seems to require still farther contributions and sacritia of his duties, would be unworthy to wear the name of an American ottizen. Our soldiers in the front were working out one por-tion of the great political problem at the "front"-we must war with our enemies here at home, in our own State-in our own otties. He announced, in conclusion, that time failed him for the delivery of his lecture on patriotic women, but that he would deliver it during the course of the coming week. Mr. Brown, as he retired, was loudly applauded. Mr. James A. Briggs, of New York, was then in-troduced. He made a very patriotic speech, in which he eulogized the late General Mansfield, who though aged and already deserving well of his coun-try, left behind the comforts so pleasant and cheer-ing to one of declining age, and again assumed mi-litary duties, to partake of the hardships of the field for the sake of the country. He continued at ability of our generals, and reminding the eitizens at home of their duty now and in the coming elec-tions. He was cheered throughout. tia of his duties, would be unworthy to wear seems to require still farther contributions and sacri-fices from the loyal citizens of the United States. Harmony of counsels and unity of spirit will make those contributions easy, and will exert upon the insurrection a moral power not inferior to the use of the sword of national justice itself. The Fresi-dent, therefore, invokes the efforts of all good and thoughtful men to produce that harmony and that unity as early and as effectually as may be possible. I have the honor to be, gentlemen, Your most obedient servant, WILLIAM H. SEWARD. On motion of Mr. Cressward be printed with the proceedings of the Association. Rev. Wm. Catheart called attention to the efforts being made by the Allentown congregation to build a meeting house. The sympathy and aid of the as-Sociation were invoked to aid the good cause. The arrangements which are being made by that patriotic body. of gentlemen forming the National Union League, for a magnificent display of fire-works on Saturday evening, in Independence Square, are very ample. The people of our city may anticipate a sciene of beauty that will far exceed any display ever made in this city, not even excepting that at Fisher's woods, twenty years since. The most consummate skill, and experience have been brought into requisition under the administra-tive abilities of Mr. Jackson. The great public may surely expect, if the weather be prosperous, a scene grandly sublime. The stately elms and the fall foliage will be re-dressed in fairy colors, and wave in the breeze of patriotism like a sea of flowers. The vast expanse above will be studded with myriads of pyrotechnic meteors ; pyrotechnic bombs will send forth, heavan-ward, a legion of shells to vie with the stars in bril-liancy'; rockste with red, white, and blue fires ; rock-ets bursting into all the beauty of the glorious old flag, will spread themselves in living fire, aud exoite the patriotic plaudits of the million. The more elaborate pieces to be fired in the Square, will consist of various cevices, emblems, and mottoes of a na-tional character, developing all the fine, brilliant, and parti-colored fires known in pyrotechny. No expense will be spared to make this display the finest ever seen in this city. BASE BALL. Quite a large number of the Democracy assembled at the Continental Theatre, last evening, to listen to an address of Horatio Seymour, of New York. The building was well filled, and the plat-form was occupied by a number of ladies. Gover-nor Seymour, on being introduced, was received with the usual expressions of applause, and made a dignified bow. After speaking at considerable length upon the questions of State sovereignty and the Constitution, he added that any Administration which would endeavor to retain itself in power by levying contributions on contractors enriched through its favors was guilty of a criminal offence, and in issuing -s circular of this character had placed itself in the power of the contractors. Sup-posing it should succeed to cffice, it was bound to support the contractors as they had supported it. The men who have enriched themselves by this war would say to it, "We have contributed our means to replace you in office and secure you cer-tain advantages." Thus both parties might trade interminably upon the money of the common peo-ple. It had been charged as a humiliation and re-proach to the Democratic party that it sympathized with the South, and that the South sympathized with it. Very well, if that is the case, is it not an excellent reason why the work of pacifica-tion and recondition be placed in our hands? If we are so clearly affiliated, with the 'Confederates, can we not make a better peaco, and make it more easily, than an Ad-ministration which has allenated even the Union of the South by vindictive legislation, which it has adopted in an evil moment? THE CITY.

POLITICAL.

Eq., was called to the chair. The following letter was read in the organization of the meeting: PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5, 1864. DEAR SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your invitation to address my fellow-citizers of the Sixth ward this evening. I regret very much that the nature of my engagements are such that I cannot be with you. I shall be with you, however, in sentiment, and, in my own way, shall do all in my power to secure the election of Lincoln and Johnson. Un-less we would be false to our promises and sa-crifices during the last three years-unless we would accept the humiliation of a national de-feat, which would degrade us in the eyes of the world-unless we would be untrue to the memo-rites of our dead brothers and friends, we must elect Lincoln and Johnson, and insist upon a continued and vigorous prosecution of the war. Therefore I am with you, gentlemen, in the declara-tion of the most radical sontiments. I am for eman-cipation, confiscation, subjugation. If we can save the Union by conciliation let it be done; but I think this war has taught us that the only mercy we shall even have the Quportunity of showing will be the mercy of the conqueror. When that time comes, when the South really sues for mercy and peace at the feet of the Republic, I shall be glad to be among those who will welcome it back. We must elect Abraham Lincoln, and at the same time surrender no one principle of his Ad-ministration. This canvass must not only endorse what he has done, but strengthen his hands for the work he has to do. We do not war for certitory, or boundary lines, or rivers, or sea-coasts, or mountain republican Government, whose corner stone will be liberty-whose flag will float over no slave-whose power will be with the oppressed and down-trodden in all lands. I am for aggrandizing and centralizing the Republic, and for continuing the war until we have conquered the rebellion, and have a army disciplined enough to sustain the Govern-ment in a

American continent. Thus thinking, I am for Abraham Lincoln, and shall labor to the end to accomplish his election. Regretting that I cannot meet you this evening, I am, very truly, your obedient servant

John Russell Young. A. B. SLOANAKER, Esq., Chairman of Committee

A. B. SLOANARBER, Esg., Chairman of Committee on Meetings. William B. Mann, Esg., District' Attorney, was introduced, and he delivered a thrilling address on the issues of the day, showing that the very senti-ments attempted to be fastened on the Democratic party at National Hall, in 1861, by Messra. W. B. Reed and others; have been fully fastened on it in the present contest by Vallandigham and others at the Chicago Convention, and the issue is now be fore the people for decision. In the South, the great body of the people have been led by aspiring and ambitious demagogues to their ruln; but in the North, among the intelligent masses, the teachings of the leading sympathizers will be spurned with the contempt they deserve. The speaker, at con-siderable length, drew a contrast between the prin-ciples as announced at the National Convention at Baltimore and the Convention more recently held at Chicago, during which he was frequently apat Chicago, during which he was frequently ap-

In regard to peace, he was as much a friend to it as anybody possibly can be; not that peace which is gained by the North going down upon its knees and begging for it through the medium of a craven armistice, but that noble peace gained through the intervention of those great commissioners—Grant, Sherman, Farragut, Meade, Hancock, and Sheridan. This sentiment received tramendous applage

Intervention of those great commissioners-Grant, Sherman, Farragut, Meade, Hancock, and Sheridan. This sentiment received tremendous applause. Mr. Mann drew a graphic ploture of the horrors of war and the blessings of peace, and the power and glory of the old flag, under which thou-sands of the people of the South have been kept from starvation, as our army has advanced. We have read accounts of the haughty women of the South riding to the United States quartermaster's department, and obtaining rations to keep thom from starving; and for this act of kindness on the part of the Adminierration of Mr. Lincoln these proud, these chivalre ladies spit upon the flag that thus protected them. Notwithstanding all this, still Abraham Lincoln holds aloft that glorious flag, and thus we recognize him as our standard-bearer. [Great applause.] Its progress is onward, and it must be planted in triumph on every inch of soil in our country as the bright emblem of a lasting peace. [Applause.] The honorable speaker took a geo-graphical view of the war, and tracing it step by union arms on the great Missispipt, and on the seaboard, at inland citles, mountains, and valleys, until more than two-thirds of the territory has been redeemed from the red hand of rebeilion ; yst, with these facts on the page of history staring every one in the face, the framers of the Ohicago platform say the war has been a failure for four years. The speaker thought it unnecessary to make more than say the war has been a failure for four years. The speaker thought it unnecessary to make more than a passing remark on this point, as the facts are as plain as they are stubborn, and cannot be set aside thousand Chicago platforms. After a few remarks on the importance of rallying at the polls, in solid on the importance of railying at the polls, in solid column, the speaker retired, and three cheers were given for him. Thomas J., Worrell, Esg., was the next speaker. Thomas J. Worrell, Esg., was the next speaker. He spoke in an eloquent and forcible manner on the sophistry of the leaders of the present Demo-cratic party, in wielding the machinery of that organization to carry out their own selfish mea-sures, leading to a separation of the two sections of the country, at the expense of the Union, for which so much has been expended, and so much honorable blood has been spilled. He still hoped that there were virtue, patriotism, and intel-ligence left among the great mass of the Northern people tot to be blindly led to their own destruc-tion by demagogues, whose very hearts are in the rebel capital, that El Dorado of rogues and mur-derers. Mr. Worrell was frequently applauded during his patriotic and eloquent address. Short and eloquent addresses were delivered by Messrs. Henry T. King, John E. Latta, and others, after which the meeting adjourned with thirteen cheers for the Union cause.

UNION LEAGUE HALL-SPEECH OF DAVID PAUL BROWN, ESO.

PAUL BROWN, ESQ. An immense audience again crowded Concert Hall last night to hear one of Philadelphia's most prominent lawyers and orators, David Paul Brown, Esq. The announcement that he would accompany his speech with a lecture on "The Patriotic Wo-men of the Day" attracted a large number of ladies, whose pretty and smilling faces graced the hall wherever the eye wandered. Before the arrival of Wr. Brown the wanderst. Mr. Paul Berger, by rewherever the eye wandered. Before the arrival of Mr. Brown, the vocalist; Mr. Paul Berger, by re-quest, sang the ode "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" with the voices of the whole audience as a chorus. The lights had not yet been fully turned on, and the voices, bass, tenor, and so prano mingled, rising up through the mellow gloom, seemed to take new richnese from the air in which they floated. Mr. Brown, when he appeared upon the stage, was greeted with applause, which was re-newed when he was introduced by Samuel H. Per-kins, Esq.

He said that he was growing old, and the speech he was about to deliver might possibly be his last. His life-sun had begun to pale its feeble rays, but what could he do better than die with the harness on his back [applause], adhering to the subline principles for which thousands had fought and died! [Applause.] They had often met in this hall to land absent generals who were striving to pluck laurels from the war cloud. They had assembled to honor names that were not born to die; to appland them to the very echo. But it behooved them, while they-admired the decess of the heroes on the field, to re-member that they too had duites to perform; duites quite as important to the country and the success of its cause. While the generals were drawing flery lines of circumvallation round the rebeals on the field, the people at home should be engaged in escaying to render themselves, their children, and their children's children, secure in the foly ment of those the structures. The destinies of the nation depend not so much on the efforts of the nation depend not so much on the efforts of the ation depend not so much on the red ide of battle as on the coming election. Our soldiers were fighting one battle-we, on our own soil, must fight another. If we failed there, we lose all-country, army, everything. MODORE STRIBLING. The United States steamer Neptune salled from the pary yard yesterday alternoon for the East Gulf Blockading Squadron. Commodore Cornelius K: Stribling and staff were on board. Commodore Stribling has been the commandant at the Phila-delphita Navy Yard for some time past; and has been appointed to the command of the East Squadron. The San Jacinto will be the flag-ship. It is not herew who will be the commandant of the yard. Commander Reed Werden, the executive officer, will act as such until an appointment is made. The Nepture is a third-rate screw steamer of 1,244 tons. She carries 11 guns, and has recently been attached to the West India Squadron. Upon his arrival at Key West, to which point he salled, he will assume command as acting rear admiral of the East Gulf Squadron. As the Neptune steamed down the river, Admiral Stribling was saluted with fifteen guns from the receiving ship Princeton and hearty cheer-ing from the crew of that vessel. MODORE STRIBLING.

The wound thus inflicted proved fatal on the 9th of June following. So far as the evidence has been yet developed, there is nothing to show that Pen-derville was anything more than an innocent pas-senger along the street, when he thus came to an untimely death. The defence is that the blow which inflicted the wound was aimed at Wincholt, the officer who was with Shisler, and not at Penderville; that there was no good evidence of malice or premeditation, such as would justify a verdict of murder of the first degree; and that Woodside was drunk. Before the case was given to the jury the prisoner withdrew his plea of not guilty, and entered a plea of guilty of murder of the second degree. District Attorney Mann and T. FRUTON HOMIGIDE CASES. The case of Samuel Woodside, charged with the murder of Morris Penderville, at the corner of Eighth and Encu-streets, on the afternoon of the 28th of May last, by stabbing him with a knife, was called up for trial. The regular panel of jurors was exhausted when but four jurors had been obtained, and a special venire was issued on Tuesday. Of those thus summoned a jury was yesterday empannelled, and the trial proceeded. The facts, so far as they were given in evidence, seemed to be that on the 28th of May a man named John Fenton applied for and obtained from Alder-man Lentz a warfant for the arrest of Woodside, for an alleged assault and battery, and an attempt to cut his (Fenton's) throat. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Shiler, of the First ward, to execute. AND MTF S. A. FULTON. MTS. Fulton, a lady of great experience and utili-ty, will have entire charge of treating in the ladies' department. Consultation free. Address all letters to Dr. W. B. BROWN, 1220 WALNUT Street, Philadelphia oc5-5m* In the hands of Constable Shisler, of the First ward, to execute. He found Woodside at the corner of Eighth and Encu streets; informed him of his business, and the nature of the charge, by whom preferred, and read the warrant to him. Woodside appeared, according to the evidence of Shisler, as if he would go along, but he finally refused positively to do so. Shisler then took hold of him to enforce obedience to the process; Woodside resisted, and a scuffle ensued, and the parties fell on an adjacent cellar door, the constable on top. Woodside, while thus down, drew a knife, and be-fore Shisler could get away cut him in the arm, and also on the hand. Woodside in the meantime re-gained his feet, and just at that moment, Pender-ville, the deceased, approached, passing along the street, when Woodside struck him upon the head with his knife, the instrument penetrating the skull to the brain. The wound thus inflicted proved fatal on the 9th of June following. So far as the evidence has been te declored the nething the instrument penetration the she ELECTRICAL INSTITUTE.
