

The Press. SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1864.

It is not often that we find in the New York Herald a more fully sustained, and it is, therefore, with unusual satisfaction that we quote the following paragraph: A newspaper that is usually in the wrong is more emphatic when occasionally right. The surprise with which we have read this good advice will be shared by the public, which we entreat to remember that this counsel is most impressive, being given by the Herald, that it would have been given by a thoroughly loyal journal.

The probabilities of the Situation. The intelligence received to-day adds to the probability that Lee has resolved to fall back within the entrenchments of Richmond. The Wilderness, which the Army of the Potomac has passed with opposition, would have been naturally the place to expect opposition. There the army was severely punished in the battle of Chancellorsville, and if General Lee intended to proceed to the advance it would seem probable that he would have there placed his forces.

It is, however, thought that Lee is entrenched near Orange Court House. The objections to this theory are, however, not likely to make objections. It is true, he has not only permitted General Grant to flank him, but has abandoned Richmond to the advance of the army on the Peninsula. The forces under Butler are, no doubt, sufficient to capture the city, if Lee's army is not in position to defend it, and in that case it is clear that General Grant should not force a battle until Butler's capture would become decisive.

Improper Embellishments of Troops. Heavy stoppages have been made against the pay of certain regiments of the Army of the Potomac, and it is reported that the paymaster of the 1st Maryland Infantry has been arrested for the same reason. It is believed that the paymaster of the 1st Maryland Infantry has been arrested for the same reason.

McNeill's Genitians. The general officers of the 1st Maryland Infantry have been ordered to disband the company of Genitians, which were organized at Baltimore and sent to the front. It is believed that the company was organized for the purpose of evading the military laws.

The Treasury-Department Trouble. Pending the investigations under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Treasury Department has been ordered to suspend the payment of the interest on the bonds of the United States.

A Missing Chaplain. A chaplain of the 1st Maryland Infantry has been reported missing in action. It is believed that he was captured by the enemy and taken to Richmond.

The National Banks—Opinion of Secretary. The Secretary of the Treasury has issued an opinion regarding the National Banks, stating that they are not authorized to issue currency without the approval of the Treasury Department.

General Butler's Advance. General Butler's advance on the Peninsula is being watched with interest. It is believed that he will soon reach Richmond, and that the Army of the Potomac will be forced to retreat.

Speculations, Rumors, &c., about the Battle of the Wilderness. The battle of the Wilderness is being discussed in many quarters. It is believed that it was a tactical draw, and that the Army of the Potomac will be retrained by General Grant.

The Churches to-Morrow. We attended yesterday to the sublime sympathy of Christianity with Freedom, and the all-encouraging fact that the influence of the Christian Church everywhere sustains an justifies our Government.
