

Cre Press.

MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1864.

WE HAVE to announce that on and after the first day of August the rates of THE PRESS will be as follows:

For one year, $10 per annum, payable in advance; for one month, $1 per month, payable in advance; for one week, $0.25 per week, payable in advance.

THE WEEKLY PRESS. Mailed to subscribers $10 per annum; $2.50 for six months; $1.50 for three months; $0.50 for one month. Subscribers out of the city $0.50 per month; $2.50 for three months; $5.00 for six months; $10.00 for one year.

THE SITUATION. GEN. GRANT is now making good the promise, not so much of his words, as of his character. Few attentive observers of the man and the situation have failed to suspect, underlying the apparent inactivity of the army, one of those explosive events for which the modest hero of Vicksburg and the terrible campaign to Richmond is characterized.

The invasion. The burning of Chambersburg was an event unparaltered in the war, and certainly only surpassed by such villainies as the massacre at Fort Pillow. What military advantage did the rebels gain from this new triumph over the Union army? It is the least of modern war to retain, and which makes the difference between civilized and barbarous nations in their battles? Positively none. The invasion has not been aided in any way, and the sole result has been a military success which it is difficult to exaggerate.

Recruiting for Philadelphia in the South. It is fortunate that a business at once so delicate and so important as that of recruiting for Philadelphia in the States in general and in the Southern States in particular, should have been undertaken by the Pennsylvania Committee for Colored Enlistments. That body has the confidence of the community as well as the experience necessary for the enterprise.

WASHINGTON. INTERESTING TO ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN. A circular has been issued by the Adjutant General's office, that on and after this date men of the colored race who are desirous of enlisting in the army of the United States may do so at any time and place.

THE COMMITTEE HAS undertaken the trust now confided to it by the determination of the Government to send to the front the colored men of this country. It is hoped that the interests of Philadelphia faithfully represented in all the military districts stretching from Vicksburg to Hilton Head.

THE REBEL MOVEMENTS NORTH. No measure worthy of the Government is being taken to give aid to the rebels. The Government is doing its duty, and the rebels are doing theirs. The Government is doing its duty, and the rebels are doing theirs.

THE PENNSYLVANIA who is loyal enough to fight is loyal enough to vote. Let this be remembered to-morrow.

The Election To-morrow.

The three amendments proposed to the State Constitution are all important, but the first is the most important. It is the great question, and in fact a principle more thoroughly a part of the Democratic creed, and more plainly in harmony with nature, than justice was ever before submitted to the people.

Whatsoever misfortune the war may bring to localities, the general situation is encouraging. We are still called to exercise patience, but never were so moderately taxed for this virtue—the test and aid of nations and generals. While the war is going on at Petersburg, the guns have not done firing at Atlanta.

THE BURNING OF CHAMBERSBURG. The burning of Chambersburg was an event unparaltered in the war, and certainly only surpassed by such villainies as the massacre at Fort Pillow. What military advantage did the rebels gain from this new triumph over the Union army?
