sustomers at the great Sewing Machine House of Grover & Baker, No. 730 Chestnut street; below Eighth, all day yesterday, was alike complimentary to the superior mankines which they make and sell and the intelligence and discrimination of our people. Their sales, we learned last evening, during yesterday were very large, and as a great proportion of the machines sold were designed for Presents for the ensuing holidays, we have reason to believe that our advice to purchasers, to "get the best," is being generally adopted. Besides offering to the public a machine that has been acknowledged as the beat by the foremost judges all over the world, the Grover & Baker Company this season their machines of such elegance, variety, and magnitude as to be able to supply the entire demand of the city, if necessary; and in order to still more entitle themselves to the confidence and gratitude of the public, they have made several important reductions in the prices of their instruments. This machine is so simple in mechanism that for it to get cut of order from use is next to impossible, and so easily kept in motion that a small child can operate it. The fact is, it is the machine for popular family use, and the great demand for it is therefore natural. THE TRUE POLICY, IN BUYING HOLIDAY PRESENTS, as in every thing else, is to buy such things as will give the most satisfaction; and let us ask, in this connection, who ever heard a single complaint uttered against the famous Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, sold at the popular brownstone establishment, 704 Chestnut street? No one, unless it was the complaint of an aspiring competitor. The world, in fact, has issued its verdict on the Sewing-Machine question, and we can imagine no greater folly at this late day than people spending their money for risky machines, when the same amount would procure them a Wheeler & Wilson. The agent is now selling enormous quantities of these instruments for Holiday Presents, and the cry at 704 is 1 is the procure of that finished orator and stat	worthy, rolling and leaking so badly through the ports that she is considered unsafe. hings as will give the most satisfaction; and let us sak, in this connection, Who ever heard a single omplaint uttered against the famous Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, sold at the popular browntone establishment, 704 Oheatunt street? No one, miess it was the complaint of an aspiring competitor. The world, in fact, has issued its verdict on he Sewing-Machine question, and we can imagine to greater folly at this late day than people spending their money for risky machines, when the same amount would procure them a Wheeler & Wilson. The agent is now selling enormous quantities of hese instruments for Holiday Presents, and the cry to 704 is "still they come!"
