The Henry Guards, Captain John Spear, made a street parade yesterday, and proceeded to Whitemarsh, where they fired at a target for four prizes. The judges appointed were Messis. Jacob L. Haas, Charles Hogan, William Jacoby, J. C. Fuller, Samuel Arrison, and Philip H. Miller. The firing as a company was excellent. The judges awarded the prizes as follows: First prize, John Nutt; second do., John Kelso; third do., Henry Reif; leather medal, Arthur Scott.

The Guards started from the city between eight and nine o'clock yesterday morning, and returned about nine o'clock last evening, keeping step to the music of the Liberty Band. The occasion was a happy one. It was a day to be remembered with THE DEBATE HENRY GUARDS' TARGET PRACTICE. ON HIS WAY TO HOOD'S ARMY-ADVICES FROM GEORGIA. The Richmond Enquirer, of the 26th inst., contains the following account of Early's defeat at Fisher's Hill : Fisher's Hill:

Official despatches received on the 23d state that the enemy attacked General Early late yesterday
(23d) at:Fisher's Hill; and succeeded in forcing back
compelled him to abandon the position, leaving twelve pieces of cannon in their hands, though leaving but few men. losing but few men.

The official news published above was sufficiently actounding for one day, after the public had become pretty well assured that no further retrograde would be made, the assurance arising from the known pretty well assured that no further retrograde would be made, the assurance arising from the known strength of the position selected by General Early. It seems, however, that the enemy so largely outnumbered our forces, especially in cavalry, the favorite arm of Sheridan, that the strength of the position availed nothing against an overwhelming hank movement. Our cavalry, weakened by their losses on Monday, were in no condition on Thursday to resist treble their number moved against them, and gare way, thus exposing the rear of the position at Fisher's Hill. This compelled a hasty abandonment of the place, and a rapid retreat upon New Market, in Shenandoah, where General Early is said to have determined once to make a stand. But the enemy continuing to press him in front and flank, he fell back on Friday to Harrisonburg, and on Saturday passed through Port Republic, and stopped at a post station known as Keezletown, about thirteen miles from Staunton, and six from Port Republic, on the road between the valley turnpike and the South river road. The entire movement was made without what may be termed a fight, Gen. Early deeming it better strategy to avoid one than to risk one under the circumstances. On Friday, however, a flanking party from Sheridan's forces having penetrated the Page valley, with a view to retard any reinforcements that might have been on the route to Early from that direction, was encountered by a force of our cavalry and whipped. At last accounts, on yesterday, Early was still at Keczletown, where it was believed he would make a stand, although many fears were naturally expressed that he would continue his retreat. Many rumors were affoat, growing out of a confusion of the battle on Monday, and the retreat since Thursday, and representing terrific battles and appalling losses. It is hardly necessary to do more than mention the fact to clear up the confusion. The debate between the Hon. IW. D. Kelley, and Mr. Geo. Northrop was continued last evening. The interest manifested at the first meeting has not abated. The audience acted with becoming dignity, which, of course reflected credit upon the general intelligence of its members. CONTROLLERS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS. The board held a special meeting yester-day afternoon in reference to the death of Mr. Hoffman, a member of the board from the Fifteenth district Several specches were made eulogistic of the decessed, resolutions expressive of sympathy with the rela ives in the loss they have sustained were adopted, and the board further resolved to attend the funeral in a body. REPUBLICAN INVINCIBLES. Company B elected the following officers last evening at their meeting in National Hall: Colonel George P. McLean as captain, John M. Fox as first lieutenant, George W. Banks as second lieutenant, and Harry A. B. Williams as orderly sergeant. The roll of Cempany B is still open for members. CITY COUNCILS. A communication was received from the Second and Third-street Passenger Railway Company in reference to the use of a portion of said road by the Fairmount Passenger Railway Company.

Mr. Davis offered a resolution directing the Committee on Railways to report an ordinance defining how much is due by the Fairmount Passenger Railway Company to the Second and Third-street Passenger Railway Company. Adopted.

A communication was received from Mr. E. C. Knight presenting to the city a gig formerly owned by Stephen Girard, with the request that it be kept at Girard College. A resolution of thanks was adopted. sion.
Upon this news the Enquirer makes the following Upon this news the Enquirer makes the following comments: The enemy are following up their successes in the valley with great vigor. Sheridan is determined not to permit his opportunity to slip, by without making the most of it.

There seems to have been bad management in these affairs in the valley. The duty of ascertaining this, and taking steps to retrieve our fortunes, is with General Lee. As it could not be entrusted to abler and better hands, it is not necessary for the adopted.

A resolution to repair Wilmer street from Newmarket to Second street, Eleventh ward, with tramway stones, was read and referred to the Committee on Highways.

A resolution from Common Council, making an is with General Lee. As it could not be entrusted to abler and better hands, it is not necessary for the people to be over-anxious or very unhappy. For three years our fortunes have rested upon his broad shoulders, and, under Providence, he has brought our cause through. He has been heavily reinforced by the report for duty of Lieutenant General Longstreet, that "old war horse" who elicited the embrace of General Lee on the field of Sharpsburg. Longstreet comes back most opportunely to rectify affairs in the valley. Want of co-operation, more than the preponderating numbers of the enemy, has caused the late disasters in the valley. The presence of two lieutenant generals, the one not subordinate to the other, but intended to co-operate, has prevented, when there should have been concentration. The presence of Longstreet in the valley would restore unity of command and check the advance of the enemy. Notwithstanding the Iosses sustained in the late disasters, if some of the worthless horsemen that have been routed by the enemy could be brought to the trenches at Petersburg, and their places supplied by real cavalry, all our reverses may be repaired, and the valley preserved, if not reclaimed to the banks of the Fotomac.

From the first year of the war the valley of Virginia has been the scene of just such events as are transpiring there at present. General Jackson A resolution from Common Council, making an appropriation to repave Green street, from Twentein to Twenty-first streets, was referred to the same committee, together with a communication from the President of the Green and Coates-street Passenger Railroad Company on the subject.

A resolution was adopted, authorizing the grading of Albion street, between Race and Vine, at an expense of not more than $140.

The resolution from Common Council, asking the Mayor to use his influence to have the draft postponed, was agreed to. Mayor to use his influence to have the draft postponed, was agreed to.

The bill appropriating $97,300 to the Highway Department was taken up.

Mr. Armstrono (O.) moved to postpone and print the bill for the use of members.

This occasioned considerable debate and opposition. The Democrats refused to vote, leaving the Chamber without a quorum. After some further parliamentary skirmishing, the bill was postponed
—aves 18, nays 6. parliamentary skirmishing, the bill was postponed—ayes 18, nays 5.

Mr. Brightly (O.) called up the bill defining the boundaries of election districts in the Twenty first ward. It was passed.

The joint bill appropriating $80,000 for the erection of Chesnut street bridge was called up; but, on third reading, was dropped.

The ordinance appropriating $50,000 to aid by a city bounty of $50 the wards not yet out of the draft was taken up and passed. A communication was read from Prof. Saunders, recommending its passage. From the first year of the war the valley of Virginia has been the scene of just such events as are transpiring there at present. General Jackson marched down the valley and was driven back, and again advanced and retreated. General Sigel marched up and was whipped back; Hunter, after a complete victory over Jones, penetrated to the defences of Lynoaburg, and was hurled back, broken, routed, and ruined. Sheridan has now begun the same perilous rôle, and the same fate will befall him. Neither party can permanently hold the valley.

Wour people become elated by success, and they sink down to the deepest depression upon the first disaster. Have not three years of war taught them the lesson that the "morning cometh, but the night cometh also;" that victory is not always to be had, nor is defeat unbroken. The forces of the enemy have been greatly magnified and exaggerated. They did not number thirty thousand, all told—infantry, cavalry, and artillery. The infantry of the enemy is worth very little; but when permitted to be thrown in overwhelming numbers upon first one division and then upon a second, and then upon a third—when the cavalry of the enemy, picked and selected, are opposed by the disorganized and demoralized horsemen who remain behind the stragglers and horsedetails, it is not surprising that disaster should result. read from Prof. Saunders, recommending its passage.

The discussion on the highway appropriation bill was again taken up. It was opposed chiefly on account of the great addition it would be to the city debt, which it was asserted to be forty millions of dollars. This assertion, which was made and defended by Messrs. Armstrong, Brightly, Kamerly, and King, of the Opposition, was met by Mr. Spering (U.), who presented the following statement, which he said had been carefully prepared from the City Controller's books:

The funded debt of the city of Philadelphia, at this date, including $1,500,000 city loan, sold but not yet delivered or issued, and the offsets:

City loan free from tax.......$12,011,500 00 City loan subject to tax............$12,011,500 00 Warrants outstanding $1,000,000 00 JEFF DAVIS AT MACON.—A despatch to the E7 quirer, dated Macon, Geo., September 23, says: We were unexpectedly greeted this morning by the arrival of President Davis. He made a speech at the Baptist Church. He is going to General Hood's army. EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS IN GEORGIA.—A correspondent of the Columbus Times, writing from Lovejoy's Station, says:

Gen. Sherman has agreed to the proposition of Gen. Hood for exchange to the extent of two thousand, upon the basis of man for man. Lieut. Col. G. A. Henry, of Gen. Hood's staff, has charge of the management of this exchange on our side. Gen. Stoneman, the noted raider, is to be specially exchanged for Gen. Govan, our hero brigadier, who was captured at Jonesboro: Col. Smith, who was captured at the same time, and was reported killed, is to be exchanged with an equivalent for Capt. Buel (brother-in-law of Gen. John Adams), whom I reported captured only a lew days ago. These are the only special exchanges I know of.

Quite a number of ladies have had permission granted them by Generals Hood and Sherman to pass through the lines to the homes of relatives and friends in the North. Among them I noticed the wife of Brigadier General Maney, of Tennessee. Captain E—, of Tennessee, sent up an application to General Sherman, asking that his family be allowed to return home. Col. Warner endorsed upon the application, "General Sherman says that if Captain E— will return with his wife, and both of them behave themselves half as well as they know how to do, the application was sent up by the lady herself, and it came back endorsed, "Certainly—W. T. Sherman, General," in the Yankee general's own handwriting. Whether Sherman reconsidered his first endorsement, or failed to notice that it was the party applying, cannot be conjectured.

At a meeting of the Republican Invinctbles, held last evening, at the National Hall, Market street, another full company was formed, and the officers were elected. After the formation, loud cries were made for Mr. Thomas M. Coleman, who responded and spoke for nearly an hour, in which he alluded with thrilling effect to the recent victories in the Shenandoah valley, and the reports of a successful movement by a part of the army under the great General Grant. The meeting was decidedly one of the most enthusiastic of the season. THE DISSOLVING VIEWS NO MORE.

There are to be no more dissolving views at the Reystone Club headquarters, on Chestnut street, below Sixth, for substantial reasons, that may be stated as follows: A respectable, ingenious, and honest hearted German was employed for the purpose of exhibiting magic lantern scenes at the Reystone Club headquarters. The most of the exhibition was to consist of a display of the likeness of "Little Mac." The German entered upon the discharge of his duties, and so continued until Wednesday night, when he desired to be paid for services rendered. He was laughed at. He found to his uiter astonishment that he had been duped. Various suggestions and promises were made, but he would listen to "no compromise"—he wanted to be paid for the services he had rendered, and which he was justly entitled to. Not being able to obtain his just rights, he removed his apparatus to a place of safety on Wednesday night, and yesterday the "flag of truce" screen was taken down. The German was decidedly incensed at the manner in which he had been swindled. No responsible person stepped forward to aid him, and it was rather amusing to hear him detail his woes in language strongly tinged with the "sweet German accent." We herewith present a specimen, simply to enable the reades to form an idea of the richness of the affair.

"Shentlemons," said he, "vat calls me to exhibit CUTTING APPAIR AT THE ASHLAND HOUSE. James Whittaker was arraigned yesterday morning on the charge of committing a violent assault upon Wm. Thomas, with intent to kill. Both.parties are colored waiters at the Ashland House. On Wednesday evening they had a personal difficulty, which ended by Thomas being knocked down stairs. It is further alleged that the prisoner seized a hatchet and cut him in one of his feet. The prisoner denies using a hatchet, and states that he threw a dinner plate at him. The accused was held to answer. PR. A. H. STEVENS, ONE OF THE founders of this new system of treating diseases successfully by modified ELECTRICAL action, without shocks, announces that he has resumed his office duties for the treatment of diseases, at 1418 South PENN SQUARE, where, for the last three years, he has had almost unbounded success in cases pronounced incurable by medicine. The market house at the corner of Twelfth and Market streets, immediately next the Farmers' Market, will be thrown open to public inspection to morrow morning. The building is one of the prettiest of the kind erected in our city. The finest pressed brick was used in the construction. The roof is of wood, supported by substantial iron trusses and girders. The front, on Market street, is 76 feet, extending back to Filbert street, 306 feet. It is provided with three avenues, containing in all 245 stalls, all of which have been rented, and will be occupied on the day of opening. The building is well ventilated, and contains sixteen entrances. More room is allowed sellers and buyers than in most of our market houses, the avenues each being two feet wider than those in similar structures. A corrugated iron roof, supported by iron posts, extends over the pavement, in place of an awning, on Market, Twelfth, and Filbert streets. As a pile of architecture, it may be readily classified with the most beautiful and substantial improvements of the day. A market-house of this kind is certainly very badly wanted in the lower section of the city. The opening to-morrow will be an attractive event. HANDSOME IMPROVEMENT.
