On Thursday a dreadful murder was committed at the Broad Top Coal region, in the county of Hunt-ingdon. It appears that a miner named Peter Ken-ney, aged 50, a native of Newkown Forbes, Long-ford, Ireland, was celebrating St. Patrick's Day in the usual mode with strong potations of whisky. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon his wife called at the store where he was paying a small account and took home with her a bottle of whisky. After this both parties were seen at their house, the husband in drink, but the wife, at that time, apparently sober. About 5 o'clock in the aftering Mira Barber, a neigh-bor, heard screams in the direction of the house, but as such rows were not unusual she took little notice of the circumatence. Barber, a neighbor, heard successful at the direction of the house, but as such rows were not unusual she took listle notice of the circumstance. Between two and three o'clock the following.morning Kenney called at the house of Mine. Mac-Ginnis, who resides about thirty yards off, and told her that he "thought his old woman was dead." Mine. MacGinnis immediately dressed and proceeded to the house, where she discovered the lifeless remains of Mine. Kenney, attracted on the floor oppo-site the flee, covered with blood, and Kenney stand-ing over her. She asked him how it was done, and he replied that he "got out of bed and found his wife outside the the ouse, st the gable end, lying on the floor, quite dead, and that he took her in doors to this, but he could not say how it was done, or by whom ; that he was in bed, and heard no noise." He was obcer at this time. Mine. MacGinnis gave the alarm, and between 8 and 9 clock that morning Dr. W. B. Roberts was called in. He found that the deceased was dread-fully lacerated about the upper part of the body, a wound as if done by a heavy blunt instrument, out the sole on the wise, as if she lifted her arm in self defence and received the full power on it, of the murderous bludgeon which was evidently used. The following are the most emphatic passages of the speech of Governor Vance, made at Raleigh: "Your lands confiscated and sold to your own slaves! Now you see what is in store for you. This is but the beginning of what would be the end. If they do this in the green tree, what will they not do in the dry? If they do this at the very moment they have the impudence to profer you terms of peace, what will they not do when our vast armies are disbanded, when the battle flag is laid low in the dust, and the gallant men who have for three years stood as a wall of fire between you and destruction, no longer peri-odically stad a thrill of guilty awe through the enemy who listens for their averging tread across his fields, but melt away before the unimpeded rush of the greedy conquerors! "My friends, there are a great many desirable things, but the question, not what may be wished, but what may be obtained, is the one reasonable men may consider. It is desirable to have a lovely wife and plenty of reconstructing the old Union, and reinstating things as they were four years ago, than exists for you to gather up the scattered bones of you sons who have failen in this struggie, from one end of the country to the other, reelow the them with theah, fill their veins with the blood-they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they breathed out they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how the dows the blood they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how they how they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how they be added out they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how they have how they have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how they have how have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same breath with which they how they have how have so generously shed, and their lungs with the same br

The Administration is, and has a right to be, the war party. 2. Two partice cannot exist advocating the same views; but the anti-Administration will be absorbed by the Administration organization. 3. It is of more importance to preserve the Demo-cratic party than to save the country. Therefore, it concludes that it is necessary for De-breath with which they breathed out their last prayer for their country's triumph and independence. "Do you suppose the chivalrous people of the South, whose distinct moreal nationality has long since been recognized, would aubmit to see all their proud dities garineoned with negro soldiers, to see the lands of their friends divided up and parceled out among the foreign mercensries? Do you suppose the blood of the Southern youth would run quietly in his viens when he saw a negro officer walking the streets and making his sister give way for him, or insulting her by his very presence? Do you suppose the blood of the foreign mercensries? Do you suppose the blood of the foreign mercensries? No, in aurrection after insurrection, tervointion upon revolution, war after war, century after century, as in European States, victims would burst upon the country, and for year after year, century after century, as in European States, victims would be demanded, and blood flow in torrents, compared to which a drop would have at first won independence and permanent, and great and glorious armles in the field. If we do not, we will leave war as an inheritance to our children's whill we war as an inheritance, and advantages far less than we now poses for asserting their rights, their race and nationality." A Veteran's Sentiments. From the Lancaster (Pa.) Express we take the fol-lowing eloquent sentiments uttered by Edw. R. Martin, a private soldier of the gallant 79th "Penn-sylvanis," in reply to a patriotic welcome-speech from Mayor George Sanderson, editor of that Oop-perhead newspaper, the Lancaster Intelligencer. It is very doubtful whether the class represented by Mr. Sanderson would endorse these manly remarks of Private Martin:

Mack, a private in the 59th New York Volunteers, was, on Savate in the 66th New York Volunters, was, on Sa-turday last, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, appointed a third assistant engineer in the navy. The young man made a beautiful little model of a steam engine, and presented it to the managers of the Pa, tent Office Fair, although, he had been offered $120 for it. When the facts were brought to the know-ledge of Mr. Welles, he thought the soldier would better serve the country in the navy than the army, and so transferred bin on beard ablu.

A boy's head and a comrade's hand, it is true, are not equally valuable ; but both are infinitely better worth keeping to their respective owners than is the sensation of risking either. Corpo- ral Major Waite must have bold men in his troop to practice upon. A new style of shell, invented by Capt. William S. Williams, of Ohio, has recently been successfully experimented with at Vicksburg, in a 20 pound Par- rot gun. One shell, weighing twenty pounds, was, by his means of explosion, broken into one hundred and twenty-reven pieces, which surpasses any of a similar kind now in use. ANOTHER SMITHSONIAN BEQUEST-AN ENANCI- TATION COLLEGE IN PENNSYLVANIAWe copy the following from the London Times: In the Vias Chancelloy's Court, London, Jan. 21, before Sir R. T. Kindersley. New vs. Bonaker. The object of this siut is to obtain the direction of the court as to this siut is to obtain the direction of the court as to certain trust funds. Mr. George Roberts, a resident of London, made his will in 1925, by which he be- of London, made his will in 1925, by which he be- queathed $5,000 of Virginis stock, and $2,000 of the United States stock to his brohers and sisters for life, and after their death to the President and Vice President of the United States, and to the Govern- or of Pennsylvanis, nı trust, to invest 2,000 in land, and to invest the rents and interest of the stock, and let it ascumulate until it amounted to $100,000, and that they should then found a college for the instruction of the youth of Pennsylvanis, that mo- ral philosophy be taught in auch college, and that a professor be engaged, "who shall advocate and inte- culate the matural rights of the black people of every clime and county until they be restored to an	anadron, that they are used to have offered to place silver, weight for weight, in the scales to purchase them. THE reorganization of the Army of the Potomac, now in progress, reduces the number of corps to thret—the ist and 3d being absorbed into the 2d, 5th, and 6th—to be commanded respectively by Major Generals Hancock, Warren, and Sedgwick. This will make three very strong sorps. The Sceretary of War has decided that the volum- teers who served for nino months are not entitled to the bounty of twenty five dollars, which they sup- posed they were entitled to under the act of Con- gress of July 17, 1882.
