MISCELLANEOUS.

MISCELLANEOUS. MUSIC AT FAIRMOUNT PARK. In The Press of Saturday we called attention to the fact that, up to that time, no action had been taken in reference to securing the services of an efficient orchestra for the discoursing of music at. Fairmount Park during the balance of the summer season. Since then we are glad to announce that efforts have been begun in this direction. It is pro-posed to have Carl Sentz' Military Harmony Band every afternoon except Sunday at the Park. The puissenger railways having their termini at Fair-mount have agreed to make woekly contributions for this object, and all citizens feeling interested in the matter are requested to come forward and ald in swelling the subscription lists. There will be lists at the Continental and Girard House. Mr. Edward Willard is business agent, and is authorized to re-certs will be equal, if not superior, to anything of the kind got up in our city. [Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.]

ALLEGED HOTEL THIEF. A stout, black curly-haired young man, giving the name of James Logan, was arraigned at the Central Station, on Saturday afternoon, on suspi-cion of robbery. He was arrested at the Continen-tal hotel, between three and four o'clock on Satur-day morning, under very suspicious alcompstances clon of robbery. He was arrested at the Continen-tal hotel, between three and four o'clock on Satur-day morning, under very suspicious circumstances. It seems that some time since Mr. Kinsley observed a young man on the third floor, at an early hour in the morning, and supposed that he was a boarder. Some time after this it was announced that Capt. Bowyer, of the Royal Navy, whose vessel is at For-tress Monroe, had been robbed of a pocket book con-taining nearly $60. The captain boarded at the ho-tel. A description of the fellow who was seen by Mr. Kinsley was given to Officer Russell, who made arrangements to capture him in case he made another visit. On Saturday morning the pri-soner made his appearance on the third floor, and seemed to be on a tour of inspection. While so engaged, he discovered the offi-cer watching him. The fellow took a heaty de-parture, and descending a private stairway, kunded in a lower room, from which there was no other retreat save by the way he entered. He was there-fore arrested; and though he had time to recover from his nervous shock, he could not tell a sa-tistactory story. He said he was looking for Mr. Hill's room. Mr. Hill did not board at the house. Upon descending to the lower story he pointed out a man who had just come in, and who was having his clothes brushed by a waiter, as Mr. Hill. He ap-peaded to him for Identification, but this was by no means satisfactory. Officer Russell took him to a safe place, and then returned to see Mr. Hill. This person, in the mean time, had suddenly departed, and when last seen, he was hastening out Sanson street. On the person of the prisoner was found a glazier's diamond, a very convenient article for re-moving a pane of glass. There were also found a slavere-button, with initials marked thereon. The prisoner, on being arraigned, was subjected to a pretty close oranination. "What is your name," said the magistrate. "unnes Loogan."
