our State are settled entirely by citizens from yours, and so it is in all the five Northwestern States contributing to this enterprise. Therefore, our valor is your valor, our success your success, and our suffering your suffering.

Among the things taken was an opera glass, found at a pawn shop, where it had been deposited by a sister of Ramton. The recovery of this article led to the arrest of the brother.

Dear Sir: As you have frequently requested me to give you my opinion of the therapeutic effects of electricity, when applied according to your discovery of its physiological relations to the human system. In producing and curring disease; and this being the first favorable opportunity. I will give you a brief statement of my success eince I closed my instruction with you, and also my faith in it as a remedial agent for the curre of all curable diseases. At every step as I have proceeded in the practice, my astonishment has been increased when witnessing its power in controlling and curring all forms of diseases. I can hardly say what class of diseases electricity is best adapted to—but think it adapted to all; but its power is complete over Gonsumption. Rheumatism—acute or chronic—Neuvalgis, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Amaurosis, Eyrsipelag, S. Vilus Dance, all fema ed diseases, and all derangements of the nervous system. The above diseases having been treated by me since I took instruction from you, as also many others, therefore I speak positive of its powers to control, without any medicine being given according to Allopathy or Homeopathy, curres ten too nee of all that other system-claim to cure. November 6.—Lecture by Miss Anna E. Dickinson, of Philadelphia LEGAL INTELLIGENCE. The opinions of medical men, after having been instructed by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia, in the application of Electricity:

I think my faith fully comprehends the fact that Electricity, convectly applied, according to your discovery, is abundantly competent to one all curable diseases. My experience and success, after extensive practice, fully warrant this assertion. Were I sick with a fatal disease, I would far sooner trust my life in the hands of a shiffal Electrician than all the 'pathies' on earth besides.

BUFFALO, N. Y. District Court-Judges Sharswood, Stroud, and Hare.

The Fairmount Passenger Railway Company vs. N. F. Campion. This was an application for a rule to show cause why the capias under a civil process should not be quashed. This motion grows out of the difficulty existing between the Railway Company and Mr. Campion, the former treasurer, against whom various charges have been preferred. In June 1861, Mr. Sharpless, the then president of the company, caused to be issued two writs upon civil process. The matter slumbered until Tuesday plast, when an alias writ was issued, and Mr. Campion arrested. It is now alleged that this writ was issued by the counsel of the company without the consent of the parties in interest, as the present managers and stockholders are alleged to be opposed to legal proceedings against Mr. Campion. Mr. John C. Bullit stated on Saturday that it was the wish of the president and board of directors of the company that the prosecution against Mr. Campion should be discontinued, as all classes of creditors desired his assistance in winding up the affairs of the company. Rule made absolute. November 6.—Lecture by Ming.

They numbered about twenty men. Besides these, there were soldiers in uniform who, being members of the Good Intent, marched within the lines of the 1863. NEW YORK LINES. 1863. DETROIT, Michigan.

What I have now to say is from actual observation, as I bave spent most of my time for the last two months with Prof. Boiles, and have withersed the effects of the Electrical agent on from fifteen to twenty-five patients a day, suffering from almost every form of chronic diseases; and, as strange as it may appear in a majority of cases, a perfect cure was effected in from five to fitteen days. And I will here remark that most of his patients were afflicted with ong a anding complaints, considered incurable by all other known remedies.

The mournful procession was accompa-nied by the Jefferson Cornet Band, whose solemn funeral dirge inspired a feeling of sympathy for the departed by: the company. Rule made absolute.

A special Court of Quarter Sessions was held by Judge Ludlow, on Saturday, in the Supreme Court room, to afford a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by Messrs. Potts, Wightman, & Potts, to obtain the custcdy of a young man, who they allege was bound to them. The counsel for the respondent contended: 1st. That the judentures were invalid, because they contained no provision for the proper maintenance and education of the lad; and 2d. That on their face they showed simply a contract of hiring, and not a binding. Judge Ludlow reserved his decision until Saturday next. Tuneral dirge inspired a feeling of sympathy for the departed hero.

The funeral of Corporal J. H. Daniels, of Company B, 150th Regiment P. V., also took place from the residence of his parents, at the corner of Mehl and Wakefield streets. It was attended by the Germantown Division of the Sons of Temperance, of which the deceased was a member.

The obsequies of Orderly Sergeant A. R. Thomas, of Company H, 29th Regiment P. V.; will take place to-morrow afternoon, from the residence of his wife, corner of Ninth and Buttonwood streets. He fell a martyr to his country's cause at the battle of Gettysburg. The members of the Friendship Lodge of Odd Fellows, and Washington Hose Company, will attend the funeral of their deceased brother. Thus the heroes pass from time to eternity, leaving behind them deeds that will never die, that will make many 'a bright page in our country's history, and endear their names to posterity. PROF. The five-story building known as the "Yankee Mills," and located on Linn street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth, in the Fifteenth ward, was destroyed by fire about four o'clock on Saturday morning. The structure was owned by Mr. Daire, and was occupied by him as a woolen mill. The establishment was in full operation, employing some one hundred and fifty hands, men, women, and boys. The fire first made its appearance in the picker-room, in the third story, at the western end of the building. The flames made rapid progress, and soon extended throughout the three upper stories. This portion of the mill, as well as the contents, were entirely destroyed. All the spinning apparatus was also consumed. There was an extensive stock of finished and unfinished goods on hand. That upon the first floor was mostly rescued by the police, but that in the second story was mostly damaged by water. All the valuable machinery in the basement was more or less injured by water. At this time the mill was being used principally in the manufacture of flannels, and some Government work was also being done there. It is impossible to give any correct estimate of the loss, but it will be heavy, and it is supposed to be mostly covered by insurance. Two or three months must elapse before the establishment can be got in working order again, and in the meantime all the hands are thrown out of employment. The origin of the fire is not known. Philadelphia, Sheriff's Office, Oct. 10, 1883. ocl2-3: RESULT OF INTERMEDDLING.—On Friday night, after twelve o'clock, a scene came under our notice worthy of an item: A passenger car was going down Fourth street. It was crammed to overflowing; so much so that three ladies were crowded on the rear platform. The rain was falling pretty fast. A party desired to get out, somewhere about half way between two of the east and west streets. This party consisted of a gentleman and two or three ladies. The former, instead of calling to the conductor to stop, pulled the bell strap with some impatience. Instead of striking the bell once, he pulled two or three times. This belog the signal to the driver tog os a little faster, he gave the horses a looserein. Great commotion took place in the car, but what it was all about no one on the platform could then even imagine. The next street being reached, the name was called out by the conductor. "Stop!" shouted an excited gentleman inside. The car was stopped. After much pushing and squeezing, grumbling, and crushing of skirt-expanders, the parity who desired to get out a square or so above, now elbowed their way to the platform, and alighted. The conductor came in for a large share of abuse because he "didn't attend to his business," because he was a "hog," because he was "insolent," &c., &c. The highly-indignant party were bound to report him in the morning, because the car did not stop when they rang the bell. No doubt they were greatly annoved in having to walk a full square in the rain, without an umbrella, but it was entirely their own fault. STEAMER MASSAGUSETTS — The United States supply steamer Massachusetts, Lieutenant West commanding, arrived at the Lazaretto on Friday evening last and the navy yard on Saturday morning. She brings news from the fleet off Charleston up to Tuesday evening last. The siege was still going on at that time, and the formidable batteries under construction by General Gilmore to aid in the reduction of Charleston, were nearly ready to open their iron ingredients upon the doomed forts and city. The Massachusetts has been as far-south as St. Johns, Florida, which is the most southern point of the South Atlantic Squadron, and has furnished supplies to all the vessels in that aquadron. She brings 186 passengers, among whom are a number of sick and wounded soldiers; also Acting Master C. B. Dahlren, bearer of despatches from Admiral Dahlgren. She will take in a fresh supply and sail most likely on Saturday next. M. Runkle, of Philadelphia, now on duty at Baltimore, has made application to the War Department to organize a colored battery of light artillery. This is the first effort made to get colored troops into this branch of the service. We learn General Tyler has expressed himself in favor of the organization. There is no doubt that colored men can make themselves very efficient in this arm of the service as most of them are good horsemen. A full knowledge of the drill is 'easily accomplished. Now that the subject is fairly started, we may expect to see black artillery as well as black regiments in the service of our country—a wide-spread territory, which has ever been regarded by the lovers of liberty, as an asylum for the oppressed of all nations.
