The School Department Again. WASHINGTON RELICS.

It would really seem as though the Fair would draw for months. That in New York was kept open four weeks. The present one has only been open fifteen days, and the season proper will end on Saturday night at ten o'clock. It was evident from the general appearance of the visitors yesterday that many of them were from the country. Delaware and New Jersey sent forth their legions, and the scencs were novel to them; and therefore in-teresting. The committee of general arrangements a day or two since, wisely issued tickets for the free admission of the convalescent soldiers. Nine hun-dred tickets per day are distributed to soldiers um of the Medical Department of hrough the me the several hospitals. Yesterday an 'unusual number of soldiers were in attendance and they took a leisure-stroll through every department. Many of them were the recipients of hand bouquets from the ladies in attendance in the Horticultural Department. A better behaved set of men never mingled in society. They came from nearly all parts of the Union. Many had their hands or arms in slings, because of wounds received in fighting for that glo rious emblem of honor and power that adorns every part of the vast fair buildings. A soldier had his wounded hand slightly injured in trying to get through a crowd. "By jingo;" said he to a companion, after getting through, "hang me if I wouldn't rather storm a rebel battery than to go into that crowd again. A young lady hurt my hand, but she didn't know it." A medical gentleman rendered what assistance was necessary. The soldier uttered no complaint but stood the redressing of the wound with composure. THE WM. PENN PARLOR. The Great Central Fair has furnished an opportunity for obtaining mementos of the early settle-ment of the State, which form a collection of these

Now, we neither invest Peters-burg nor are we planted on nor have we interrupted its communications. Begin with its northern communications --the Petersburg and Richmond Rallroad. This was seleced by General Butler, at Port Wulthal, and the track torn up for some dirkines. But Beauregard was able to repulse Butler, and this road, as is con-veyed in an official despatch from General Lee to Mr. Davis, has again been put in running order. Looking to the southern side, the communications of Petersburg and Danviller roads. Looking to the vestor side, its communications are by the Petersburg and Lynchburg Rallfond. Beginning with these in order, the Petersburg Suffolk road. Is in our possession-the left wing of our army rosts across it; but it forms mo part of the communications proper of Petersburg, because the terinitus, Suffolk, has long been in our possession. There remain, therefore, the Petersburg and Weldon road would re-quire a development of our line several tribes to the Petersburg and Lynchburg roads. There remain, therefore, the Petersburg and Weldon road would re-quire a development of our line several tribes to the Petersburg and the destroug road is at present situation, can touch neither of these-ro tap the Petersburg and Weldon road would re-quire a development of our line several tribes in the Possible to do more than make it the object at sitiat ions from ruling partles, because an extension so far to the left would seriously endangor our own communications, and the maxim does not allow us to expose our own communications in operating against those of the energy. In this condition'of things, to speak of. Petersburg and the soleng under''a "siege" is a mere abuse of language. THE MILITARY INFORTANCE OF PETERSBURG. The young ladies of the "Girls' High and Normal School" have being doing a brisk business. It is an old maxim, "That where energy backs beanty success is sure ;" and it has been amply examplified in this case. One of the ornaments of the stand is a sty of "piggies," which shows the young ladies are all right on the pork-question. Said sty is up for "chances." We might thus continue giving a separate account of the beauties of each table, but the task would be long and useless, for what is said of one stand can be said of all. Each and all the lady attendants have displayed taste, energy, and courtesy in their attentions at the tables, and have fully shown that the schools of Philadelphia an and will do their part when called upon. In concluding this hasty and imperfect sketch we congratulate all concerned at the success of their labors. The soldiers will pray for them, God bless them, and their "bread cast upon the waters will return after many days."

GOLD AND SILVER STEAMBOAT. Mr. J. Dean Benton, of New York, placed on exhibition yesterday a working model of the Sound steamer Commonwealth, Captain J. W. Williams. This model is made of 73 ounces of 18-karat gold and 242 ounces of coin sliver. The miniature boat is constructed in all its parts in accordance with the seale of three-thirty-seconds of an inch to the foot, and is valued at $5,500. The model is 2 feet 7 inches "siege" is a more abuse of language. THE MILITARY INFORTANCE OF PETERSBURG. Petersburg is the key to Richmond. The elaborate construction of its defences furnishes a standard of the high value set upon it by the rebel military en-gineers. Viewed from a military point of view, it lorms a powerfully forified its da pont, covering the passage of the river and the main line of communi-cation from Richmond southward. Its relations with that capital are, in fact, almost identical with those held by Baltimore toward Washington; and were the rebels in possession of the former point they would not menace our capital more than we would. Richmond, were we once in possession of Petersburg. In fact, not as much-for even were Baltimore in the hands of the rebels, Washington would still have its water communi-cations, while Richmond is isolated from it. The rebel defensive line was drawn around the city at alistance of about two 'miles from it, and formed a set of detached redoubts; after what is known as the "German system." Of these works, there were seventeen, mounting from six to eigh-teng und washington, and connected by an infantry, parapet, the strongest I have yet seen in my expo-rience over all parts of the theatre of war. That here which indeed; is no longer a hypo-thesis, but an ascertained fact-that Gen. Grant's manceures decerved Lee, whose army was still a day's march off when this line of defences fell into our hands. The repudity with which Heasing was hurried forward to the defences of Petersburg, and the tenneity with which it has since been held; are the best evidence of the kind'of resistances was hurried forward to the defences of Petersburg, and the tenneity with which it has since been held; are the tenseity with which it has since been held; are the tenseity with which it has since been held; are the tenseity with which it has since been held; are the tenseity with which it has since been held; are the tense that not General'Grant been be-forehand with THE MILITARY IMPORTANCE OF PETERSBURG. in length, 6% inches beam, 4% inches in depth from the top of the saloon to the keel. The upper deck is made of gold, valued at $800. The dome-of the same material, cost $187. The cabins are fully furnished in the same style as the large steamer. The cabin floor has a rich carpet upon it, cushions chairs, and tables, the latter containing gold pitch ers and goblets. The machinery is propelled by a 'musical box that plays five national tunes, thus, while the beam is working up and down, and the sidewheels revolving, the music on board will aptly remind the listening spectator of a steamboat ex cursion, a species of pastime that was very popular on the Delaware river a few years since. The model steamer was placed under the care of the prope committee, who assigned it a conspicuous place for exhibition. It is a very fine piece of workmanship. BOOT AND SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Not far from the centre of Union avenue and the outh side the visitor will find the Shoe Department, under the general supervision of Mrs. Eliza heth Hartman and Mrs. Nixon, two ladies who have given much time and attention to the cause. - There is a general variety of very fine French boots, gaiters, Indies' and children's slippers, ladies' riding boots, which may be purchased at the cheapest rates. There are two pairs of cavalry boots for Major Gen. Meado and Major Gen. Hancock, which are open for subscription. These boots and snurs are made of the finest materials; the workmanship is faultless. Those of the visitors in want of boots, shoes or galters, might as well purchase them at the Fair as at any other place, as they can be had at reason-BEMARKS OF HON. WILLIAM D.
