At four o'clock yesterday afternoon Coroner Tay-lor called the jury to order, at the Central Station, Fifth and Chestout streets. The office was well fifthe. The following evidence, some of it import-ant, and therefore interesting, was elicited: H. D. C. Miller sworn.—I reside at 815 Walnut street; I was not in the Continental Theatre until after the arrest was made; I was in Bancker's sa-loon at the time of the shooting. (The prisoner was now brought from the cell. A chair was handed him, and he search himself. He looked a little freaher than on the day before. "He was calm as could be expected. His aged father and an older brokher were provided with seats on the bench within the bar.) Charles Logue, sworn—Reside at 130 south Ninth street; I am earpenter at the Continental Theatre; I was standing in the first entrance on the stage, ready to shut the scene; I heard no quartelling; heard a pistol shot, and then saw two fisabes, and after this saw the dead woman; this is all I know; I never saw the young man before; I went to the box; saw that the woman was dead; we took her body back on the stage; the prisoner was then in the sent on the stage; the prisoner was then in thereaten to shoot the deceased. The most important witness was not present, and the coroner adjourned the further investigation. Before the jury senarated, however, the witness ap-pearid. The case was then continued, and the fol-lowing important testimony was given in: Robert Hoedley sworn.—I reside at 1129 Ellsworth street; I was at the Continental Theatre on Satur-day night.
