PERSONAL. - A correspondent of the New York Times, wrlting from New Orleans, says: I see that there have been some promotions and changes in that truly valuable branch of the service, the Signal Corps. Captain Marston, formerly chief signal officer, De-partment of the Gulf, has been promoted to the position of major, and attached to the staff of the com-manding general. A more fitting or deserved appointment could not have been made. A thorough scholar, a complete soldier, and perfect gentleman, Major Marston is one whom his men love and his officers admire. If the Government will get more such officers in the army, its efficiency will be more than doubled. - Maj. Gen. McCall, the organizer of the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, a steady Democrat of many years standing, and the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Chester district in 1862, comes out in opposition to McClellan. The Harrisburg Telegraph, which apprises us of this fact, says that he opposes McClellan for his personal unfitness and his utter perfidy in accepting a nomina-tion at the hands of men who ignore the justice of the struggle to crush treason, and treat the valor of our brave defenders as a mere exhibition of the brute force of ruthless invaders. These are arguments sufficient to turn every soldier in disgust from McClellan.

- The Army and Navy Journal says the young man who disgraced himself by running away with Belle Boyd, as she is called, cannot in any sense be regarded as a representative of our navy. Having had some little experience on merchantmen, he was appointed in our navy, and at the time of his desertion he bore the rank of acting ensign. During his service at sea he distinguished himself chiefly by writing letters to a New York daily newspaper. Being a weak-minded fellow, he was easily led into dishonor by the woman he had under his charge. - Edward Everett's name has been placed at the head of the Massachusetts electoral ticket. This position was given as well on account of his eminence as a scholar and orator as for the patriotic stand he has taken and maintained against the ro-bellion and its purposes.

We have already announced the arrival of Prof. Goldwin Smith in this country, and stated his claims to the respect of the country. A correspondent makes a very good suggestion concerning him, and we would like to see it carried out. He proposes that a public invitation be extended to him to visit this city. We hope the suggestion will be noted. Two Pennsylvania officers—Lieutenant Colonel Frank T. Bennett, 55th Pennsylvania, and Lieu tenant Colenel George A. Fairlamb, 148th Pennsylvania-have just been released from Libby Prison. A friend of the officers, who gives us the above information, says Captain George K. Brady, 14th United States Infantry, a resident of Bellefonte, Centre county, is still confined, with some prospect of early deliverance. His health is, however, very good, and he bears well the hardships of imprison-

- Col. James P. Brownlow, a son of the brave Parson Brownlow, after fighting from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and even in the Stoneman raid, was sent back to Nashville to meet the Wheeler raid, where a ball passed through both thighs, as he sat in his saddle, making a desperate charge at the head of his gallant regiment. As we learn by a letter from Parson Brownlow to Mr. Geo. Childs, of this city, the wound is very severe, but the colonel "is game to the last." This young officer entered the service in his 19th year as a private, and in the last two and a half years has been in seventy engagements. The Parson's other son led his regiment of cavalry in the Greenville fight, at which Morgan was killed by Andrew Campbell, a private of a Tennessee re.

This distinguished hero arrived in Philadelphia on Saturday night, and proceeded to Burlington, N. J. On arriving at the depot, at Broad and Prime streets, he took a carriage, proceeded to Walnut-street wharf, crossed the river, and returned at noon yesterday. At Camden a number of people were present, and on learning that the great general was in the train, cheered him vociferously as he passed to the boat. On arriving at Walnut-street wharf he took passage in a buggy and drove rapidly towards the southwestern part of the city. His movements are so speedy that even the telegraphic reporters cannot keep pace with them. The telegrams relative to his movements are all at fault.

SWORDS AND REVOLVERS PRESENTED. A very gratifying scene took place at Camp Cadwalader on Saturday afternoon—that of the presentation of eight swords and two revolvers to officers of Companies A, B, C, and D, of the 199th Regt. P. V., under the command of Colonel A. A. Lechler. These presentations were made by the men of the companies to their officers. The soldiers were drawn up in the form of a hollow square; the band of the regiment being present, performed a variety of patriotic airs. The swords were arranged on a table; in the centre of the square formed by the companies in the centre of the square formed by the companies.
The officers to receive the weapons were drawn up on both sides of the tables.
Mr. Charles Buckwalter made the speech of preon the Company of the Market in a specific of presentation in a neat and appropriate manner, to the following named officers: Captain J. G. Smith, Company D; Captain J. C. Shuler, Company A; Captain O'Donnell and Captain Cooper, Lieutenant Gregory, Lieutenant Stephens, Lieutenant C. M. Heroid, of Companies C and D, and Adjutant Fitzerard ant Gregory, Lieutenant Stephens, Lieutenant C.
M. Herold, of Companies C and D, and Adjutant Fitzgerald.

On behalf of the recipients Capt. Murphy delivered a brief and patriotic address.

After these ceremonies were over, the men gave three cheers and a tiger for Col. Lechler, and then three more for the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the regiment. The band now performed the "Star Spangled Banner," and the line of march was taken up to the headquarters of Col. Lechler, where a soldier's collation was served up and brief speeches were delivered. Col. Lechler was complimented in, the usual manner, to which he responded briefly, and expressed an ardent hope that the recipients would soon have an opportunity to die—(here the Colonel paused for a moment, and finished the sentence by saying)—dye their weapons in traitors' blood. [Applause] He felt sure that the swords would never be disgraced by the recipients, but that they would be unsheathed in defence of that bright fiag (here the Colonel pointed to the American ensign floating gracefully at the entrance of the tent), never to be returned to the scabbard until each star shone out in dazzling refulgence in all parts of the land in triumph over traitors in the South and the North. The Colonel here retired with enthusiastic applause.

Captain Smith responded very handsomely to a South and the North. The Colonel here retired with enthusiastic applause.

Captain Smith responded very handsomely to a sentiment. He was brief and to the point. He accepted the sword, and it would be wielded in the means of our country. It should not rest in its scabbard while a rebel remained in arms against the good old flag, the love of the patriot, the admiration of the world. He believed that he represented all hard while a febel remained in arms against the good old flag, the love of the patriot, the admiration of the world. He believed that he represented all the recipients, that these swords would never be wielded in oppression's cause, but they would be always ready, and if needs be bathed in the blood of the enemics of this great and glorious country.

The Capitain's remarks were received with rounds of anylesse. As the bright win was shalled in the of applause. As the bright sun was sinking in the west, his mellow rays adding a shade of orange hue to things terrestrial, the ceremonies were concluded, and thus we end our brief notice of a happy occasion.

Col. Lechler's regiment is receiving additional recruits daily. He is a pleasant officer, a strict disciplinarian, and one who has seen considerable service in the field. Compliments were tendored to Paymaster Snyder, Major C. M. Berry, and others, and a most agreeable time prevailed to break the monotony of camp life in a peaceful region. OFFICERS FOR COLORED REGIMENTS. The following students of the Free Military School in this city for applicants for the command of colored troops, passed a successful examination before the Board of Examiners at Washington last week, and were recommended for the position ramed:
For Captains—Isaac W. Hysinger, sergeant, 19th Pennsylvania Cavalry; Augustus Schmuch, corporal, 155th Pennsylvania Infantry.
For First Lieutenants—Robert W. Davis, sergeant, 19th Pennsylvania Cavalry; Everett S. Smith, civilian, Ohio.
For Second Lieutenants—Private Hungerford, 1st Pennsylvania Artillery; William K. Cessno, sergeant, 23d Ohio Volunteers; John McKenely, corporal, 22d New York Volunteers; Lewis B. Smith, private, 2d Pennsylvania Reserves.

Boston Markets, September 17.

CORN EXCHANGE.—The receipts since yesterday have been 6,472 bbls Flour and 46,400 bus Corn. The demand for Flour is fair, and the market firm. There have been sales of Western superfine Flour at $10,50 @10.75, common extra at $11@11.50, medium do at $11.50@12.25, and good and choice, including favorite St. Louis brands, at $12.50@15 $\pi$ bbl. Southern Flour is quiet and nominal. Corn is in limited demand at $1.72 for Western mixed, and Southern yellow is scarce and nominally $1.80 $\pi$ bus. Oats continue dull, and have been sold at 90@95c for Northern and Canada. Rye is quiet at $2 $\pi$ bus. Shorts $46@47, and Fine Feed is scarce and would bring an advance on late prices.

PROYISIONS.—Pork is firm, and transactions small at $40 for prime, $42@44 for mess, and $45@47 for clear, cash. Beef ranges from $20@28 $\pi$ bbl for Eastern and Western. Lard is selling at 25c $\pi$ b in bbls and tierces, and Smoked Hams at 19@21c $\pi$ b. Butter is selling at 48@50c $\pi$ for good and choice. Cheese is steady, with sales at 15@22c $\pi$ h, as to quality. A new counterfeit five dollar note, Union Bank of Philadelphia, made its appearance publicly on Police items of an interesting nature were scarce on Saturday and yesterday. The Central Station was exceedingly dull. The only cases heard there yesterday morning were for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the public streets on the night before. SCARCE: DESPERADOES. DESPERADOES.

We learn from a reliable gentleman that, yesterday morning, a gang of disorderly young men made an attack on the Blue Bell Tavern, on the Darby road, and drove the proprietor, Mr. Lloyd, out of the house, and then did just as they pleased. They helped themselves to liquor and other things generally, and fired deadly weapons at people on the highway. We did not learn that any arrests were made. The whole proceedings are described to us as being outrageous and disgraceful in the extrema.

There are no indications of any scarcity of money, nor any indisposition to lend i freely to stock-brokers with stocks at their present low prices. The decline in gold is producing a general de cline in the price of commodities, and the fall, if per-manent, will release a certain amount of the money now absorbed in merchandise, throwing so much more upon the open market. The large amounts being paid on account of the late loan, in anticipation of the instal-ments falling due, will bring a return of the money upon the market earlier than was expected. The stock market on Saturday was somewhat irregular, and prices generally tended downward. Govern-ment loans opened strong, and at an advance on Friday's rates. At the close, however, the '31s sold down to 108%, and the 5-20s at 103%. A lot of 10 40s sold at to 108%, and the 5-20s at 103%. A lot of 10 40s sold at 97%. State and city securities were steady. Pennsylvania 5s brought 98, an advance of %. Of company bonds, the only sales were North Pennsylvania 5s at 99; Susquehanna Canal 6s at 66; Huntingdon and Broad Top second mortgage at 98. The share list was inactive; Pennsylvania Railroad closed at 74, Camden and Amboy at 158, Little Schuylkill at 46%, Long Island at 48, and Catawissa preferred at 30%, the latter a decline. There were large sales of oil stocks at about previous rates. There was little doing in canal shares; Schuylkill Navigation preferred sold at 39%; 33 was bid for Schuylkill Navigation common, and 138 for Morris Canal bonds. City passenger railroad shares were without change; Second and Third sold at 70; 60 was bid for Fifth and Sixth, and 30, for Green and Coates. Bank shares were SIXID, and 30 101 Clear and Coates. Bank snares were firm, with sales of Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank at 66 @66%, which is a slight advance; 162 was bid for North America, 132% for Philadelphia, 66 for Commercial, 23 for Mechanics, 40 for Penn Township, 27% for Manufacturers' and Mechanics', 46 for Commonwealth, and 16% for Union. Gold closed on Saturday at 2211/4. The following new national banks have been authorized: First National Bank, Lockhaven, New York;

The demand for coal from this region has not been as brisk for the last two weeks as heretofore, although the shipments are still large. Prices have receded in con-sequence, from 50 cents to $1 a ton on most kinds of coal, particularly for fine quality, which is always the case when the market is dull. The fall weather is causing a little more activity, and no further decline in prices may be anticipated.

The business of marine insurance is one of considerable competition, at present, in London. At the present date there are in London thirteen first-class marine inaurance offices, and several minor ones, chiefly branches of Indian and Colonial Associations, which, however, transact an amount of business equal to some of the established companies of London, estimating it by the gross amount of premiums received. This great increase of eight in four years shows that this branch of monetary investment must have been lucrative. It also manifests that trade must have increased, or that the old of mpanies have lost much of the business they for-merly had. It is generally admitted that there was room for some, if not for all, of these fresh competitors for the large insurance business of London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Bristol, and other important towns, which supplied so much to the wealth of the old offices, and allowed them, by the monopoly they had, to keep up the rates of premium. One great effect of the introduction has been to lower the rates of insurance in some branches of the business, as by that means business is obtained, and, with a greater diversity of risks, wealth is acquired. The only objection is, whether the organization of so many new undertakings may not prove more than the actual necessity requires.

The Fleur market is dull and prices are not so firm. Sales comprise about 2,500 bbls at $11.75@12

75 for extra family, and $11.50 per bbl for extra.

The retailers and bakers are buying in a small way at from $10.50@11 for superfine; $11.50 for extra; $11.75@12.25 for extra family, and $12.75@13 per bbl for fancy brands as to quality. There is very little doing in either Rye Flour or Corn Meal.

GRAIN.—There is not much doing in Wheat, and buyers and sellers are apart in their views. Small sales are making at 245@250c for old reds, and 255@258c for new reds. New Delaware is offered at 260c $\(\frac{2}{2}\) bush. White ranges at from 275@255c per bush as to quality. Rye is quiet, with small sales at 180@183c per bush. Corn is dull; small sales of prime yellow are making at 171@172c, and Western mixed at 170c per bush. Oats are without change; 2,000 bush New Delaware sold at 90c, and old at 95c $\(\frac{2}{3}\) bush.
