Fourteen hoys were arraigned yesterday on the charge of "vicious habits." It seems that these thieving juveniles, not being under proper parental control or moral restraint, have been in the habit of snatching handkerchiefs from the hands of passen-gers in the cars. These young candidates for the penitentiary have been in the habit of locating themselves along the track, in order to facilitato their nefarious work. On Thursday afternoon an excursion party passed through Manayunk, and a number of the children in the gay and happy party waved their handkerchiefs from the windows in response to some folks on the sidewalks who gave sundry demonstrations of welcome. At this moment the prisoners relieved quite a number of their hand-kerchiefs, and commonced at, once to examine the corners of the cambries. This was in search of money that might chance to be tied there. The young thieves were bound over to answer. THIEVING JUVENILLES. Calver. to be present. Awards will be made on Friday, July Sth. BREACHES OF ORDINANCE. Within a day or two the keepers of five public houses have been arraigned before Police Magistrate Carter, by High Constable Barton, on the charge of violating a city ordinance, which provides that water troughs shall not be erected on the sklewalks. All these persons had been properly notified to re-move the troughs, and, failing to do so, were fined. Others who have erected troughs have been notified that the law will be enforced unless the re-moval is made. In some of these instances there have been found running at almost all hours in the night. The defendants contend that certain rall-read companies have erected troughs on the public highway to water the horses, and in this glair there should be no partiality shown. The Thermometer. The major commanding the regiment learned that unless the veterans started at two o'clock yesterday afternoon on their return home it would be im-possible to obtain transportation for them before Tuesday next. The "boys," he said, were desirous to reach home, where they wished to spond the Fourth of July, and therefore no time was to be lost. In this instance the veterans took the "will for the deed," and while they would have been pleased with the escort, yet "home, swoot home" had more attraction for them. There was an unusually lively scene at the City Troasury yesterday, and the departments of that in-stitution worked in all the admirable order of clock-work machinery. Mr. Henry Bumm, the treasurer, has had but few equals among his predcessors. As a general thing, he has time and again exhibited superiority over the whole of them. He successful-ly met the bounty fund before the loan bills had matured, and thus very materially assisted in send-ing re-enlisted men to the front, without any dolay, at the time they were wanted. Yesterday the semi-annual interest on the city debt, the warrants of the school teachers and the police force, were due. All these three departments were conducted in so admi-rable a manner that everybody departed fully im-pressed with the financial ability of the treasurer. The interest way promptly met, the school teachers went their way rejoleing; and the police officers, so loud in their complaints during former years, now changed their tune to one of praise. The days of hawking the city warrants about the streets are of the things of the past. The treasurer and his at ge corps of assistants paid out yesterday nearly half a million of dollars. David Pryor was arraigned at the Central Sta-tion, yesterday afternoon, on the charge of robbing the fireproof at the office of Mr. George W. Ford, claim agent, of the sum of $1,015. Mr. Ford testl-fied that he had obtained at the mint on Wednes-day the sum of $1,015, in two packages. He took $20 from one package and placed the remainder in the fireproof. David Pryor, who leads a sort of va-grant life, was present. He was in the habit of fre-quently visiting the office. On Wednesday morn-ing the money was missed; the proof having been opened by means of a key. — "Pullip Hoffman, a soldier, testified that he has known Pryor for a number of years, as a sort of boaler about taverns, waiting for chances to get something to drink; never knew him to have any money, until Wednesday night. It seems the wit-ness arrived at the Baltimore depot: at this time, and there being a death in the family whore he in-tended to stay, he altered his mind, and proceeded to the public house of Mr. Thomas Dillon. There he met with Pryor, who had a large amount of money in two packages; one of them had not yet been opened. Pryor had a pocket full of two-dollar notes, and was free in offering to bot on a wrestling match that is announced to take place on the 11th inst. ## THE PRESS.-PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1864.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

A New Church Enterprise. The Wagner Institute building, located in one of the most beautiful suburban sections of our city (Seventcenth street, north of Columbia avenue), is it be made the nucleus of a new religious interest. This fine large cellice, we may remark, was erected and designed by its generous founder to promote the gratuitous dissemination of scientific knowledge. The upper part of it, one hundred and sixty feet in length, is occupied as a museum, with numerous alcoves, in which are arranged and classified a great variety of specimens in mineralogy and natural history, with a large collection of valuable philo-sophical apparatus. On the lower floor there are a number of rooms of convenient size for the use of professors and for rocitations, besides an ample octure room, capable of seating one thousand porsons. This large room Professor Wagner has kindly granted the use of for religious services, to be hold regularly hereafter every Sunday afternoon, the inaugural sermon of the series having been preached on Sunday last, by the Rev. Dr. Brainerd. The atter selected us the theme of his discourse the toxt, "Take heed how ye hear," and his treatment of it was characteristically eloquent and impressive. His comments upon the prevailing harmony existing between the developments of science, when pro-perly understood, and revenled truth, were particularly felicitous and appropriate. He looked upon the movement which they were then inaugurating as eminently promising of future utility in this rapidly-growing section of our city. The day was oppressively warm, notwith-standing which the attendance was quite large, and standing which the attenuance was quite large, and we have no doubt the audiences will increase as the fact becomes better known that meetings of this flaractor-totally unsectarian in their object and aim-are to be held regularly. At the close of the services, the Doctor announced that the Rev. J. S. Willis was expected to preach at the same place on next Sunday (to-morrow) afternoon. THE BUTTONWOOD-STREET MORNING PRAYER MEETING.-Whether the claim set up that cortain daily prayer meetings, commenced in the autumn of 1857, were to be "permanent institutions," will be borne out by fact or not, it must be admitted that some of these diurnal gatherings for social religious recreation have evinced a wonderful degree of tenaclty in the way of holding on. Prominent among these is the daily Union prayer meeting held every morning, from 8 until 814 o'clock, in the lecture-room of the Rev. Mr. Shepherd's church, Button-wood street, below Sixth. This meeting has continued uninterruptedly through nearly seven years. The attendance is not large but remarkably regular. The mest conspicuous subjects of prayer in this meeting now are the sick and wounded soldiers of the republic-prayers in which we are sure that every Christian in the land, whother he finds it convenient to attend a daily morning meeting for public prayer or not, heartily sympathizes and copublic prayer of non-match, sympactices that do operates. We refer to this meeting, and its no less patriotic than Christian object to-day, because we are told that nothing cheers the heart of the soldier, on the distant field of conflict, more than the dier, on the distinct bound of comme are praying for his assurance that friends at house are praying for his safety and success, and because never more than at the present moment have they needed an Aaron
