THE PRESS.-PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1863. . Harriston and the the mind. The wells of Mozes, shout fifteen miles distant, which are seventeen in number, were then viaited. From this prace they started on through the desert mounted upon camels, and traveling two and a half miles a doy. They passed the bitter waters of Marah, which fizey tasted of ifrom thence to the valley of Writing, where a number of super-scriptions written upon rocks may be seen, but by whom they were done, is not known. They wandered across the desert perhaps in the same track trodden by the Ismelitics thousands of years ago. Passing ouward they arrived in full view of Jerusalem where they encamped. There is no city in the world, the epsaker said, that shows so many varieties of races, such low and miserable in-habitants, and such a disregard of everything of a religious character. Diany of the streets of this offy are so narrow that by stretching out both arms they could touch the houses on each side. Re-suming the journey they arrived at the well of Jacob, the waters of which they drank of; theres to Jezteen, and from there to Nazareth, where they were shown a place which they drank of; theres to the Sea of Gallee, whore they batted; from the distance, which presented a grand and noble secence to the eye of the beholder. Thence they went to the Sea of Gallee, whore they batted; from thence they went to the head waters of the Jodaan. Hastening on, and rounding Mount Hermon; they soon after arrived at Damaseiz. This oity is com-pored of about 120,000 people. In the mids of all the wickedness and crime that abounds there, a few Protestants are working faithfully for the prosperity of the Christian religion. From that city they went to Beyroot, the great commercial port of Syria, which contains about zoon inhabitants. From this place they set sail for Alexandria, and from there to Naples, and thence to Rome, and, by awy of Flo-rence and Bologna, across the Alps and through France, to England, from which place they started for home. I see a letter signed by Mr. Lestic Combs, in which the following allusion is made to me: "Our children have fought in every battle-field, and never once field, as Col. Schurz and his gang of freedom-shrekers did at Chancellor-ville." I am not in the habit of replying to calumny and abuse springing from the impure inspirations of party spirit; but, Gen. Leslie Combs being a man of note, I deem it proper to avail myself of this op-portunity to stop a slander which 'political enemies seem heat upon sustaining by frequent repetition. I wish, therefore, to say, that in asserting that "Carl Schurz field at Chancellorville," Mr. Leslie Combs Hes. I choose the word "Hes?" Mr. Leslie combs Hes. I choose the word "Hes?" I wish to add that, in sying "Mr. Leslie Combs lies," I hold myself re-sponsible for what I as?. This may seem equivalent to a challenge—and so it is. But I do not, however, mean to fight a duel with Mr. Leslie Combs. Being a good pistol shot, I might perhaps easily kill him which I should not like to do; or, if he is equally skilful, he might kill me—and I should be sorry to die on so trilling an occasion; or we might not hurt each other, and then it would be a farce. In all Egypt, Nubis, and the East they never saw a woman at the table in the presence of men. In the churches the women were not permitted to as-semble in the congregation, but were obliged to sit at one end with a screen between them and the men. Never did they see a school where a female was permitted to learn the least thing that would in any way instruct them. Throughout their travels many strilling features of the Scriptures were visi-ble to the eye. About sixty miles above Thebes they heard a loud cry, which was made by a num-ber of women, who hired themselves as mourners on the cocasion of a fuperal. They wrung their hands and rent the air with their criss. In Exodus it asys that "Moses met Aaron and kissed him." This custom of men kissing each other is still car-tifed on. The speaker was rather surprised, one day, to find himself in the arms of one of the natives, who plied the kisses on his face very rapidly for a short time. Throughout Egypt, Syria, and Arabia, the customs, manners, and nature of the inhabitants are precisely the same as explained in the Bible. Southern Flour is in less active demand, but prices are without material change; sales of 600 bbls at $7, 568, 10 for mixed to good superfine country Batimore, &c, and $5, 7(60, 76 for trade and family brands. Rye flour is quiet and unchanged; sales 100 bbls at $7,7(67), rule is goited and south and $2 PHILADELPHIA, NOV. 24. Gold opened at 152½ this morning, but on the receipt of favorable rumors from Chattanooga, gradually fell off to 150, when it rallied up to 151½, declining again to 150½, at which figure it closed Money was more in demand, with a slight stiffening of the rate, 7 per cent. being the raling figure; some transactions, however, continue to be made at 5; Go-transactions, however, continue to be made at 5; Gorunnent 1881s are firm at 10%; Seven-thirties at 107. he subscriptions to the five twenty loan at the office of ay Cooke, Esq., amounted yesterday to over five hunired thousand dollars. As large sales as formerly need ardly be expected, as many parties are supplied, and the late stringency will keep business houses out of the narket for some time. The Stock market was fairly active, without much change in prices, and the speculative classes were firmly maintained. Catawissa preferred sold at 31½; Long Island at 42; Reading at 32½; North Pennsylvanie at

S. 2000. 0:000 trade and namily brands. Rye flour is quiet and unchanged; sales 100 bbls at $5.7007.
Corn Meal is quiet, with small sales at $5. GRAIN. --The Wheat markut is very dull and 1@2e low-er, influenced by the decline in exchange and the incle-ment weather. The sales are 20,000 bus at $1 42@1 45 for Chicage spring, $1 47 for amber lows, $161@1.33 for red Weat-ern, old in store; amber do is held at $1.58, with buyers at $1.07. Barley is quiet, but in the absence of sales prices are nominally unchanged. Barley Malt is firm; sales of 1,000 bus in store sales $1.65. Oats are a little lower: sales of Canadian at $92, West-ern at $2004c, tais at $2.65, and Prince Edward's Is-iand at $00 for marky, clocking in demand. By elis quiet, but firm at previous rates. Corn is slight-ly lower; sales of 5,000 bus at $1.23@1.24½ for Western mixed in store, and $1 65 for do adoat. The sales are 2,000 bbls at $1.65. The sters are 16 for do adoat. Beel is quiet, and taiter heavy; no sales worthy of note. Beel is a plain for plain mess; sales of 400 bbls, at $1.52.55 bls. $2.500 bbls, at $1.52.55 bls.55 bbls. $2.55 bls.55 bbls.55 bls.55 bls.55 bbls.55 bls.55 bls

f note. Beef Hams are fair at former rates; sales of 400 bbls, at 72(@15 for Western, at Meats are steady, but not active; sales of 100 tierces eled hams et 10c. Bacon is quiet at nominally un-pickled hams at 10c. Bacon is quiet at nominally-un-changed rates. Dressed Hogs are unchanged, but less active at the close, owing to heavy strivals of live stock. We quote at 73/@5% for city. Lard is less active, and, owing to the downward tan-dency in prices, is rather easier. Sales of 2,000 bbis and tes at 11% (B13% for No. 1, and 12%) 2% for fair to prime steam and a tettle-rendered, and 12% for fair to prime Butter is firm and in fair demand at 2% 2% for choice State, 2% 2% for fair to prime do, and 21% 2% for choice State, 2% 2% for fair to prime do, and 21% 2% for wheel-ern, the latter for reserve.
