HEXAMPTERS AND PENTAMETERS. HEXAMPTERS AND PENTAMETERS. These lame hexameters the strong-wing'd music of Homer ! No—but a most burlesque barbarous experiment. When was a haraber sound ever heard, ye muses, in England ? When did a frog coarset croak upon our Helicon ? Hexameters no worse than daring Germany gave us, Barbarous experiment, barbarous hexameters ! HENDECASYLLABICS. O you chorus of indolent reviewers, Irresponsible, indolent reviewers, Look, I come to the test, a tiny poem All composed in a metre of Castillus, All in quantity, eareful of my motion, Like the skater on ice that hardly bears him, Lest I fall unawares before the people, Waking laughter in indolent reviewers. Should I founder awhile without a tunble Thro' this metrification of Ostullus, All that chorus of indolent reviewers. Should founder awhile without a tunble Throy should speak to me not without a welcome, All that chorus of indolent reviewers. Hard, hard, hard is it, only not to tumble, So fantastical is the dainty metre. Wherefore slight me not wholly, nor believe me Too presumptuous, indolent reviewers. O blatant Magazines, regard me rather— Since I blush to belaid myself a moment— As some exquisite rose, a piece of inmost Horticulturai art, or half coquette-like Maiden, not to be greeted unbenignly. Some, and among these one at least of our best Morticultural are, or mail coquetes may Maidem, not to be greeted unbenignly. Some, and among these one at least of our best and greatest, have endeavored to give us the Iliad in English hexameters, and by what appears to me their failure, have gone is to prove the impossi-bility of the task. I have long held by our blank verse in this matter, and now, after having spoken so disrepectfully here of these hexameters. I ven-ture, or rather feel bound, to subjoin a specimen, however brief, and with whatever demerits, of a blank-verse translation: He eased, and sea-like roar'd the Trojan host, And loosed their sweating horses from the yoke, and each beside his ohariot bound his own; And oxen from the city and goodly sheep In haste they drove, and money-hearted" wine And bread from out the houses brought and heap'd Their firewood, and the winds from off the plain Roll'd the rich wapor far into the heaven. And these all night sat on the bridge of war Trumphant; many a fire before them blazed : As when in heaven the stars about the moon Look besutiful, when all the winds are laid, And every height comes out, and juiting peak And valley, and the limmeasurable heavens Break open to their highest, and all the stars Shine, and the hind rejoices in his heart; So many a fire between the ships and stream Of Xanthus blazed before the towers of Troy, A thousand on the plain; and olose by each Sat firty in the biaze of burning fire; And ehamping golden grain their horses stood, t Hard by the chariots, waiting for the dawn. Illiad 8, 542-561. * Or, "wine sweet to the mind," but I use this epithet simply as a synonym of "sweet." but I use this epithet 'Or, if something like the spondiac close of the line ba required.

 When was a harsher sound ever heard, ye muses, in English Sufferings of the People of East Tennessee. An Appeal to the North-Address of Colonel N. G. Taylor to the Legislature at Harris-burg. In connection with the appeal made in behalf of East Tennessee by Governor Curtin, in his message, the address of Col. Taylor, late a member of Con-iriess from that section, and now in this city, de-serves the attention of the patriotic. Col. Taylor and says: "I do not come to the West and North as a bergar, though if necessary to accomplish the and says: "I do not come to the West and North as a beggar, though if necessary to accomplish the object I have at heart, I would crawl on my knees and beg, but to lay facts before a patriotic and mag-nanimous people." To the history of East Tennes-see he eloquently refers : "Her people are the decendants of the pioneer heroes of North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New Jersey, and, like their illustri-ous ancestors, they never have learned how to be false to the Constitution and the Union. The forest fathers of East Tennessee, in the great war for inde-pendence, left their homes to the defence of their wives and daughters against the Judian for our infant failaders, Emuckfau, and they fought under Shelby and Campbell at King's Mountain for our infant failadegs. Emuckfau, and the Horse Shoe, and triumphed, under Jackson, at New Orleans. When nullification threatened, in the sword, and the hero of the Hernitage invoked 'the Eternal' to witness that 'the Federal Union must be preserved,'s united amen swelled in the hearts, and broke from the lips of her people as the voice of one man, and they were ready to maintain the Government with they were ready to maintain the Government with they lips of her people as the voice of one man, and they were ready to maintain the Government with they lips of her people as the TERRIBLE SUFFERINGS UNDER REBEL MISRULE. Colonel Taylor was not remote from the scenes he eloquently describes, and his picture for the reign of terror and famine at the time of the rebel he eloquently describes, and his picture for the reign of terror and famine at the time of the rebel conscription, has unusual value: "Regiments, companies, and squads of infantry and cavalry were now distributed over the country, to hund down and esptite or shoot con-scripts. The arms and ammunition of the people had been demanded and selzed. Prominent dit-nent offizens were threatened, and in many instan-ces, arrested at their homes in the night season, upon frivolous charges and without charges, hur-ried off without notice or preparation, tried, if tried at all, by a deputy prover marshall or a military commission, exparts. and borne away to the loath-gome military prisons of Tuscaloosa, Madison or Macon, Saulabury or Richmond, to languish, for months or years, in diguting fifth and loathsome vermin, in many instances to pine away and die by disease or despair. " Parties charged with burning railroad bridges were summarily tried by drum-head courts-martial, condemed, and hung ; others, caught running from the consoript guards, shot in their tracks, while their less fortunate comrades, who were hinted down like wolver, and captured, were tied in couples to long ropes and driven like cattle, before the hoofs of cavalry, many times over frozen roads and iey creeks and rivers, often barefooted and bleeding, to be con-fined in conscript camps of instruction, or ried as descendants of the savages who, in other days, were wont to tomahawk and sealp the early settlers of watauga, Nola Chucky, and Hoiston, were led into our mountains and valleys, and put upon the track of the remaining young me. But to their honor be it ever remembered, that these half-civilized, poor Cherokees proved less aswage than their pale-faced companions in arms." HOW BAST TENNESSEE HAS SUFFERED UNDER BOTH
