ABRATAM LINCOLN.—Abraham Lincoln entersi Hinois a portionless, illiterate boy, earning the Bwellhood of his widowed mother's family by the redest and hardest manual labor, and, within twen-ty years thereafter, had become one of her foremost hwyers and the acknowledged leader of the more intellectual of her two great political parties— conspicuous in her Legislature, her only Whig member of Congress, Whig candidate for Senato-rial Elector, U. S. Senator, Vice-President, and altimately for President. All these positions were accorsed to him without contest or hesitation. When the graat political 'struggles of 1840 and 1842' were made, none other than he was suggested to lead in the canvas. When, for the first time, his political friends had a majority in the Illinois Legislature, no other was thought of by the mass of thom for United States Senator, though it was finally found necessary, in order to secure the requisite anti-Nebraska Demo-cratic votes, to withdraw him and causticute another. At Philadelphia, in 1856, his name, and only his, was presented for Vice President by the delegation from Illinois; and when a candidate was to be pitted systams Douglas for the Senatorial canvass of 1858, no other name was even suggested than that competition as to which State should furnish the Republican nominee for President; but no one ever suggested that among the eminent and henored Republicans of Illinois there was another possible candidate than Lincoln.—Tribune. exsing. ANDREW JOHNSON.—Andrew Johnson entered Tennessee an illiverate tailor youth, poor as Laza-rus in all bat hops and ambition, without a relative or friend who could help him to a corporalship in the smallest company of "Boodwood" militia. A few years later he was a member of Assembly; naxt we haar 'from him in Congress; then Governor of his closely-balanced State, after a spirited canvass, for Tannessee was then preponderently a Whig State, and her Whigsalways ran for Governor one of their albest and cloverest debaters. Johnson had always been a very ardent and metive Democrat, and had mede himself widely obnoxious to his political ad-versaries. His birth and bredding were matters of common notoristy, and the cuitivated aristocracy of Nashville and the surrounding region were not at all inclined to be ruled by the ex-journeyman tailor of Jonesborough. They could not help them-selvas, however; and Johnson, after sorving his term as Governor; was chosen to the United States Senate, where he made good his position against the ablest and product in the land. TREE AREAHAMILIZOUN A REPRESENTATIVE MAN.-The Springfield Republican prints a glowing eulogy upon the life and course of President Lincoln, from which we take the following: "People may say what they will of the Fresident, they cannot possi-bly put their hand upon or point to any other man in the Republic who represents to the people, north and south of Mason's and Dixon's line, and to the whole civilized world, so much of the honest loy-alty and the real democratic principle of the country as Abraham Lincoln. He stands out from 'all the men of his section and his time-and not' alone by reason of his office-as the representative of the republication, and the friend of the Union and the Constitution, and the foc of all class privilege and class domination. Every man, loose from the bondage of political am-bition, and loose from the greed of power and the love of slavery, thinks well of Abraham Lincoln, and casts in his lot with him. Thousands of Demo-crats, converted to freedom by the war, have, from the moment of their conversion, become his friends. His way of saving the country is recognized as the only way. Tal Schenck describes the Chicago platform in a speech at Hamilton, Chio, on Saturday, as follows: "The truth, is, that neither you nor I, nor the Democrats themselves, can tell whether they have the very of a war ticket. THE PEACE MEN IN COUNCIL.—A meeting of about fity Peace Democrats washeld on Saturday evening at the Saint Nicholas Hotel, to take action upon the best means of organizing a Peace party, and of selecting a peace candidate for the Presi-dency. The meeting was called: to order by Mr. Mullally, the editor of The Metropolitan Record, who was then chosen President. A mong the gentlemen present were Messrs. Orton, of The Day-Book, Mac-Masters, of The Preeman's Journal, Ben Wood, of The Daily News, Singleton and Green, of Illinois, George K. Shell, 'of Oregon, S. T. Bruit, of New York, Chauncey Burr, W. T. Smith, Anderson, and others. All the members present seemed to be moved by the bitterest feelings against General McClel-lan, denouncing him as having broken his piedge to the Democratic party, thereby compromising its enemies in the ensuing election. Messrs. Sheil, Singleton, and Chauncey Burr were among the prominent speakers of the evening, and S. T. Bruit, of New York, presented the following resolution as the sense of those present: Resolved, That the call be addressed to the Jeffer-sonian Democratis, to meet at Cincinnati, Ohio, in the course of the presenting that branch of the Democrate, ratio party which the letter of Gen. It re-mains to be seen whether the Copperheads, who now threaten to bolt the Democratic nomination, will dare put to sea on that rotten and discarded plank. If they should, it is clear they cannot sur-vive the first onset of the breakers ahead. The agreement of the candidates of the leading parties for the perpetuation of the Union at all hazards and at any cost must also convince the rebels that they have little to hope for in the way of Northern reac-tion in their behalf, and that they must eventually succumb unless they can roll back the, tide of war now so strongly setting towards complete. Parties from the front report to-day that an extraordinary change has been caused in the political sontiment of the army by McClellan's letter. His feeble expressions have disgusted the soldiers."-Tribunge. Curators.-In the Ohicago Convention the plat-form came first. In the canvass, by one wing of the harmonious party represented in that conclave, the platform is put last. Again, by the same wing, so reticent as to the resolutions, the talk is all of Mc-Clellan and his letter. What Mr. Pundleton.may think or say, if, indeed, he be allowed to say any-thing, is treated as of no account. Yetwe are told the honest, patrictic party, in a most conciliatory spirit, is a unit.
