MILITARY. RECEPTION OF THE 71ST F. V. The 71St P. V. better known as the California. Regiment, had a formal reception given them by the city authorities resteriaty morning. It took place at National Guards' Hall, where a committee of Councils had assembled to receive them. A band was in attendance, and at times performed the soul-stirring national airs. Mr. Frank A. Wol-Lort, chairman of the receive for committee of Coun-cils, introduced in a few words Dr. Uhler, of Select Council, who thanked the veterans, in the name of the eity and of the country, for the many noble deeds which they have performed on the battle-field, and for the patriolic impulses which induced item to leave their homes to fight, for the country and for freedom. City Councils had over been mindful of what is due to the soldler, and have done all that is conducive to his welfare. It gave the peaker great pleasure to perform this duty, and he welcomed the brave follows home most giadly. In the name of Philadelphia he bade them God-speed in their future life. From Ball's Built to Coid Har-bor their blood had mingled with the soil, and their diminished ranks showed that their commodes had died gloriously in defence of their country. The services of the California Regiment will form one of the bray they follows home, and retired. Cherers were then given for the city of Philadel-phia. Tolement R. Init: Colonel R. Penn Smith responded in behalf of the regiment as follows: GENTLEMEN AND OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS OF THE SEVERAL MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS: Allow me in behalt of the officers and nen of the 71st Penn-sylvania volunteers, better known as Baker's Gali-fornia Regiment, to return to you my most sincere and heartfeit thanks for the flatforing reception you have extended to us on the event of our return to our native city. This plensure and satisfaction of returning to you we have looked forward to with the fondest anticipation of delight for the past three years. During that time the men now before you have experienced the danger, fatigue, hardships and privations of war, and but few of its pleasures. Their appearance and arms bear evidence of this, and scarcely one of them but who can prove by his scars that he has fought at least to knop the enemy from your doors. From the disaster at Ball's Bluff, where our noble Baker fell, and our gallant Wistar was wounded, to the appearent of the plater was wounded, to scars that he has fought at least to koop the enemy from your doors. From the disastor at Ball's Bluff, where our noble Baker fell, and our gallant Wistar was wounded to the oriticised. PenInsula campaIgn, under General McCleilan; to the victory at Antietam and sangui-mary reverses at Fredericksburg and Chancellors-rillie; from the achievement at Gettysburg, on our native soil, to the withdrawal at Mine Run, and the advance and engagement in the Wilderness; to the gallant charge inade by Hancock at Spotsylvania, and again at Cold Harbor, the California Regiment has been honorably identified, and notwithstanding the assertion that none but cortain-troops of our nobile State defended it and the nation at Gettys-burg and other fields, with regret and tears at the loss sustained, we have at least the prod satisac-tion of knowing that our endeavors and blood hare been appreciated and honorably mouth the assertion. General courblood has so dearly bought, and the maimed who daily parade your streets, representing this regiment, but too plainly and sadly attest the correctitess of the assertion. General end blood has so dearly bought, and the maimed who daily portate your streets, representing this regiment, but too plainly and sadly attest the correctness of the assertion. General end the due as the future, our hearts steken and tremble at the result. Experience has taugit us too sad a lesson to think lightly of the origin and results of the war. We are now about being discharged from a dury as soldlers to perform one equally as important as citizens—to suppress the enchies of our country at home. Each and every one of us will be identified with one of two parties—the patriot or the sileided traiter—and as these men have proven their loyatly at the cannon's mouth, I have no fear but that the results in the fu-ture will be al intar our country can expect and de-mand of them. Let us use every endeavor to bring this unfortu-nate rebelion to a hasty conclusion. Let all of us

OFFIGERS AND SOLDIERS OF THE CALIFORNIA REGIMENT: After an association of over three long, tedious, and anxious years, we are now about to part. I ennuc but express my regret at this satis-factory truth. As strangers we joined hands in one common cause, the overthrow of the enemics of our country, who, I regret to say, still present a bold and defiant front to those we have left behind us. You have done all, and more than has been asked of you. And had others proved as devoted and sin-cere to the cause in which we have been engaged, I have no doubt but that a happier state of affairs would have presented itself this day. Prove, my men, equally as true, devoted, and loyal citizens as you have been soldiers. There is a subscription of the same. There is the same of the same of the same of the same. There exer found and proven you in camp obelling in the respectful, with a willingness to be attentive and prompt to duty; on the march uncomplaining and cheerful; on the battle-field brave and daring, ready and willing to execute any order that was given you. Your conduct has always elicited the admiration of your commanding officers, and your record is a hard-carned and flattering one, and though regret that I was unble to join you in the last campaign, yet I know that you were ably commanding to give you. Your conduct has always elicited and protected that taitered flag. Prove equally as loyal and devoted to it as cilizens. With it as your beamer, you have strength, pride, and respect; without it, you are weak and insignificant. But a few more days we will live as a military organization, and then the name of the California Regiment will ecase to exits save on the page of history. Yet the ties that so bound us as soldiers, will have been made doubly strong in the elizent, and, while enjoying the conforts, rights, and privileges of these in our peaceful homes, should a thought introde of the past and our fullen courandes, think not lightly of it, neither wipe away the tear. Lot it remain in sacred romembrane of those who have tailed in the defonce of their country. John Price Wetherfly, Eq., of Select Council, was then fartened, and made an eloquent speech. He is alide that Philadelphia's best sons had fought of the california california the envires of the regiment, and spoke feelingly of the defone of the regiment, their dist leading. The same the arity reception. [Applause, He alluded in fitting terms to the regiment, and spoke feelingly of the death of Colonel Baker, their dist leading. The men should feel proud to have it known that they fought under Colonel Baker, their dist leading. The line of procession was then formed in the following order :

The fine of procession was then formed in the for-lowing order: Philadelphia Band. Committee of Councils in carriages. Dram Corps. Detachment of Invaild Corps, Capt. Bryant. Snunders Cadets. Tiberty Oornet Band. Tist Regt. Penna. Vols., Col. R. Penn Smith. Ambulances containing wounded soldfors of the regiment. The parade passed over a short route to the Vol-unteer Refreshment Saloons, where an entertain-ment was given to the veterans. The procession was then dismissed.

A corps of this well-disciplined body of youth, by special invitation from the committee, drilled yes-terday before the veterans of the 71st Kegiment, P. V., Colonel Smith. The cadets went through the drill in so masterly a manner as to call forth the most onthusiasile applicase of the large number of spectators. The march of the cadets in the reception procession yestor-day to the Cooper-Shop Refreshment Saloon was so exceedingly well done in all the movements as to elicit universal admiration. The military school where these cadets received their instruction was founded by Captain Courthand Saunders, a brave, gallant young man, who fell in battle at An-titcham, while gloriously rallying his men, in defence of the country. He died a here, lamented by all who knew him. The Military Academy is still a monument to his memory; it certainly is a school of which Philadelphia may well feel proud. ABMY HOSPITALS. The contractors are rapidly preparing for the re-coption of sick and wounded solitiers the buildings recently leased at Every, New Jersey, and at White Hall, near Bristol. The large building at Twenty-third and Filbert streets, in this city, until lately used as barracks, is also being prepared for hospital purposes, and will, when completed, form a branch of the Sixteenth and Filbert-streets Hospi-tal, and be under the charge of the same surgeon-in-chief, Dr. Storrew.
