eing, and will continue to hold it Colonel H. H. K. Elliott has returned to this city with the body of his son, Lieut. Harry Elliott, who was murdered in Indianapolis and robbed of everything upon his person. His body bore the marks of ten wounds. There was an incision in the breast, the soalp was cut from the back part of his head, as though with a hatchet, the forehead over the eye had received a cut, the upper lip was cut open the throat had received three stabs, and as there were also other wounds on the body, shows that the gallant lieutenant must have made a desperate struggle before he was subdued. Notwithstanding the terrible nature of the outrage, no investigation was made in Indianapolis. The coroner took possession of the body and buried it without inquirity whose it was or how he was killed. The sorrow-stricken father learned of the death from the quartermaster's department. The mayor and police made no attempt to discover the murderer. It is the intention of Col. Elliott to publish an account of his visit to the city, and his interview with the authorities. It is said that Indianapolis is full of scoundrels, and that murder and robbery are common, and that the police make no efforts to prevent them. The residents of the city are consequently obliged to go armed. THE LATE LIEUT. HARRY ELLIOTT. being and the hold it the November election as the head-rs of the Union army for this district. If we judge by his, either the Southern people are at the starvation point or they are a nation of devils. The opening of the Mississippi, which had been so well described by Carl Schurz in his speech on the great issues of the day, as a continuation of the sa for three thousand miles into the interior, was not our only magnificent triumph. There were others renecting their glory of those who achieved them, as well as on the people of the North. Touching on the absurd charges of the Democratic party, as set forth in the Chicago platform, he took occasion to show from authentic documents, etc., that Gen. [Great applause.] There is a great bugbear scared up when the freedom of the slaves is talked of. Democrats say that they will come here to the North to compete with the white man in the walks of skill and labor. This the speaker indignantly denied as impossible. He had spent an apprentice-ship as a pearl and diamond cutter. Every workman had the same apprenticeship to serve in his particular calling. Could it be supposed that these beings, degraded by their masters, and whose only knowledge of labor was that gained in hoting the fields, Grant paid a flying visit to the city on Saturday night. Yesterday he took a walk up Chestnut street, where he attracted much attention. He looked at prominent places along the line of the street, and was particularly struck with the palatial appearance of the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605, above Sixth. In this connection Nr. Kelley argued that the effects of climate on the race would enforce their stay in the South. There the negro attains great age, and children throng around him. In the North the negro and his children pine, and the race deteriorates and dies. This law holds true when natives of the North attempt to labor or live in the South. them to a ripe old age is decidedly more beneficial and appropriate. In Central America, a tropic climate, a little railroad cost 7,000 lives—the lives of the laborers who wrought upon it. We do not want the negro North; he is not fitted for it; but he will do as a soldier to enforce the Monroe doctrine. I do not believe in expatriating him. We will send him to Mexico, and he will kick Napoleon's august cousin into the sea. What harm will it do to allow them to remain in the South? What harm will it do to any one engaged in any calling? Mr. Charles Buckwalter was introduced. He made a few remarks upon the wrongs of woman, and then gave way to Mr. Fred Van Cleve, whe was one of a committee appointed to visit the President relative to increasing the wages of the workingwomen in the employ of the Government, and who read the following letter from him:

Mr. Van Cleve advised the working women to pursue the course of action adopted by the journeymen tailors, and fix a scale of prices for their labor, and that if all other efforts falled, they must make strike. He also advised the formation of working women's associations in every ward, in order that every plan of action resolved upon by the central association should be faithfully and unanimously adhered to all over the city.

Mr. Richardson was the next speaker. He concurred in recommending the formation of ward associations. Mr. Richardson then expatiated upon what he deemed the causes of the hardships of the working women. In doing this he very unwisely began a political harangue, for which he was properly rebuked by a lady in the andience.

Mr. William Munday, an English working man, related a story of a working men's union in London, to which he belonged, and which, on the occasion of a disagreement with their employers, by a firm and decided strike, threw twelve of their "bosses," who defied them, into the workhouse. J. W. BRADLEY'S This invention consists of Euplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible, and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and fiexibility, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objection to hoop ekirts, viz: the apnoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupying a small space. This satirely removes the difficulty while giving the Skirt, the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade, or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable, and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this city and throughout the different States. Inquire for the DOUBLE ELLIPTIC SPRING SKIRTS. To addition to the very liberal interest on the note for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. pre mium, and before the war the premium on six-per-cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty percent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, of the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum. Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation. But aside from all the advantages we have enumers ted, a special act of Congress exempts all Bonds and Treasury Notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cont. per annum. according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the It is believed that no securities offer so great induce ments to lenders as those issued by the Government In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.
