Africa BY MARIA LOWELL. She sat where the level sands
Sent back the sky's flerce glare;
She folded her mighty bands,
And watted with calm despair,
While the red sun dropped down the streaming air, Her throne was broad and low,

Builded of cinnamon;
Huge ivory, row on row,
Varying its columns dun,
Balled with the copper of the setting sun. Where may be .

The low and sullen roar
Of itom, with eyes of flame,
That haunted its reedy shore,
And the neigh of the hippopotas
Trampling the watery floor. Her great dusk face no light From the sunset glow could take; lark as the primal night Ere over the earth God spake; It seemed for her a dawn could never break. And, like a train of mourners The columned winds sweep round. She said: "My torch at fount of day I lit, now smouldering in decay; Through futures year I grope my way. 5¶ was sole Queen the broad earth through; My children round my knees upgrew, And from my breast sucked Wisdom's dew. si Day after day to them I hymned; Fresh knowledge still my song o'erbrimmed. Fresh knowledge which no time had dimmed. I sang of Numbers; soon they knew The spell they wrought, and as the blue Forefold the stars in order due; 66 Of Music; and they fain would rear Something to tell its influence clear; Uprose my Memnon, with nice ear, To wait upon the morning air, Until the sun rose from his lair Swifter at greet of lutings rare. 56 Then, like broad tents, beside the Nile, They pitched the Pyramid's great pile, Where light and shade divided smile; MAnd on white walls, in stately show, Did Painting with fair movement go, Leading the long procession slow.  All laws that wondrous nature taught, To serve my children's skill I brought, And still for fresh devices sought. What need to tell? they lapsed away,
Their great light quenched in twilight gray,
Within their winding tombs they lay; And centuries went slowly by, And looked into my sleepless eye, Which only turned to see them die. ARMY AND NAVY CLOTHS. Si The winds like mighty spirits came, Alive and pure and strong as flame, At last to lift me from my shame; *For off I heard them onward go, Felt in the air their great wings row, As down they dipped in journeying slow. Then knew my pulses finer pain,
Which wrought like fire within my brain. "I sought my young barbarians, where A mellower light broods on the air, And heavier blooms swing incense rare, N Swart skinned, crisp-haired, they did not shun The burning arrows of the sun; Erect as palms stood every one. "I sought again my desert bare, And still they followed on the air, And still I hear them everywhere.

"So sit I dreary, desolate, Till the slow moving hand of Fate Shall lift me from my sunken state,"

Her great lips closed upon her moan;

if There came a change. They took my free, Not careless ones, and the great sea Blew back their endless sighs to me,

With earthquake shudderings oft the mould Would gape; I saw keen spears of gold Thrusting red hearts down, not yet cold,

But throbbing wildly; dreadful groans
Stole upward through Earth's ribbed stones,
And crept along through all my zones,

Silently sate she upon her throne, Rigid and black, as carved in stone.—Independent,

HEADQUARTERS PENNSYLVA-HABRISBURG, Dec. 10, 1863. GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 48. The President of the United States having, by his communication of 9th instant, in response to propositions submitted to him relating to the recruiting service in Fennsylvania, under his call of October 17th, ultimo, for 50°,000 men, approved of so much thereof as is comprised under the following points:

It is ordered—
That the recruitment of volunteers for the various Regiments, now in the field, will be conducted according. stments, now in the heid, will be conducted according.

1. Details for recruiting service in the State will be made of officers of Pennsylvania regiments in the field whose terms of service expire in 1864. To facilitate the recruitment of officers in the field will be made by the Governor, where practicable, on the recommendation of duly anthorized committees representing cities, boroughs, and townships, to recruit for their several localities. These recommendations should not, however, be made indiscriminately, but with due regard to the character of the person anmedian dis solidity to perform the important duties of the post.

When practicable, old regiments will be returned to the State to be recruited.

111. The volunteers who shall be enlisted will remain under the control of the Governor at such camps or rendezvous, and under such commanders as he may designate, and until ready to be sent to their regiments in accordance with General Orders No. 75 of 1882.

Premiums. not exceeding twenty-five dollars for vetorana, and fifteen dollars for recruiting service from regiments in the field when the recruits are accepted by the ments in the field when the recruits are accepted by the United States. Payment to be made by Lieut. Col. Bomford, U. S. A. Acting Assistant Provest Marshal General. Somitord, U. S. A., Acting answers involve seathers, General.
V. Volunteers furnished by cities or other localities, will be duly credited in the draft fixed for January 5, 1864, and "also such volunteers as may have been mustored into the service of the United States since the draft, the number so credited to be deducted from their proportion of the quota sesigned the State under recent cities," Information regarding the quotas of counties, cation to the rese or wards, can be procured on application to the rese or wards, can be procured on application to the rese or wards, can be procured on application for the research of the field as have less than their proper number of company organizations.

plete companies of infantry, to be sent to such regiments in the field se have less than their proper, number of company organizations.

VII. Colored volunteers for the colored regiments in Pennsylvania will be accepted as part of the quota, and also such as have been mustered into the service of the United States since the draft, to be credited to cities or other localities in their proportion of the State's quota under recent call.

VIII. Camps of rendezvous will be established at proper localities, in charge of Commandants and skilful Surgeons, to be appointed by the Governor.

IX. To every recruit who is a Veteran Volunteer, as defined in General orders of the War Department, of June 25, 1568, No. 191, for recruiting Veteran Volunteers, one month's pay in advance, and a bounty and premium of $402. and to all other recruits, not veterans, excepted and enlisted, as required in existing orders, one month's pay in advance, and, in addition, a bounty and premium of $302 will be paid.

Mille short time now remaining within which to fill the quota of the State by enlistments, and thus avoid the importance of providing, by local bounties, the strongest inducements to volunteers. Municipalities of other States, by this means, are seducing from Pennsylvania the able-bodied men who should replenish her own regiments. Pennsylvania, with a deficiency less, proportionately. than any adjacent Commonwealth, should show, by her promptness and alscrity now, her ability to maintain the high position she has heretofore and still occupies among her sister States in contributing to suppress this rebellion.

By order of A G. Guertin, Governor and Commanderin-Chief.
