THE CITY. POLITICAL. UNION LEAGUE HALL.

Last evening a meeting was held at the hall of the Union League, John P. Verree, Esq., presiding. W. R. Nicholson made a lengthy address, discussing satirically the regard, which was paid "our Southern brethren," both before and since the war, by the so-called Democratic party. He was followed by Joseph Shippen. Fir. Wayne McVelgi, who was announced to speak, was unavoidably absent. After this fact was stated from the platform, a great part of the audience retired, most of them to the part of the audience retired, most of them to the meeting at National Hall. GREAT MEETING AT NATIONAL HALL.

Arter this fact was stated from the platform, a great part of the audience retired, most of them to the greeting at National Hall.

GREAT MERTING AT NATIONAL HALL.

The Republican invincibles held a meeting last evening, at National Hall. The place was crowded in eyery part. The audience was composed of intelligent men and women. Hon. Wm. D. Kelley, the distinguished onempton of human rights and the true democratic principle of universal liberty, was introduced. It may be needless to say that he was received with protonged applause. After, some proliminary remarks, he said that he had spoken so much in debate and on the stump, during the present campaign, that he could not say that he had say new idea to disouse. He would, however, call the attention of the audience to a little thing worthy of consideration, George B. McClellan. [Laughter and applause.] He slunded to the fact that the Administration and the country had conhidence in him at one time, and believed him true to the country, and capable to sustein it against all its adversaries. He (the speaker) said that he would rather have the good name of any one of the negro soldiers, who sileep with the gallant Shaw in Southern soil, than the name or history of McClellan—this general at it he head of to ne of the finest armies in the world, an army that worshipped him, an army of sallant men who could have given McClellan—brigh history, and handed his name down to posterity as one of the few immortal not born to die. Even his whisper at one time, within the limits of the Constitution, was law with the Administration. The greatest confidence was reposed in him, and the country was left with the sallant and the country was entertained with a brief pell, strategy. The while his world, and the world, was leaved and mandella, and by way of variety between anaconda and when we all two words, strategy and an administration of throps were left in a state of suspense for many months, between strategy and handella his philosophy disturbed, he asked why lin God's name? d of thousands of the army, wanted not the sympathy of Union hearts and strong arms in defence of the flag of his country. [Thunders of applause.] He contended that the men who say the army of the Union has done nothing, have done nothing themselves for the country. [Aplause.] They wanted the army of the Union has done nothing, have done nothing themselves for the country. [Aplause.] They wanted the contended that the men who say the army of the Union has done nothing, have done nothing themselves for the country. COMPANY.

Last evening: a presentation of quite an interesting character took place at the hall of the Washington Hose Company, No. 10, of this city, No. 35 North Ninth street. The hall was handsomely fitted up with the pictures and insignia of the company. The Washington presented a very elegant silver horn, on November 17, 1861, to the Perseverance, of Washington, D. O., which the latter company retained with such care that, it looked perfectly new last night on its being returned to the original givers. An ordinance of the Washington City Councils was recently adopted making provision for a paid fire Department. The Perseyerance, along with the other companies, was therefore obliged to disband, and it was fitting that this crack company should show its appreciation of the Washington, of our city by re-presenting the silver horn. In addition to this, the company were the recipients of a large and elegant picture, emblematical of Perseverance. Mr. John J. Peabody presented the gifts in a neat speech, and Mr. Henry M. Dechert replied. Mr. Dechert, on behalf of the Washington, assured his friends from the sister city that they would be always welcomed as brothers whenever they, should come amongst us; that they would be none the less cherished now that they were disbanded and another organization substituted in their stead. Mr. D. alluded to the particulum which each company had displayed since the breaking out of the war in their raily to the defence of the country, and in a service that boasted of no more gallant soldlers than the firemen. The occasion passed off very pleasantly. solders than the firemen. The occasion passed off very pleasantly.

The Perseverance were represented by the following delegation from Washington city: W. Walker Grant, John H. Thompson, John Y. Dunn, Geo. S. Dunn, George Fletcher, Edw. Wheeler, Winfield Martin, John H. Dickerson, Henry Thorn, John J. Peabody, Julius Strobel. Edw. Leeznetzer.

After the presentation the company proceeded to the St. James, on Walnut street, near Fourth, where a bountful repast was partaken of. Speeches were made by Messrs. Thomas McCullough, president of the Washington; William Dickson, of the Hibernia, and members of the respective companies.

MISCELLANEOUS. THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY COMPANY. THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY COMPANY.

This library company, after a sesson of great and deserved success, offers still greater inducements for the future than it has in the past. Its stock of books now numbers 30 coo, for the most part judiciously selected. It contains upwards of 7,000 novels, besides a large quantity of magazines, which form quite an important leature of the library. Besides the reading room, there is a newspaper room, where papers from thirty States are placed on file. In addition to these attractions a portion of the newspaper room is furnished with nine chess tables, where votaries of the game can enjoy themselves from morn to noon, from noon to dewy eve. GUARDIANS OF THE POOR.

SUDDEN DEATH,

On Salurday evening a lady named Mary A. Russell, who resided on Dickerson street, above Third, was seized with a rush of blood to the head, white on the doorstep of an acquaintance, on Moyamensing avenue. She fell and struck her head with violence on the pavement. The unfortunate lady was ploked up in a state of insensibility and conveyed to her residence, where she died carly on Sunday morning. She was a person very, much respected. Her sudden death has shocked quite a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place rhis afternoon, the services being at the Wharton-street Methodist Church. DROWNED.

The body of Thomas Maguire was found in the Delaware river, at Washington street, wherf, on Saturday last. Deceased was thirty-five years of ago, and formerly belonged to the 72d Regiment, RECRUITING. Warrants were issued yesterday for the payment of the bounty to twenty-six men, credited principally to the Nineteenth ward.

THE POLICE. [Before Mr. Alderman Jones.]

'CONCEALED DEADLY WEAPON. James Bray, who halls from the city of New York, James Bray, who halls from the city of New York, was arraigned yesterday on the charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons. He made his appearance late on Saturday night in the vicinity of Eleventh and Market streets, and startled the citizens and made the neighborhood echo with the reports of a pistol which he flourished. The fellow was evidently laboring under the malign influence of potato whisky. He was required to enter ball in the sum of $600 to answer at court. A MIXED CASE Louisa Haines, aged seventeen, years, was arraigned before the same magistrate on the charge of stealing several dresses, the property of Sarah Lewis, who resides at 1031 Locust street. The accused boarded at this house, and she alleges that Mrs. Lewis stole $22 from her, and that, as a matter of recompense; the dresses were taken. Louisa was bound over to answer the charge of larceny. The mother of Louisa was at the hearing. She preferred the charge against Sarah Lewis of keeping a disorderly house. On this charge Sarah was held in the sum of $1,000 to answer at court.

(Before Mr. Alderman Holme 1) GUNNING ON THE SABBATH. William Wiley and W. F. McCurdy were arraigned, yesterday morning, on the charge of gunning on the Sabbath day in the Twenty-third ward.

They were fined the usual penalty and put under bonds to be of future good behavior and to keep the ALLEGED ROBBERY. It was reported at the levee of the police lieutenants, yesterday morning, that the "Soldiers' Happy Home," being nothing more nor less than a drinking saloon and restaurant, near Camp Cadwalader, had been entered and robbed after closing hours on Saturday night. A pane of glass had been removed, and thus an entrance into the place was effected. The following is an inventory of the articles alleged to have been taken: It gallons of Higuor, 10 dozen of eggs, 10 dozen bottles of porter, 10 domineral water, 10 pounds of beef steak, and a couple of bushels of potatoes. The parties who did this made a very clean job of the whole affair. The "ranche" is located not far distant from Camp Oadwalader.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] INTERPERING WITH AN OFFICER. INTERFERING WITH AN OFFICER.

Charles Clare was arraigned at the Central Station, yesterday, on the charge of committing an assault and battery on Officer Rowe. It seems that a fight occurred, in which several parties were engaged, at the election poll of the Fifth precinct of the Second ward, on Tuesday last. Officer Rowe, while attempting to interpose his authority to prevent the beligerents breaking their own heads as well as the peace, was intercepted by the prisoner, who laid hands upon him. This constitutes the assault and battery. Mr. Clare was bound over in the sum of $600 to answer. ENLISTING MINORS.

ENLISTING MINORS.

Edward A Webb is the name given yesterday by a man arraigned on the charge of enlisting minors with the view of assisting them to jump the bounty. It appears that two boys, aged about seventeen years, arrived in this city from Springfield, Mass. They put up at the Allegheny House. It is alleged the defendant induced them to enlist, and from overheard conversation he proposed to arrange a convenient mode by which they could jump the bounty. The young scamps suddenly disappeared from the Allegheny House, leaving an unsettled account. Letters from them, or other parties to them, were opened accidentally by a person of the same name as given by one of the bounty jumpers, and suspicion thus having been excited, other points of the programme of arrangement were obtained which led to the arrest of Webb. He was required to enterball in the sum of $2,000, to answer.

ALLEGED ROBBERY OF A POLICE OFFICER. ALLEGED ROBBERY OF A POLICE OFFICER. Michael Leafy was arraigned yesterday on the charge of robbing a police officer of his badge. During a fight at one of the police officer lost his badge. It was found in the possession of Leafy; hence the charge of larceny, as it had been stolen from the legal custodian. The accused was bound over to answer.

[Before Mr. Alderman Thomas.] ALLEGED ROBBERY. Elisha Doley was arraigned on Saturday on the charge of robbing the patients of the Cuyler Hospital, at Germantown. Parcels of money had mysteriously disappeared from the hospital from time to time, until nearly four thousand dollars were missing. A watch was set, and, from certain developments, Officer Fraley, telegraphic operator at the Germantown station, took the accused into custedy. Several knives and a lot of money, belonging to the patients, were found upon him. The accused was committed to answer.

[Before Mr. Alderman Welding.] CONCEALED DEADLY WEAPON. John Wells was arraigned yesterday on the charge of carrying a loaded pistol. He was arrested near. Front and Spruce streets. The accused was bound over to answer.

THE COURTS. United States District Court - Judges Grier and Cadwalader. McClellan through all his movements to Malvern Hill, and said that if the gallant Phil. Kearney, who laid down his life at Chastility, were here to night he would proclaim in thunder tones that McClellan was either a coward or a traitor. An English admiral was shot for showing less of cowardice or treason than McClellan, and England has never had a traitor since. [Tremendous applause, Inconclusion, the honorable gentleman said that Little Mac, in his present position; has aftempted to shadow forth that the people of the North are cowards, and thus he has also attempted to brand the name of America with as deep at infamy as he has won for himself by his own mismanagement. The speaker retired amid tremendous rounds of applause.

Capt. A. R. Colhoun was now introduced, and he delivered a thrilling account of the treatment of the Union prisoners in many places in the South. The many incidents he related brought tears to several thousand eyes. The Captain did not belong to any political party at all. He knew of only two sides to the question now before the country. Union and disanton. He would allude, however, to two or three resolutions passed by the Chicago Convention, and known as the platform adopted by that body. He could not agree that the war had been one of failure, for four years, as asserted by one of the resolutions; nor could he agree with that one 'that expressed sympathy, for the solidiers. He as one solder, and he spoke the voice of thousands of the army, wanted not the sympathy of Union hearts and strong arms in defence of the flag of his country. [Thunders of applause] He contended that the men who say the IMPORTANT TO DISTILLERS.
