A British Officer Carrying a Rebel Mail.

A British licutenant, who was to sail to day for Bermuda on board a sailing vessel, the Amazon, with rebel letters in his possession, was caught to-day by United States Marshal Murray, and is now on his way to Fort Lafayette.

The officer was to proceed with the other passen-

The officer was to proceed with the other passengers, but the marshal, Davis, received information concerning the rebel mail, gave the captain a permit, allowed the other passengers to go forward, but detained the lieutenant.

allowed the other passengers to go forward, but detained the lleutenant.

That individual displayed his uniform and much arrogance at the office of the marshal; but the baggege in which the mail had been concealed, was sent for and the letters found.

The letters were at once forwarded to Secretary Seward, who is in this city; and it is understood that the Secretary, while having no objection to the presence here of English officers, agreed that such individuals ought not to engage in the buisness of carrying mails to the rebels.

So the Englishman was looked up. Before he went to the fort, however, the officer insisted that the rebels had vast stores at Bermuda; that place, he said, was a great depot of war material, and he allowed that a large share of it came from this city.

The Re-enlistment of Veterans. Important as the efficiency of volunteering or the draft is the re-enlistment of veteran soldiers. In a few months the term of service of a large part of our armies will expire, and unless the men are willing to re-enlist, we shall be forced, in the spring campaign, to greatly depend upon fresh and raw troops. It is, therefore, espewho has carried a musket since April, 1861, who has survived the diseases of the camp, strong rebel earthworks which baffled Gesand men massed under General WARREN, and the night being very cold, the men were obliged to constantly move about to keep from freezing, for fires would have revealed their position to the enemy. When morning came, the men crept up to the brow of the | As it is, we keep cool, look on serenely, and hill to see the work before them, and beheld a wide, bare plain, easily swept by the artillery which frowned behind the almost impregnable entrenchments of the foe. As the hour for the charge drew near, officers and men left with those who were to remain in charge of the unslung knapsacks, their money, watches, and innumerable messages for their friends at home. The scene was solemn, for the men expected death, and knew that the brigade would be swept away long before it could cross that open plain. But not one man flinched from his duty. The sacrifice must be made, and why not by the remnant of the magnificent regiments that at Ball's Bluff, on the Peninsula, and at Gettysburg had won imperishable renown for constancy and courage? There is not the slightest doubt that every man in the brigade felt as if his sentence of death had been revoked, when General WARREN refused to order a charge which he believed would prove fatal to the army; but it is equally certain that the charge would have been splendidly made in the very face of destruction had the men received the word.

army are made, and the Government would badly economize were it to refuse to pay the largest possible bounty to keep them in

suers. We never expect to see repeated the fatal mistake of the Chickahominy, but we need such men as much as ever—not to them to the present Congress, (two of whom emulate the deeds of a retreat of Xenophon, had voted for James Buchanan in '56,) and but to equal an advance of ALEXANDER. The readiness of a majority of those soldiers in the Army of the Potomac and the Army of the Cumberland, whose terms expire during the next year, to re-enlist, is not only creditable to their own loyalty, but in | traordinary majorities at the ballot-box. the highest degree to the military system of | Nor could the patriotic man, of whatever the Union. If that system were unjust, tyrannical, or very imperfect, no bounties could induce our veterans to remain in the army a day longer than their agreement required. Their voluntary action in reenlisting is evidence of its sound and healthy condition; for these men know all about war; they know the sufferings, the petty vexations, the dangers, which no historian has written. Yet they answer the call of the Government with a noble firmness, and as they saw the gloomy beginning of the war are willing to stay to see its glorious end. What an example they show to those young men who have thus far taken no part in the grand struggle! Justly might these battle worn veterans We have done our share; now it is your turn to fight for your homes while we return to our own;" but from the army comes a nobler message. It is only this-"come and help us." It is almost useless to use argument in behalf of volunteering after the eloquent appeal of the army itself, and we, indeed, are convinced that the success of the next campaign will not be endangered from the want of troops. The draft will supply many, volunteering will largely contribute, and the re-enlistment of our tried and gallant veterans will convince the enemy that the rebellion has nothing to hope from the fact that so many terms of service are about to expire. The Government is wisely making every effort to increase the strength of our military force before spring, and it has the right to expect the fullest co-operation from the people. Restoration.

A movement for reconstruction in Florida is added to the Union revivals in Arkansas. North Carolina, Louisiana, and we expect that Texas will be soon added to the list of reforming States. Judge STICKNEY, Judge DUNHAM. Mr. FRAZER, and a dozen others, foremost in this patriotic enterprise, have been long known as prominent citizens of Florida, whose devotion to the Union has been tried by sacrifice. The resolutions adopted in the meeting at St. Augustine, call for re-union as indispensable to progress, and demand that future rebellion shall be rendered impossible. To this effect, they urge that the State shall be reconstructed on the basis of entire freedom. As soon as the liberty of Florida is assured, no one can doubt the declaration of its own citizens, that emigration will flow into the Garden State, and its richness increase tenfold in the popular development of its resources. Here is another glorious proof following the conanother glorious proof, following the earnest and growing free sentiment of the Border States, and yet more radical tendencies of some of the restored territories, that the cause of freedom, vast and precious enough for such a continent and such a war as ours, is thorough master of its task, and fast approaching its natural fulfilment.

Exchange of Prisoners. The oft-mooted question of exchange of prisoners is again on the tapis. Intelligence from Fortress Monroe states that the flag-oftruce boat had arrived from City Point, bringing five hundred Union prisoners in exchange for those sent up by General Bur-LER. The rebel Government do one or two queer things, in keeping, however, with their general character. They refuse any further exchanges unless all the questions about which our Government have been exercised are given up, and unless their laws in regard to officers and soldiers of the negro regiments be recognized. The rebel "Government likewise keeps its back in constant elevation in regard to the "Beast Bur-LER." ANCONA, a Copperhead Representative from this State, and now conspicuous for the first time, calls the "Conscription." We are not surprised that such a dead gamester as Mr. BENJAMIN WOOD. of the New York Daily News, applauds the idea of "the lottery of death." fact be forgotten or ignored, that in such States as Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa,

and Indiana, the noble and self-sacrificing spirit of the Republicans of Maine, California, Ohio, and New York, was of resist-less importance. But if all this is true of the free States, it is much more true of the loyal slave States. In Delaware, a Democrat (William Cannon) has been chosen Governor. Throughout the South, Democrats like Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee; Hahn, of Louisiana; Gantt, of Arkansas; Holden, of North Carolina;

Stickney, of Florida, lead the Union column,

and are recognized by the Administration of Mr. Lincoln as the champions of the Union cause. And wherever Mr. Lincoln

has had an opportunity, since the war began, he and his Secretaries have clutched at every such opportunity to honor Union

anti-slavery Democrats. All these are impressive teachings, and to none more than to the leaders of the existing majority party in the State of Pennsylvania. I would have been happy if the newly elected Councils of Philadelphia, in their caucus to choose candidates for city officers, had been a little more mindful of the fact that thousands of Democrats had contributed to the unexpected majority of Governor Curtin, at the late election—a majority, too, which elected themselves. But, while I regret this exclu-siveness, I am indulgent enough to believe that they acted upon the just idea, that the loyal Democracy are not for the Government, because they expected office. In one of my elections, I said, if one swallow did not

It is possible that Lincoln's proclamation has reference to the facts on which Lord Lyons grounded his conclusion." has reference to the facts on which Lord Lyons grounded his conclusion."

A synopsis of Mr. Lincoln's message and proclamation has been received per the steamer Arabia, via Halifax, and attracted general comment.

The London Times regards the message as warlike, and says: "The effect of the whole document, the amnesty included, resembles that of the last battle—an offer of peace on terms that cannot be accepted. The whole question still depends on the fortunes of war. It may be gratifying to the North to be formally assured that the Government is strong and successful enough to offer an amnesty, but it is evicent that Lincoln anticipates no pacific result, nor does the Secretary of the Treasury, who looks forward still to two years war expenditures. The commercial circles of New York appear to share his misgivings, the premium on gold having risen under the affects of the message."

The Daily News awaits the arrival of the message in full before giving its opinion on the merits of the document.

The Morring Post expresses the opinion that Mr.
Lincoln must be joking, and says: "He should have remembered that the Confederate army was encamped within a hundred miles of Washington before he ventured to dictate such terms of americal." before he ventured to dictate such terms of am-nesty."

The Morning Herald ridicules the proclamation, and denounces the vindictive spirit of the proffered amnesty, which, it says, offers nothing which could be withheld if the last Southern town had been taken and the last Southern regiment cut to pieces. The real object is to establish the present state of Government wherever a secure foothold can be found. Government wherever a secure foothold can be found.

The Marning Star applauds the honesty of Mr. Lincoln, rejoices at his determination to put down slavery, and says his peace overtures to the South are large and liberal.

It is stated that the British Admiralty sent an agent to America sometime ago to inspect and report upon the guns in use there.

THE HOLSTEIN QUESTION.

It continued to be asserted that Denmark would not oppose the Frderal execution, but would evacuate Holstein.

It is reported that the Federal Commissioner in Holstein had received instructions to administer the existing laws without prejudice to the rights of the sovereign, and with as little inconvenience to the inhabitants as possible.

The Austrian troops continued to arrive in Hamburg. The Austrian troops continued to arrive in Hamburg.

A public meeting of Norwegians had been called, for the purpose of voting an address to the King, stating that Sweden and Norway were bound to assist Denmark in defending her frontiers; that the Scandinavian interests are endangered, and that the people are ready to bear whatever burdens may be imposed upon them for these purposes.

The Stockholm and Guttenburg bankers had subscribed a loan to the Swedish Government of three million riss (dollars).

FRANCE.

It was reported that France, in response to the Russian reply relative to the Congress of Nations, had proposed a conference of ministers as a preliminary to the meeting of sovereigns.

Another statement is that France, in a note to the Swiss Government, says the desired programme

CITY ITEMS. ONE MORE APPEAL .- For the sake of that domestic happiness which can alone flow from a hus-band's kind and discriminating attention to the wants of his wife; for the sake of the health of wife and children, and the good temper and peace consequent upon it; for the sake of existing humanity and unborn generations, we would make one more appeal for every man who can afford to do so, t make his wife, sister, mother, daughter, sweetheart or friend, as the case may be, a New Year's present of of a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine. Without delay, proceed to No. 730 Chestnut street, and give you der for immediate delivery. You will never re gret it. It will much more than save for you th cost of it in one year's use, if you have a large family, and it will transform a labor in your house which has been heretofore a drudgery, into a delight ful recreation; for it must be borne in mind that the Grover & Baker machine, while it performs bette and more beautiful work than any other, and greater variety, it is nevertheless operated with mor ly for hours with the greatest facility. A CAPITAL SUBSTITUTE FOR ZEPHYR.-Mr. John M. Finn, proprietor of the old stand, southeas corner of Arch and Seventh'streets, deserves credit for having popularly introduced in this market a capital substitute for the imported Zephyrs. We allude to the celebrated "Germantown Wool," which h is now selling extensively for all kinds of crochet work for which zephyrs were heretofore exclusively used. The Germantown Wool, while it is cheaper, is fully equal in coloring to the finest European dyes, and the difference in fibre is almost imperceptible We would urge upon our lady readers the propriety of giving the Germantown Wool a trial. GO AND EXAMINE IT.-There is nothing like a ersonal examination in deciding upon the relative merits of different articles, and this is the test to which we desire every intelligent reader to subject the "Florence" SEWING MACHINE, sold at No. 630 Chestnut street. The Company claims for it a decided superiority over all other machines in use. Hundreds of persons in this city, who are now using if endorse this oninion to the fullest extent, and not a few who are now using other "first-class" instruments, have expressed a willingness to sell them out at halfcost, in order to get the "best," i.e., the inimitable "Florence." Go see it, everybody. The agent charges nothing for exhibiting its merits, and if you have any curiosity to examine the most complete piece of labor saving mechanism ever given to the world, you will be amply repaid for your time and THE PLACE FOR SOLDIERS AND OFFICERS IN THE ARMY TO OBTAIN THEIR CLOTHING.—Messrs. C. omers & Son, No. 625 Chestnut street, under Jayne's Hall, have on hand a capital stock of Army Clothing, and are prepared, at the shortest notice, to get up suits to order for officers of all grades, of the

FANCY AND USEFUL ARTICLES FOR NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS .- We would invite the attention of our goods offered by Mr. John M. Finn, southeast corner of Arch and Seventh streets. Persons shopping for New Year's presents will find here a fine assortment of morocco satchels and pocket goods; also new styles of gentlemen's slippers, book markers, fine brushes, colognes, and other good quality articles for the toilet. FOR GENTLEMEN'S DRESSING GOWNS, of the ichest materials, and in every variety of style, go to Mr. John C. Arrison's, Nos. 1 and 3 North Sixth street, first stores above Market. This magnificent stock has no equal in the city, and persons buying presents for gentlemen will also find on Mr. Arrison's counters a very rich and varied assortment of gentlemen's furnishing goods. THE BEST ALWAYS THE CHEAPEST.—There are not a few people in this city who would rather use W. W. Alter's Coal at a fair cost than any other coal at half price, from the fact that it is cleaner, burns longer and better, and is cheaper in the end. Mr. Alter's yard, No. 935 North Ninth street, is the principal Coal dépôt in Philadelphia.

MESSRS. WOOD & CARY, 725 Ohestnut street, are selling off their splendid stock of fashionable Ron. nets and Children's Hats at and below cost. SUPERB HOLIDAY STOCK .-- Mr. A. L. Vansant, Ninth and Chestnut streets, is now gratifying the eyes and palates of his patrons with the richest offered in this country. We would to day call paricular attention to his delicious Sweet Jordan Roasted Almonds, fine Caromels, Chocolate prepaelegant ever made, delicious Bananas, and a host of

WINES AND LIQUORS, Of their own importation, Of the purest quality, For Medicinal purposes, At DAVIS & RICHARDS', Arch and Tenth streets. GO TO HEADQUARTERS.—Most dealers in Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods buy their goods. Mr. Grant, 610 Chestnut street, manufactures them himself, and hence sells at lower prices. His stock, both of home manufactured and imported articles, is really brilliant, of which we desire buyers to take notice. The "Prize-Medal Shirt," invented by Mr. John F. Taggart, it will be borne in mind, is indigenous to this establishment, and a great Shirt it s, as we know from experience. GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES. Ladies' and Misses' Fine Cloaks Ladies' and Misses' Fine Cloaks.

Rich Furs of all kinds. In anticipation of the close of the season, we are now prepared to make a large concession from ormer prices on all our stock.
J. W. Proctor & Co., The Paris Oloak and Fur Emporium, GREAT REDUCTION IN BONNETS AND HATS .-Messrs. Wood & Cary, No. 725 Chestnut street, have just made a great reduction in the prices of their elegant stock of Bonnets, Trimmed Hats, Bonnets,

For Holiday Presents DEFINITION OF "WILD OATS."-A cereal crop that is generally sown between eighteen and twenty-five. The harvest usually sets in about ten years after, and is commonly found to consist of a broken constitution, two weak legs, and a bad cough, and a trunk filled with small vials and medical prescriptions. We advise our readers to forego the above luxuries, and all their trunks, instead, with beautiful clothing from the elegant establishment of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street. PENNSYLVANIA STATE BUSINESS DIRECTORY AND GAZETTERR is the title of a new work now in course of preparation by Mr. Andrew Boyd. Every trade, occupation, and profession, will be fully represented, as well as an invaluable and endless amount of information contained in the appendix, com-prising in part the topographical agricultural, mining, and manufacturing interests, banks, in-surance companies, railroads, and other incorpo-rated companies, with statistical tables, exhibits, etc., of the entire State; also, a Gazetteer of the cities, towns, etc.

Those who wish to give a detailed account of their business can do so in the Miscellaneous and Advertising Department of the work, than which there is no better medium, as the book will have a circulation in nearly every village in the State, and in many of the principal cities in the Union. It is a work to be referred to a great deal by all classes of ousiness men and private individuals.

The attention of business men and others is respectfully invited to this Directory, and with their cooperation the publisher hopes to make it a faithful representation of the enterprise and business of this great State. The work will be octavo size, and handsomely printed. All Subscribers' and Advertisers' names inserted in capital letters. THE DRAFT.—The fifth of January will soon come around, when those districts that have not yet filled their respective quotas will have to "stand their little draft." Volunteering is the most effectual way of filling the ranks and it should be encouraged by all means. There is another important consider have filled their quota, and where there is no danger of the conscription, will have no hesitation about fitting themselves out in new citizens' attire, and to that end they will patronize the Brown Stone Cloth-ieg Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. This fact should not be overlooked.
