THE INDIAN WAR. THE NORTHWESTEEN INDIAN EXPEDITION-INTE-RESTING NARBATIVE OF THEIR MARCH FROM THE TETON MOUNTAINS TO FORT UNION. A correspondent of the St. Paul Press, writing from Fort Union, on the Upper Missouri, under date:

from Fort Union, on the Upper Missouri, under date: of August 18, says: On Friday evening, August 5th, the Northwestern Indian Expedition reached what some Indians call the Teton Mountains, others, Mauvaises Terres, "bad lands," and which are a continuation of that broken region which met us at Tah-cha-o-cou-tee, about sixty miles northward To attempt to cross these volcanic sierras with an army and its cumbrous transportation, in which the foot of white man had never trodden, seemed almost madness, and but one of the hundred of General Sully's scouts considered the passage feasible. He, a noble genius of the Blackloot tribe, was fami-liar with every pass of these fearful gorges, and he was willing to risk his life upon the success of the attempt.

har will every pass of these fearful gorges, and the attempt. On Monday morning we started again, crossed the attempt. On Monday morning we started again, crossed the river, and continued our way through these in-fernal ravines which seemed to be endiess and bot-tomless. After the whole expedition had become fairly involved in the intricacies of the arduous march, all at once the war whoop of the savage burst opon us, and thousands of warriors swarmed upon every hill, sweeping down on unpro-tected parts of the tr.in. and driving our company of advance scouts back in confusion upon the column. Our men were at once dismounted, deployed, and started to meet the savages. Heavy firing im-mediately followed in front and rear, and all along both extended fia ks. The artillery was unlim-bered, the pieces dragged to elevated positions, and the batteries opened upon the savage enemy. The Indians remained in close proximity, but a short time. They were driven from hill to hill by our forces, losing quite a number of killed and wounded, their dead otten being found where they fell. Many riderless ponies were afterwards seen, and several of them captured, some covered with the blood of their riders. But the column moved on. The day was very hot, no water nor grass to be had. A wounded man was occasionally brought in to

This rabdom fighting was kept up till late in the afternoou, when a heavy picket guard was posted, on the nearest range of hills, artillery placed, and our forces settled down to rest. Just at dusk an attack was made upon Company G, 2d Minnesota Cavalry, who were out on duty, by several hundred Indians, who almost surrounded them, and but jor their timely retreat, they would have been entirely cut off. Six or eight of our men were wounded in this affair, but fortunately none seriously. seriously. As soon as day broke on Tuesday morning the In-

As soon as day broke on Tuesday morning the In-dians renewed the attack with astonishing vigor. It was evidently their intention to attempt to delay us in this barren region, destitute as it was of water and of forage. One old savage mounted a crag, and shouting to one of our half breeds, said: "You had things your own way at Tah-chao-coutee; it is now our time; we have you just where we want you. Three thousand braves have joined us, and we now number sight thousand warriors. We will capture your of many moute them get their age process. number eight thousand warriors. We will capture your officers and make them eat their own men. We have a white woman here prisoner; why don'ty you come and take her?" with opprobrious language touching white men generally. A good many shots were fired at this fellow, but he did not fall. Affairs now began to assume a squally look. These Indians are the best horsemen in the yorld, and they darked around us with a daring and velocity, up hill and down, that excited astonish-ment and admiration. Their number seemed im-mense. They ventured closer, and howled with in-oreasing intensity. Our train commenced its march, descent theology interster the tene them the form oreasing intensity. Our train commenced its march, dragging its slow length along through more of those deep valleys. The men formed a cordon around their train, against which the Indians were afraid to throw themselves. After the last wagon, was in motion, the companies deployed in the rear turned their faces from the howing savages; and also com-menced their march. No sconer had they done so than the Indians pursued, dashing up from ravines and blazing away at our men. An attempt was made to decoy the red devils within our reach, but they were too shrewd to be caucht. They certainly had things their own way; they had assumed the of-fensive, and we were anxiously waiting to meet them in scloser embrace, but they declined the en-counter.

them in 3 closer emorace, out they documed the car-counter. We pursued our way, turning occasionally to give them a volley, when they approaches within easy range, and it was some satisfaction to see a few at least unhorsed, while our loss was none killed and but few wounded. Matters continued thus till about noon, when we cleared the worst hills, and came to a more open connery, and where the abupt bluffs ceased. Here the Indians left us, knowing that this was no place for their style of fighting.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES. James Monahan, who was run over by his wagon n the Twenty-third ward, as mentioned in The ress, died on Saturday from hjuries received. BOUNTY PAID. Warrants for twenty-five enlisted men were issued y the Mayor on Saturday. FATAL ACCIDENT.

A little girl, named Catharine Donley, aged three years, was run over on the railroad near the depot at Trenton, on Saturday, and was almost instantly killed. PRICE DECREASING. OT OT

Sugar was sold on Saturday in the retail stores at a decline of three cents per pound from the day pre-vious. It is thought there will be a farther decline. In cotton goods there has been a gradual decline in the prices for many articles.

THE POLICE. [Before Mr. Recorder Eneu ]

OLD OFFENDER IDENTIFIED

OLD OFFIENDER IDENTIFIED A man named John Murray was arraigned on Saturday afternoon on the charge of committing a burglary and larceny at the dwelling-house of Mr. T. B. Fugh, on the night of January 4th, 1858. The house was entered by means of nippers; a gold watch worth $125 and the sum of $50 in money wore stolen therefrom. The accused was arresided at the time and committed for a further hearing. If seems that he had been arrested on the second of the same month, on the charge of committing another bur-glary, and was committed by Alderman Thompson, but bail having been entered for him on this charge he was set at liberty, the Recorder's commitment having been lost, mislaid, of stolen. By some means or other he escaped, and nothing more was heard of him until Saturday. It seems that on yesterday week, he, with others, was committed by Alderman Beitler, and being unable to enter ball, remained in prison. Mr. Calanan, of the detective force, pro-ceeded to the jail, and upon entering the cell iden-tified the prisoner. In the afternoon the latter was arraigned as above stated. Særeral witnesses were examined, atter which the accused was committed to answer the charge of burglary and robbery at the house of Mr. Pugh. A man named John Murray was arraigned on Michael Malone and Michael Meeghan were ar-raigned on Saturday on the charge of rioting at the Flith-precinct election poll, Nineteenth ward, on Tueedaylast. The evidence developed the fact that during the riot ex-Alderman Taggart, who has been sickly for many months, was knocked down and badly beaten; so much so that his life was despaired of. It is alleged the defendants were very active participants in the riot. They were bound over to take their trial at court.

THE COURTS.

In the District Court and Court of Common In the District Court and Courts of Countyn Pleas the usual Saturdays' lists only were up. The cases upon them being disposed of, both courts ad-journed until to-day (Monday); []

Court of Quarter Sessions-Judge Thomp.

Court of Quarter Sessions Judge Thomp-Son. Habeas corpus cases occupied the morning of Saturday. That of Colonel Lee, charged with con-spiracy to defraud, by means of forged enlistment papers, by which to obtain certain local and other bounties, was further heard upon habeas corpus. After the evidence Judge Thompson directed that he be discharged; upon the ground that nothing had been shown to implicate him in an attempt to de-fraud; and, in fact, that it had not been shown that anybody had been defrauded. Lee was accordingly discharged. C. W. Brooke for the relator; Valen-time for the prosecution. The remainder of the session was devoted to the hearing of desertion cases, prosecuted by Mr. Fin-ietter, solicitor for the Guardians of the Poer.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The stock market was less buoyant upon Saturday. the sales being upon a small scale, and at prices generally drooping. Government loans were steady, the ore 1, though this advance was lost at the close of the afterconnerty and where the Lot up to full sceased. Here the Indians left us, knowing that this was no place for their style of fighting.

of Fort Benton, though some intend to return to Our course was now continued down the Yellow Stone to Fort Union, which we reached to day. The Press adds that Colonel McLaren, of the 2d Minnesota Cavalry, arrived at St. Paul on the 6th instant, and says that the tedlous campaign has tired out the men and broken down a large portion of the horses. The cavalry and Jones' bat-tery will remain at Fort Ridgely, and the 8th Regi-ment will push on to Fort Snelling. k Gen. Sully is waiting at Fort Rice for the return of the river, leaving troops to garrison Forts Sully, Randall, and other posts. Brackett's Batta-lion goes to Sloux City. A detachment of twenty-five men, belonging to the 8th Regiment, under Lieut. McCusick, was left at Fort Rice to build flat-boats for the two hundred infantry that. went to Capt. Fisk's aid. They will go down to Sloux City, and from there march across the country. The ca-valry will return by the route taken. by the expedi-tion. Both officers and men agree that the cam-paign has been inflicted on the Indians.
