THE SECESSION OF GENERAL BURGEVINE TO THE REBELS - FROTEST OF UNITHD STATES CONSUL. SEWARD AGAINST THE ENERGOR'S REWARD FOR HIS ASSASSINATION - REPLY OF THE OHINESE

OFFICER. (Bhanghai (Sept. 3) Correspondence of London Times. J The proclamation by Lee Footai, offering a re-ward for Burgevine's assassination, created so strong a feeling of indignation among the residents that the consuls of the several treaty Powers resolved to ad-dress to him a joint remonstratee. The document, which was, I believe, drawn up by Mr. Soward, the American consul; is strongly worded, and to the point. After expressing the general aurprise which the appearance of such a proclamation caused, it Says:

The undersigned see in this proposition caused, it sys: The undersigned see in this proposition a direct disregard of treaty stipulations. The undersigned are aware that, according to American law, the act of General Burgevine, in taking up arms in the insurgents, is an offence than which none could be greater; but they are also aware that the punishment therefor, as provided in the American treaty, and similarly in all others, can only be influed by the representative of his own Government; and, further, that, ware there no treaties in existence, he ought only to be punished according to the rules of cutized warfare. The undersigned are agreed in asying that, as re-gards Gen. Burgevine, the utmost existin to which you may go is to procure his arrest, and this is true of the subjects of all treaty Powers. LEB FOOTAL TO THE CONSUL. We send you a reply. It appears that on the 9th of the subjects of all treaty Powers. LEB FOOTAL TO THE GONSUL. We send you A reply. It appears that on the 9th of the present moon you saw in a newspaper a pro-diamation from us, oliering three thousanditaels for the delivery of General Burgevine, dead or alive. You were surprised to see it, and, thinking you saw in it a direct disregard of the treaty, asked us to withdraw said proclamation. ¹Burgevine consented to become a Ohinese Man-darin and general in the army. Having violated Ohinese mode of punishment, which is difforent from that which your countrymen should receive when they transgress and are sent to their consul for punishment. Foreigners who have been made Ohinese effects and have transgressed Chinese law on Ohinese terntory, by whom should they be judged! The treaty does not say. How, then, say you, that we have disregarded the treaty? More-over, Burgevine's offence is not to be compared with other offences. He having been made a Mandarin of the third grade, and having disobeyed orders, such a transgression is egregious. The Board of Trade and we have treated him longently out of regard to your country. How is it now that he has the hardi-the offences. It is now that he has committed the and frame is offence is not the bear offered by our country. How is it now that he has the hardi-the offence. It is oblices on the inself the enemy of Ohina and all the foreign defence ope-rations? Having become an insurgent, we cannot tregard him as an American citizen. If you still re-gard him as an American citizen. If you still re-ford him as each, why wait till he has committed such an offence? It is Ohinese to America, and becomes a citizen sad an offerer of the army through the favor of the Presideol; hen suddenly gets up an insurrection, perhaps you would let him have his head i (uonically proken); could Chinese protect him 'i Now, dootrine is the same in Ohina as in America.

DEFEAT AND FLIGHT OF THE BRITISH FLEET. [From the Dublin Nation, Oct. 31.]

DEPFAT AND FLIGHT OF THE BRITISH FLEET. [From the Dublin Nation. Oct. 31] It is really a good joke, but it is true. The guns of a Japanese town have beaten off a British fleet of seven war vessels, and forced them to save them-selves by a disgraceful flight. We propose at once an address of condolence from the loyal corporators of Dublin, to whom a British fleet is not as the fleet of any other nation, and from the Bande Committee, who are just in the mood for weeping, seeing that the awful deticit in their funds is not likely to be made good to them. But we must return to the British fleet—the beaten and humbled British fleet—the British fleet that went to "chastise" Prince Satsuma, and who got go well chastised by the valiant Prince that they were forced to make off with sinking hulls, with tattered rigging, and with their decks reddened by the blood of their killed and wounded: Seven vessels of them—the Euryalis, the Pearl, the Argus, the Perseus, the Coquette, the Havoo, and the Racehoree—presented themelves before Kayotima, and blazed away with groat vigor at the forts. Those forts mousted fewer guns than the British squadron, but they at once replied to the at-tack, and soon the "British tare" found that they had been wooden guns, or if the Japanese had fired with hows and arrows, no doubt the British swould have won a "eplendid victory." -CIVILIZATION.

--OUVLIZATION. (From the London Spectator.] It appears that the five English men-of-war, who, on the requisition of Colonel Neale, attempted to extort reduces from the Prince of Satsuma, failed in that object. The Prince met them with 90 guns meunted on well-built batteries, and after two days of conflict, the squadron steamed away without having obtained any concessions or dismounted all the guns. They had, however, lost two excellent officers, Captain Wilmot and Licuteanat Joaling, and 63 men, and had committed one of the most astounding acts in the history of modern warfare. They shelled the city of Kagosima, a place with the population of Sheffield continued shelling after it had been sent on fire, and succeeded in burning it to the ground. All the buildings, public and private, were consumed, and after fordy-eight hours of burn-ing, the masses of smoke were still visible fourteen miles away. There seems accreatly a doubt that the hombardment was intended to destroy the town.

The monied institutions, with f. w exceptions, are not prosperous. The State is literally bankrupt, made so by the rebellion; much property is nuder the ban of con-fication, hence State taxes are scarcely collected. There is now a contest for a civil government between the Free State men on the one side, who a-k a new Con-stitution made by the poole, excluding slavery, as be-fore stated, and on the other a Pro-Slavery faction, con-tending for the old order of things under the Constitu-tion of eighteen hundred and fifty-two. The difference between the two is as wide as that be-tween Freedom and Slavery, right and wrong, dark-ness from daylight; the former are with tho people, the latter, as usual, stand alone, depending on their woalth and dark, stealthy manonving to accomplish their pur-poses, not willing to trust their cause with the people. The free State men have committed themssives on the side of the people, in favor of a i'ree State Government, in such a manner as to preclude all possibility of re-traction, accommodation or compromise with treason, and the continuance of Slavery in any suise, shape, or form; they are determined that Louislana shall return to the Duilon regenerated, cleaused and parilie from the policy of Louislana shall on a factor all for poli-ticanse; she has to much at stake. U. S. District Court-Judge Cadwalader. Lawrence J. Steel was put on trial yesterday, oharged with forgery. The defendant, in Jaouary last, by means of a forged pay roll in the name of Major D. B. White, Sist New York Volunteers, suc-ceeded in obtaining from Major Taggart, paymaster in this city, the sum of $303.60. The detendant had previously called on Dr. Hunt, and obtained a certi-ficate of disability for a wound in the groin. Major Taggart had no distinct recollection of the defendant in this transaction, but identified him by another circumstance, viz.: that in February the defendant called on him for the purpose of drawing the pay of Licut. called on him for the purpose of drawing the pay of Licut. Col. Rolston, Sist New York, and produced the necessary papers (which were, however, forge-ries,) to establish the illness of the Colonel, and his inability to appear in person. Major Taggart re-quested proof of his identity, and he then referred to the payment made to him in the preceding month. On a reference to the books, Major Taggart found this to be correct, and accordingly paid him the money for Col. Rolston. Col. Hallowell testified to meeting the defendant, who invited him to ride to the paymester's office in his carriage; he did so, and to this extent lulled the suppleton of Major Taggart. Major White, of the Sist Regiment, New York Volunteers, testified that he was in South Carolina at the time the defendant few the money on his ac-count. This witness gave some information in re-gard to the antecedents of the defendant. He was at one time connected with the Sist regiment as second lieutenant of Company K, but left in September, 1962. The defendant's consel asked this witness if the defendant's obaracter, while in the regiment, was not good, and received for an answer that his character was bad. The jury rendered a verdict of suity.

Reuben King drove the Easton stage some time ago, and he and his brother are pretty well known in Doylestown. The latter did business in this place some years since. A set of valuable harness, stolen by these men from some person residing near Fort Washington, to give Kerr's horse a good appearance, has also been recovered. They were solen from Eugene Smith, who does business in Philadelphia, but resides near Fort Washington. One of the Kings had been in bis employ last summer. The harness, consisting of a complete set, were found at the stable of Peter D. Hoekman, in Doylestown, who had purobased them of the Kings for $10 Mr. Smith was in Doylestown on Friday, and identified the harness as his property. Constable Tomilinson has also re-covered another set of valuable harness, stolen by the prisoners from Charles Yeakel, residing near Flourtown. The missing property was found in Woat Philadelphia. So ends the thieving operations of the Kings. Arrest of the Celebrated James Houghton. Yesterday afternoon Deteetive Samuel Header-son, after an exciting race for several hundred yards, arrested James Houghton, a young man pretty well eelebrated in the police annals of Philadelphia. As the officer was passing up Eleventh street, above Obestnut, Houghton came suddenly into view. He caught the cyc of the wily deteetive and at once practically illustrated the sublime maxim, that "The wicked fleeth when no one pursueth." Houghton sought safety in flight. Mr. Herderson started in pursuit, and in a few minutes captured the fugitive, and conducted him safely to the Central Station. On the person of the prisoner were found most of thouse of Levi Bernheimer, No. 329 North Front sirest. Houghton is already under sentence for other house robberies, of a like character. He was let off by the judges of the court under a promise to enter ithe naval service. He did so and was sent away in the United States steamer Tisonderoga, but he deserted and returned to Fhiladelphia. He is strongly suspected of robbing the house of Mr. Hatch, of Camden county, lately, and the house of enter, and ther dwellings, the modus operand of effecting entrances indicating Houghton as the ac-complished operator. As he is already under sen-tence, he will probably be introduced to the judges of our to day to receive something additional for violating the order of court.

Appeal and Statement of the Accredited Agent of "The Free State General Committee of Louislana,"

The Free State General Committee of Louisians num» bers sixty-four members, appointed and elected by the various Union associations of New Orleans and other various child associations of New Orleans and other parishes. The committee has a fixed basis of repre-sentation of the numerical strength of the association, and will increase in numbers as associations in parishes not yet represented come forward. The method galarities increased and a strength of the second strength of the second strength increased strength of the second strength of the second strength of the network of the second strength of the second strength of the network of the second strength of the second streng the people can be effectually reached, their wishes and the people can be effectually reached, their wishes and sentiments made known and carried into practical effect. It is just to all concerned, and entirely safe; by it the true status of the people is castly discovered and prompt action had. No one is admitted to membership in the committee who does not. in addition to being a citizen of the United States, bind himself, by his signature to a of the United States, bind himself, by his signature to a solemn onth, administered by the president, to do all in his power to aid in bringing about a civil, Free-State Government in Louisiana, loyal to the Government of the United States. The Committee propose a Convention, fresh from the people, at the earliest practical period, to frame a new Constitution, at once and forever prohibiting and exclu-ding slavery, or forced labor, from Louisiana, except for crime.

The Convention to be convoked as soon as an under-tranding is had by the people with each other, and they standing is had by the people with each other, and they shall demand it. The odious Constitution of 1853, made exclusively by and for slayeholdors, designedly de-priving the masses from 2 just and equitable representa-tion, to maintain supreme control over non-slayehold-ers, is unfit to be the law of a slate in which equal rights, freedom to all, the greatest good to the largest number, is the recognized basis of organic and all other just laws.

Just laws Sooner than submit to the old order of things, under the Constitution of 1532 not made by nor for the people, as an alternative or choice of crits, we prefer keeping the State under a military tutelage for au indefinite pe-tical of times.

the State under a military tutelage for an indefinite pe-ide of time. The Committee has submitted its plans, origin, mode of oparating, and end sought to be obtained, to the Go-vernment at Washington; to Major General N. P. Banks, commanding the Department of the Gulf, and to his Excellency deneral George F. Shepley, Military Gover-nor of the State. From this, it is understood that all authorities having, directly or indirectly, jurisdiction in Louisians are properly informed and enginzani of all the movements of the committee jn its efforts to restore a civil government, through the people, the only proper channel, in the manner and with such a Constitution as before described. By this means it is hoped and believed that an expression of loyal sentiment can be secured, untram-meided by the voles of rebeler, and Louisiana re-estab-lish her lawful allegiance-2 loyal, free State. In the absence of official statistical information as to the com-parative proportion between sizveholders and non-sizve-holders, resort is had to other apparently reliable data, which piace it thus: Total while population prior to the rebellion, three hundred and fifty-seven thousand; slaveholders, sixteen thousand; non-slaveholders, three hundred and forty one thousand. Support, and endurance from the affections of the loyal multitude. One of the peculiarities of our Government is, that whereas it may increase its territorial area by new ac-cessions, either by purchase or conquest, or beth, it egnnol permit one single inch to pass away by treason-able secessions without distribut the equilibrium, and icoardizing the whole. The Federal Government is the centre of gyration; the States have rights, but they are local, negative and relative in character, not positive and sovereign, to act without restraint in all things. The States, like individuals, owe primary allegiance to the United States. The flag was painted by Mr. Bowser, colored artist, and was appropriate to the cause. It was prepared under a special order of a num-ber of pathotic colored lattes of Philadelphia, who contributed the funds for the purpose. The staging was pretty well filled with the parties di-rectly interested in the affair. On behaff of the ladies, Mr. John Quincy Allen, a graduate of the High School, presented the fag. He delivered quite a pathotic address, and was received with much applause. The reception speech was made by Colonel Wag-ner, commander of Camp Wm. Peno, near Chelton Hills. The "good time coming." SHOCKING ACCIDENT-GROSS CARELESS-NESS.-On Sunday night Miss Eliza J. Pelouza, a young lady, daughter of Mr. I. Pelouze, type-founder, met with a shocking accident at the Kan-sington dépôt. This terrible affair was the result of gross and unpardonable carelessness of the person or persons who had charge of the train. It seems that the cars were crowded to so great an extent that many of the Indy passengers had to stand. There were enough standing to have filled all the seats. Upon arriving at the dépôt the train was stopped, and about two-thirds of the number of passengers had alighted. Just as Mr. Pelouze was in the aot of assisting his daughter from the car to the stationary platform, the train was started, without any signal having been given. As a consequence, Miss Pelouze was precipitated between the platform and the moving ear, and was thus cruhed or rolled for the whole length of the latter. The passengers, of course, were horrified at such an sppalling scene. The young lady was placed under the best medical care, and though still alive yesterday, yet her re-covery was involved in doubt. Because of the gross carelessness of many conductors, the travelling com-munity no doubt have often wondered that such ac-cidents as that above recorded do not occur more frequently. n Judge Hopkinson, Marvel, 6 days from Washing-C. in ballast to capitain. THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.—This in-stitution, established in this sity about the middle of July last, with a capital of $150,000, has had its capital increased to $500,000. O. W. Davis, Esq , who started the project of a National Bank in Phi-ladelphis, and whose energetic management has done much to give the bank the position it has already attained, retires from the presidency in order to resume his practice at the bar. Mr. C. M. Clark, of E. W. Clark & Co., has been elected president to fill his place, and assumes the duties of the position to day. It is understood that Messrs. Jay Oooko & Co. and E. W. It is de-voutly hoped that they will continue to be still more careful. Recently a person was run over, and had one of his legs broken, by a hore-car in Boston.
