FOBEIGN NOTES.

THE KING OF SPAIN'S VISIT TO PARIS.-The Yaits correspondent of the Times says: The King of Spain, Don Francisco de Assis, has the advan-tage of being descended from Philip V., and Philip V. was, as everybody knows, the grandson of Louis XIV. An entertainment reviring the peou-liar (dversions of the Court of the "Grand Mo-marque," it has been suggested to the Empress, would be most appropriate on the occasion of the visit. Accordingity, a piece has been selected for the amusement of his Spanish Majesty which was ori-sit ally written for the Court revels when Louis XIV. was in the yery prime of manhood and fush of pleasure. The piece is "Psyche," which, though included in the popular editions of Moliere's works, is not entirely from his hand, as may be seen by the publisher's notice prefixed to the edition of 1071: "This work is not the work of one hand. M. Quinault composed the works in the strate distributed in the propular distri-buted it, and in doing so attached more importance to the beauty and pomp of the speciale than it of thon, he has not had time to compose it all. The ton, he has not had time to compose it all. The ton, he has not had time to compose it shilts the verse in the direct consolited him in the meenselity of accepting assistance. Thus it is that the prologing, and the first of the lice of the there King, who wished to give this magnificent entertain-ment form and the first of the third only are by him. M. Corretile (the prest Cornellie) completed him in the had ordered." The picce is unworthy of Mo-liere's genous, and bears all the marks of the haste in which it was approaching; and the news his Miniety found himseli served within the time he had ordered." The picce is unworthy of Mo-liere's genous, and bears all the marks of the haste in which it was written. It is, as its name imports, when from mythology, and Jupiter, Venus, Love, it is a solution of the contract of the last of the last of which it was written. It is, as its name imports, then from mythology, and Jupiter, Venus, Love, lo Graces, a river god, &c., flurre in it. It will e represented at Versallies, and no cost spared to to represented at Versailles, and no cost spared to bring it out with a magnificence surpassing even that of Louis XLV. The Emperor's admirable let-ter the other day on the impropriety of spending money on the opera house while the destitute and the suffering were waiting for the new Hotel Dieu was, it is to be supposed, never meant to refer to, the court festivities. It was at first said that the characters in "Psyche" would be presented by per-sens attached to the court, under the special super-intendence of M. Bacclochi, who directs the impe-rial revels; but this fidea was, for some reason or other, given up, and, consequently, "his Majestrys ordinary comedians" 'of the Theatre Francais will have the honor of appearing on the present oc-casion.

A PHASE OF "CIVILIZED" LIFE.—A CORRESPOND-ent writes to the Times: Ten days since, walking through the Green Park, my notice was drawn to a panting dog lying beside a man sleeping in the brolling sun. I went up to awaken and beg tim to give the poor beast water, and to move his place of rest into shade, which was at hand. What did I see f A shirless, shoeless, carcely clothed wretch. What had he to say 1 "Out of work; could not get work; for nine days he had lived on what he could plok up. The dog was astray; had showed him to the police; police would not be troubled with him. Had slept for eight nights in the parks. Had been a solder, discharged for bad oyes," &c. A little in these a small crowd, parkly within the railings of St. James' park, parkly in the Mail. Those within the rail were looking at and encouraging two miserable girls, of ten or twelve, a blow on the eye, did not like to come to the scratch again, and was sheering off; the other pursued her with taunts and menuce. "Come on; come on, I say. 1'll fight yer; you haint got half enough yet iggt 1 have seldom witnessed. A few warning words and the ready support of some decent by-standers speedily dispersed this assemblage of young rufianiam. There was no park keeper, no the spot where the scene I have sketched pased to the Horse Guards-though I saw plenty of other objects which, to my appre-hension, required their presence-and the scann of the earth which created this unseemly gre-sence. Yesterday, sir, the 4th of August, I was again a casual paser irom the Horse Guards to St. James. Within the park rail, huddled in sleep or torpor against the four elms mit parks, that such scenes should be exhibited in this Christian land the How shall I describe them 'A has i sir, no pen, no perile when is helf to were three grouped in miserable astemblage in the persons of young women and oblidren, packed and knot one-tenth as compared with the six preceding hours of the day. "The number of females who committed suicide is scarcely more than a fifth of that of the male sex. It is a striking proof of the influence of misery on suicide-unless, indeed, it be an evidence of a super-stitions dread-that only about one in six of the sui-cides was buried at the expense of his family or friends." Don Quixote Dramatized. A melo-drama, founded upon the renowned his-tory of "Don Quixote," is the latest sensation in Paris. The playwright was M. Sardou, and the theatre where the play is performed is the Gym-nase. The London Times' correspondent thus de-scribes the effect: "The incidents in 'Don Quixote,' that have been dramatized by W. Sardou for the Currence was a construct of Levari Facias, to me directed, will be ex-transitions of the sui-the set offect:

Most BLANG. --The ascents of Mont Blanc (says Galignani) have this year increased in an ex-traordinary manner. There were not less than eight in one week. The ascentionists were Mr. Edward Blore, Mr. Frederick Cliambers Filton, Messrs. Joseph and Ernest Beck, Mr. A. Macomb Chance, Mr. Birkbeck, Mr. Relly, and Messrs. H. and P. Notman Prance, all English. The last four are members of the Alpine Club. The others were Mr. Frederick Cliami, M. Manuel d'Daretta, a Spaniard, and M. Gabriel de Rainine, of Lausane. The ascent to the Grands Muleis has also been performed by three young ladies, Misses Josephine, Blanche, and Grace Perkins, be-ionging to the family of the London brewer. The mumber of tourists who had arrived at Chamounix, up to the 6th, was 3,438.

It a anount." MINTAREN IDENTITY.—An anusing mistake on the part of an illustrated paper at Paris is recorded. A photograph of Baron Beust, the representative of Germany at the Congress, was to appear, and a sketoh of his life was wanted to accompany it. In a Gallery of Contemporaries the name of Beust was discovered, and the life transferred to the paper, without the editor observing that, instead of the ralogist and surveyor of mines. So far from clear-ing up the mistake, this difference of occupation tended only to magnify it, ifor on coming to a work which referred purely to mines, the French journal-ist exclaimed, "Quel hommel—not only a great tatesman, but equally great even in this depart-ment!"

DELIGATE SUBGICAL OPERATION.—The French ment!" DELIGATE SUBGICAL OPERATION.—The French papers foll of the success of a curious surgical ope-rution, heretofore considered impossible. A young girl, turning her head too quickly, dislocated some of the upper cervical vertebre. A paralysis of the lower limbs and the trunk ensued, the diaphragm alone retaining its sensation. Apparently the pa-tient had but a few hours to live. M. Maisonneuve resolved to attempt to bring the vertebre into their former position. With the assistance of a fellow and the chin, and gave a gentle rotary motion to the former position. The paralysis ceased almost im-mediately, and, a week aiter, the patient was able to walk as though nothing had happened to her. A BONNET FOR THE PENDOR, OF WALES.—The
