JOHN H TAGGART, Preceptor. The Soldiers' Convention at the Citizens' Volunteer Hospital—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the soldiers connected with the Citizens' Volunteer Hospital, Broad and Prime streets, was held in the ducing hall, on Saturday evening. The room was tastefully decorated, the fricolors, hanging in rich festoons, forming a canopy over the speakers. In the background was the motto "Let us sustain the Government by our voices which we have defended in the field," which was displayed in bold letters the width of the room. At half past seven the meeting was organized by electing Sergeant Hicks, of New York, to the chair. Eleven vice presidents were chosen, being one from each State represented.

Elequent speeches were delivered by the worthy chaplain, F. W. Olmated, Sergeant Matthews, of Michigan, Corporal Taylor, of New Hampshire, Privates. Ela, of Maine, Eston, of Minnesota, Ewart, of Pennsylvania, and others; after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Privates Ela, of Maine, Eston, of Mainesota, Ewart, of Pennsylvania, and others; after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas, The approaching contest for the Presidency is one fraught with west or woe to our beloved blood-bought land, involving the mighty question whether we shail treat with treasen and admit that for three years we have pursued a myth; that the monuments erected to the memory of the brave and honored dead have been careed in vain; shall the millions of money so freely expended be but a nation's tribute to the base ingraticate of the South, whose pampered leaders have heaped insult and commendy proportions of the war, and show all enamies that we stre determined to support the Government, and to maintain unimpaired the glorious privileges of free institutions handed down to us by our forefathers? Therefore, the soldiers who, by reason of wounds received in battle, are now in the Citizens' Volunteer floogistal having assembled in mass meeting for the interprivation of the war is the fine of the present and in advancing the course of the present Administration we do not perceive what more could have been done than has been accomplished by our able fresent floories that any change should be made in the sale ministration of the Government, and in advancing the objects for which the war is waged, and that we deem it impolited in the present amore crisis that any change should be made in the administration of the Government, except such as may be shown to be necessary by the subsequent course of events.

Resolved. That we recognise in Abraham Lincoln the shown to be necessary by the anbisequent course of events.

Resolved. That we recognise in Abraham Lincoln the guiding star of our hopes—one whose wisdom, added by sage consellors, will eventually bring us from under the lowering cloud that now shadows our national prospects to the more perfect day of glorious peace; and his re-election to his present position will best accomplish the objects for which the war is wage., and be a just tribute to his wisdom, integrity, and patriotism.

Resolved. That we earnevity recommend Abraham Lincoln for renominations, and call pon our friends at home, and companions in the field, to said us by voice and vote to secure his renomination and re-election, balleving, by such a course, we shall show the rebels we are determined to crush their infernal schemes and to maintain the integrity of our free infitutions.

Resolved. That the officers of the meeting be directed to publish the proceedings, signed by a delegate from each State represented.

The recolutions having been adopted, the meeting The resolutions having been adopted, the meeting cjourned.

JOS. H. HICKS, President. PARTING WITH AN OLD SOLDIER.—On Saturday evening a number of the friends of Caphain Funston met at Col. Berry's Marquee, on South Sixth street, and after partaking of some of the good things of life, the meeting was called to order, and Col. Reynolds, late of the "Soot Legion" Regiment, was called to the chair. Mr. Charles A. Jones, late quartermaster of the same regiment, in a few remarks offered a series of resolutions, expressing the sense of the old Scott Legion toward their friend and old comrade in arms, Captain Funston, who was about embarking for California. Col. Reynolds referred eloquentity to the sense through which he and Captain Funston had passed as soldiers. The memory of fallen braves was not forgotten, and the Colonel paid a beautiful tribute to one whom he ascribed the honor of both gentleman and chivalrous soldier—the late Major Hawksworth. In wiching Captain Funston 'God speed on his journey," there was an audible response of amen from all present. The Colonel said "that though separated by sea and land, they still were under the same dear old flag, and that their hearts would be united and their memory dear." PARTING WITH AN OLD SOLDIER .- On and that their hearts would be united and their memory dear."

Other addresses were made, and Captain Funston replied, in a few touching remarks, to the good wishes of his friends. Pointing to the medal of the "Scott Legion" on his breast, he said it would be a daily reminder of the brave associates with whom he had been connected as a fellow-in-arms in Mexico and on our own dear soil.

Colonel Berry made a few parting remarks, conceived in excellent taste, and delivered with the accustomed spirit for which he is proverbial.

After singing the "Starspanged Banner," led by Charles Jones, Esq., the meeting adjourned. "Scott Legion" on his breast, he said it would be daily reminder of the brave associates with whom he had been connected as a fellow-in arms in Mexico and on our own dear soil.

PHILADELPHIA YACHT ASSOCIATION.—
Spring will soon be with us in all its freshness and beauty, for to-morrow the young Queen will step across the threshold of time, and thus inaugurate the flowery reason. With its advent will some new seenes to cheer and delight mankind. Among the many arrangements of a sporting character, the Philadelphia Yacht Association occupies a prominent position. This scub is composed of some of the most influential business men who give character and tone to the city of Philadelphia for enterprise and worth. It is probable that on some lively day, when skies are bright, and the breeze genial, the ditizens will have an opportunity of seeling a marine panorama of forty or more yachts, spreading their steeth with a quill, and staring insultingly at the ladies at the station finally concluded with the fableau of the impostor leaving the officer, "the owner lodged information at the officer, "the owner of the valies of the officer had been consensually in participants may revert to with satisfaction. The gentlemen who form the club, or at least most of them, are wealthy; all have energy; and the spirit they have thus far evinced to make the forthcoming inauguration a pleasurable one is commendable. The sports and pastimes in store for ladies and gentlemen, families, kindred, invited guests, at home and abroad, are being looked forward to with hope, pleasure, and anxiety. We feel assured, from all that we have learned, that neither pains nor expense will be spared to make the day one that will eclipse anything of the kind heretofore happening upon any of the waters in jany part of the United States.

PHILADELPHIA BOARD OF TRADE. ARRIVAL OF SOLDIERS. - The following ARRIVAL OF SOLDIERS.—The following detachments of soldiers arrived in this city on Saturday evening, and were fed at the Cooper-Shop Volunteer Refreshment Saloon:

About two o'clock, yesterday afternoon, the 14th Regiment New Hampshire Volunteers, numbering eight hundred and eighty-nine men, arrived from the army. This regiment has been performing duty for some time in the fortifications around Washington, and lately in Western Virginia, which accounts for the large number of men which they brought back. They go to New Hampshire on a furlough of fourteen days, and from there to the Department of the Gulf, under General Banks. Colonel Wilson is commander of the regiment. The officers and men belonging to this regiment were entertained at the Union Volunteer and Cooper-Shop Refreshment Saloons before taking the cars.

The design is, of course, very appropriate, representing, as it does, torches, axes, hooks, ladders, ateamer, &c. The frame is surmounted with a spread eagle, holding in its beak a green scroll, containing the motto of the company: "Assist the suffering and protect the week." This testimonial of esteem entertained by the venerated company was to have been presented at the celebration of the last anniversary, but the Chief was not present, because of sickness. The formality of presentation, therefore, took place at the office of the Chief.

The usual winter examination at the close of the session, which has been occupying the Faculty and students of the Polytechnic for a week past, terminated on Saturday, and the duties connected with the reorganizing of the classes for the spring session, which begins to-morrow, will occupy to-day. The Technical Schools, which, together with the "Scientific School," compose the college, viz, those of Mines, Architecture, Chemistry, Engineering, and Agriculture, have been unusually well patronized this winter. The last named school is still upprovided with a model farm, which is alone wanting to complete the thorough organization of all the departments of the college, and this event we are assured there is every prospect of having supplied before the close of the spring session. DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN CHEMIST.—
Frederick Brown, Esq., a well-known chemist and druggist, died at his residence in this city on Saturday morning, after an illness of two months. He was popularly known in all parts of the country as the manufacturer of "Brown's Essence of Jamaica Ginger." He was a very enterprising citizen and successful business man, and was one of the most efficient members of the Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane. EFFECTS OF A GALE.—It seems that the eddying gust of wind on Fidday afternoon did more or less damage in different parts of the city than was supposed. During a heavy blow, which came as a big wave, not lasting over a half a minute, the framework of the steeple of the Tabor Presbyterian Church, at Christian and Eighteenth streets, was blown down. In its descent a part of the church building was crushed, and the spire was demolished. THE RELIANCE INSURANCE COM-Incorporated in 1841.

Three men, giving the names of James Cunningham, Samuel Hamm, and William Yeager, were arraigned on Saturday, on the charge of committing an assault and battery upon Edw. H. Warrick, and robbing him of the sum of $675. Mr. Warrick belongs to Chew's Landing, Camden county, New Jersey. He arrived in Philadelphia with a squad of colored men who desired to enlist in the service of the country. Some time after his business had been attended to, he went to a restaurant near Twelfth and Chestnut streets, to obtain some refreshments. The defendants were present, and Warrick being somewhat under the influence of liquor, a row was soon inaugurated, evidently at his expense. He was snooked down and beaten dreadfully. During the melée he was robbed of the sum of $675. The three defendants were arrested some time afterwards. It was in evidence that Cunningham struck the first blow, and that Hamm was seen shortly after handling a pocket-book, which he threw away after having taken its contents. Veager, it seems, was in company with these two, and it is alleged that he had some knowledge of the affair. The defendants were committed to answer.

Saturday Evening Scenes in the Central Station.

Seated in the detective's office of the Central Station, on Saturday evening, discussing matters and things in general, with a number of officials, we were not a little amused at a scene which occurred. A man with a shawl thrown over his arm, and a pair of kids in his hand, suddenly entered and lodged information that he had been robbed of his valise at the music hall, opposite the station. The stranger said he had just arrived from New York and stopped in to hear the music, and that somebody had stolen his valise. An officer proceeded to the music hall, made inquiry about the valise, and it was prodused. As he was about to take it away, the proprietor remarked that "the sum of fifty cents was due upon it." ADVERTISEMENT OF A RUNAWAY MASTER.—The following advertisement, which we copy from the Memphis (Tenn.) Bulletin of the 12th instant, af-

The sports and pastimes in store for ladies and gentlemen, families, kindred, invited guests, at home and abroad, are being looked forward to with hope, pleasure, and anxiety. We feel assured, from all that we have learned, that neither pains ner expense will be spared to make the day one that will eclipse anything of the kind heretofore happening upon any of the waters in jany part of the United States.

This branch in the life of the sporting world newer rose to the degree of dignity in our city, and in this respect Philadelphia has been behind other cities in this country and abroad. The idea of ladies skating is almost considered an innovation upon the conventional usages of society; and so it will be, perhaps, with the indulgence in yashting. But as gentlemen of refinement have taken the initiative, the ladies may look forward to some rare sport during the coming spring, that they have never enjoyed before.

THE TWENTY-NINTH VETERAN REGIMENTY-THIS regiment will proceed to Chester this morning, having been in this city since the 2s.i of December 18st.
