REV. J. WALKER JACKSON'S LECTURE.— Last Syening. Rev. J. Walker Jackson delivered, in "Andrew Jackson." The attendance, though the proceeds of the lecture were for the benefit of the ladice's Soldier's Aid Society of Green-street Re-thodist Episconal Church, was not large. Those present, however, were amply repaid for the inconvesience which the inclement weather occasioned by the eloquence and patriotism to which they were treated. The political and mili-tary career of the great statesman and general was detailed with spirit and force. Many anecotes were interspersed throughout the discourse. Par-ticular allusion was drawn to the course of General Jackson while commanding the Ameri-an army in New Orleans. His suspanion and arrest of Judge Hall for greatistic bent of Jackson's mind. Full of fire, energy, and perse-verance, he would not allow even a judge to inter-fere with him in the discharge of the populace to pay it for him, were all depicted with truthiuness, and creates freat splause. Gen. Eurnside did not do to allow even a plause. Gen. Eurnside did not do to enough. Burnside should have hung Vallandigham, and that's what Jackson would do if he were alive to day. The treatment South Carolina necesived at the hands of Jackson would do if he were alive to day. The furnities the same treasmonie the impotence exhibited to pay it for him, were alive to day. The furnities the same treasmonie locality by Mr. Bu-chason, as compared with the impotence exhibited towaris the same treasmonie locality by Mr. Bu-chason, elicited attention and applause. REV. J. FIFTEENTH WARD MEETING TO AVOID THE DRAFT.—The officens of the Fifteenth ward held another very spirited meeting on Saturday evening, to perfect the measures previously instituted there, to avoid the draft, by procuring the ward's quots of men as volunteers. Stirring addresses were de-livered by Professor Saunders, of West Philadel-phia; Charles B. Barrett, Eq., Commissioner of Fourth district; Thomas W. Price, Esq; William Mann, Esq, and others, siter which a commistee of three citizens of each precinct was appointed to solicit subscriptions in order that an extra bounty of fifty dollars might be paid to all who should volunteer from this ward. Capt. Cadwallader, U. S. general recruiting officer, was also present, and ex-pressed his belief that, by pursuing this course, the quota for the ward can be readily procured. Quite a large sum was subscribed by those present, and the citizens having the matter in charge appear to be determined that the effort shall be entirely suc-cessitul. Let us therefore, gentlemen, be prompt, Zealous, and faithful; let not personal aggrandizement influ-ence nor party considerations blind us; in all our actions let us remember the motto "non sibi sed om-nitus," and let us ever, in case of conflict, subordi-nate the good of the party to the good of the city. VANTS. In a case decided yesterday, Judge Strong read the following important opinion : Painter vs. The Mayor, Aldermen, &c., of the city of Pittsburg. Error to the District Court of Allegheny county. STRONG, J.-The case was put to the jury to find whether the injury which resulted in the death of the plaintiff's husband was or was not occasioned by the negigence of the detamants' contractors, or that of the contractor's again and servants, and the verdict establishes that it was. To this mode of submitting the case no exception was taken, and nothing is, therefore, presented to us but the ques-tions reserved. Of these its necessary to consider ontractors with it, or of their agents and servants. By an et of Assembly of April 23, 1856, the Select and Common Councils of the dity of Pittsburg were suthorized, whenever they should deem it neces-sary, to cause severs to be constructed in any street of the city, and for the payment of the cost levy an assessment upon the property benefited. In pur-suance of the act an ordinance was passed on the 256, a written contract for its construction of a sever in St. Clair street, and on the lat of June, 1869, a written contract for its construction, by which they covenanted to build or construct a brick sever, with all necessary inlets, and to mise all the mate-rial therefor, for stipulated prices for the excavation, replacing over the sever, removing surplus ma-terial, repaying, for brick and stome work, and for iron, and they agreed that the material, workman-ship, and exvavation who he stiff of the excerting surplus ma-terial, necessary inlets, and to material and the mate-rial therefor, for stipulated prices for the excavation, replacing over the sever, removing surplus ma-terial, negating over the sever, removing surplus ma-terial, negating over the sever, removing surplus ma-terial, negating over the sever the sever the sever, removing surplus ma-terial there gentement, not to be imposed upon by so materials a subteringe, not to be the subjects of so miserable a delusion. Let the official, who approaches you with such a suggestion, be greeted with the soorn and reproach which he deserves; let him thenceforth be the object of your keenest suspicion, and his department the object of your constant surveillance. Nor let any enchave his misgivings as to the consequences of this course upon either his personal interests or the prosperity is enhanced or impaired by the ob-servance or the neglect of the rules just commended, and they will surely elevate to power and as surely whose conduct conforms to these rules. You cannot, gentlemen, successfully separate ho-nesty and policy. To the minority members of this chamber I would respectfully suggest the expe-diency of keeping your majority colleagues to a strict observance of the principles just announced. By as doing, you will follow both the path of official duty and the precedents of legislative usage. The city is now under the ontroi of your political oppo-nents; sct up for them the highest standard of action, and watch and proclaim their every short-coming. You will find more than one of them, I am confident, who will applaud and second your efforts. You will bave the approval of your own conscience, and will promote, too, the attainment of the greatest good of the greatest number. And now, gentlemen of Select Uoundi, for the honor which to-day for the second time has been conferred upon me, accept my estneet and sincere

Carrying Deadly Weapons.

THE POLITOE. Carryisg Deadly Weapons. The killing of the colored man, Perry Thompson, by Orderly Sergeant Charles Moore, of the United States colored troops, the particulars of which were given in full in The Press of yesterday, caused to be made public the fact that nearly every colored sol-dier who receives a short furlough at the camp at Chelton Hills, in order to allow him to visit this city, carries either revolvers or side arms, or both. These soldiers, doubless feel very large in the United States uniform, but while many of them wear the "harness" with the dignity always due to it, yet there are many who do not, and are, there-fore, liable to commit excesses that bring them into trouble. Many instances are known where colored soldiers have gone around neighborhoods where persuss of their own race live, and by a flourishing display of bright swords, or silver-mounted pistols, have suc-ceeded in 'rightening everybody from his or her pro-priety. Whole familiesis colored folks have been frightened in this way, though the soldiers did not probably intend to harm them; they merely asted as ior a little sport. There are other instances where these men have gone into green-groery shops and demanded liquor, under a flourish of swords or a dis-play of revoivers. This misconduct is a very great annoyance to the mess of the colored troops, who know full well the prejudies that have existed against them as a body, and which they could only overcome by bravery in the field and gentility when not in active service. It may be of some service to all soldiers, no mat-ter where they come from, or what the olor of their skin may be, whether whits, yellow, black, brown, red, to know that very recently the judges of the courd decided that no soldier while on furlough and mingling with the community, had any right what-ever to acary concealed deady weapons. In most of the conset shat have recently fue judges were presented by friends, and not furnished at the camp. The militar

He was dri-ving on the rails, and would not get off to allow the car to pass. He was fined five dollars. The law is very plain in such cases, and any one violating it seldom escapes the ponalty.
