SIR: The arguments against imposing a tax on crude petroleum at the wells are unanswerable, but I shall not enumerate them here. They proved to Our OME-PRICE SYSTEM is strictly adhered to. All are thereby treated alike be effectual with the last Congress, and so far with be effectual with the last Congress, and so lat with the present Congress, and are likely to continue so to the end. But the new petitions mentioned in The Press this morning, demanding a tax of five cents per gallon on crude petroleum at the wells, with a drawback of five cents per gal-JONES & CO., 604 MARKET Street. lon on all the refined oil exported, in order to give mployment to some of our idle refineries! are cer aly a novelty. If too many persons have rushed tainly a novelty. If too many persons have rushed heedlessly into the refining business without surveying the ground, or counting the cost, who is to blame but themselves if they suffer from the competition? What better right have they to an act of Congress for their especial benefit than those who suffer from competition in other pursuits all around us, especially when it is urged at the expense and sacrides of an interest more meritorious than their own Even if their application could be successful, one early effect would be to double the number of refineries, and speedily bring down the refining itse. Even if their application could be successful, one early effect would be to double the number of refineries, and speedily bring down the refining interest to where it is now.

But, upon principle, they might as well demand a tax of five cents a pound upon wheat, payable at the threshing floor, with a drawback of five cents a pound upon wheat, payable at the threshing floor, with a drawback of five cents a pound upon all the flour exported, and this for the benefit and protection of the grist mills of the United States! It they succeed in their purpose, they have but one more step to take, and that is to ask Congress to prohibit the erection of any more reflueries: to limit the number of producing wells; and to prescribe the exact number of gallons of oil that each well shall be permitted to yield per cay. This would be as reasonmitted to yield per cay. This would be as reasonmitted to yield per cay. This would be as reasonmitted to yield per cay. This would be as reasonmitted to yield per cay. This would be an economic of the excluding the producer of ende petroleum from the excluding the producer of ende petroleum from the markets of the world.

Both the trouble and the remely lie in a different direction. As a French chemist told me, on Oil direction. As a French chemist told me, on Oil direction, and only know how to refine petroleum. Witness the damage to the trade, a year ago, by the quantities of cishonest and inferior refined oil nent to Europe, and rejected, or sold for a song. And now only a few isvorite brands can hold their own there. Time enough for our refining interest to call for this unjust and injunious tax, when they prove, by their science and skill, that they can equal European refined oil in quality. If they can, then their present argument fails to the grount. Expount. Expount the resonance of the provents of the pro Your obedient servant, February 2, 1864. Markets by Telegraph. This Association has for its object to relieve the sufferings of the people of East Tennessee the only portion of the South which has preserved unshaken its fidelity to the Fisk of the United States.

When the question of secession was presented to the people, in February, 1861, East Tennessee gave an overwheiming majority against it. In Sevier county, out of a voting population of 1.497, only one vote was polled for secession. At this moment there are, in the Federal univers, from the county of Kone, more men in zrms than there were voters in 1860. 200 0 J. Graham & Co. J. B. Gould Philadelphia Connations, from the county of Roane, more men in arms ban there were voters in 1850.

The young men of East Tennessee are now fighting for kerr country and our country. The old men, women, and shildren, whether within the Federal or the rebel lines, are naked, destitute, and almost starving, the content ing termies baying four times passed over their unhappy country, leaving devastation in their track.

W. P. HACKED Chalence THE TWENTETH WARD?

All interested in fl'ink up the quota of the Ward, and who wish to avoid the Braft, are invited to meet on THURNDAY EVENING, the 4th Inst., at 7% o'clock, at the Church, Girard avenue, above Sixteenth street, when the following Resolution will be discussed:

Whether the Committees collect any more funds to fill the quota of the Ward, or discontinua their work of collecting, and let the draft be made.

Those who are subject to the Braft are invited to attend, as this will be the last opportunity to gaf out, if we do not meet with better success than we have done.

We can get out by raising $40,000, and if there is a Draft it will require $500,000 to pay for substitutes or commutation mone? CUDJO'S CAVE. SIX THOUSAND SOLD BEFORE PUBLICATION. EIGHTH THOUSAND IN PRESS. No novel has been published that has sold so enough mously before publication. Lanary 18th, 1864, the 8th U. S. Regiment left for Hilton Head.

The 22d and 28th Regiments are now at Camp William Penn, waiting orders from the Government.

Thus the committee have raised five regiments with the fund estimated as necessary to organizathren. It has also recently opened a Free Military School at its headquarters, 12lo Chestnut street. Under the care of John H. Taggart. Iste Colonel of the 12th Regiment Fennsylvania Reserves, and has at this time 161 scholars. All the students and have been send before the Examiners at Washington the vegets and 12 are now officers of Colored Regions. Two additional Preceptors have been earged for the School and are now officers of Colored Regions. Two additional Preceptors have been earged for the School and a Professor to review the students in arithmetic and the higher mathematics, groups by and history.

The Committee having nearly exhausted the funds antracted to it, and believing its power to recruit colored received permission from the War Department to continue its work. It therefore solicits from citizens, and from the Banks, Insurance Companies, Railroad Companies, and other public institutions, renewed aid.

The Committee feels confident that it is only necessary to call public attention to this matter to insure is and accomplishment.
