Semi-Weekly Review of the Philadelphia

The Produce markets are firmer, and prices are looking up, owing to the advance in gold. Holders of Flour are asking an advance of 25c P bbl. Wheat and Rye have advanced. Corn and Oats are steady. Cotton is dull. Coffee is firmly held, but the sales are limited.

Fish are rather firmer. In Fruit there is no change to notice. Fig Iron is scarce, and the sales are limited.

The Provision market is very firm, but there is very little doing. Coal Oil has advanced. Whisky continues quiet. Sugar is very firm. Seeds are without change.

How McCiclian Took Manassas (For The Press.) Heard ye how the great McClellan, He, the wether with the bell on, He, the head of all the asses, Heard ye how he took Manassas ? When the anaconda plucky, Flapped his tall in old Kentucky; When up stream the gunboats paddled, And the thieving Floyd skedaddled; Then the chief of all the asses, Heard the words "Go take Masassas." Forty brigades wait around him-Forty blatant trumpets sound him. As the pink of all the heroes Since the time of fiddling Neroes: "Now's the time," cry out the masses, Show your pluck, and take Manassas. Contrabands came flocking to him-"Ho, the enemy files! pursue him." "No." said George, "don't start a trigger On the word of any nigger; Let no more the rascals pass us, I know all about Manassas." When at last a prowling Yankee, (No doubt, long and lean and lanky), Looking out for new devices, Took the wooden-guns as prizes Said he, "I swow, ere daylight passes I'll take a peep at famed Manassas." Then up to the trenches boldly Marched he; they received him coldly; Nary reb was there to stop him, Nary minie ball to drop him; Gathering courage, in he passes-"Jerusalem! I've taken Manassas." Bold McClellan heard the story-"Onward, men, to fields of glory-Let us show the rebel foemen, When we're ready we're not slow men Wait no more for springing grasses-Onward! onward! to Manassas.

Future day will tell the wonder. How the mighty anaconda With the mighty Mac to lord her-Tell on shaft, and storled brasses, How he took the famed Manassas "OLD NAPOLEON." ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.-On Monday evening special meeting of the members was held for the innual election of officers. Charles Macalester. Esq., was elected President of the Society, in place of David Milne, Esq , who has resigned. Mr. David C. McCammon and Mr. George Young were shosen as Vice Presidents. Mr. Young resigned the office of Secretary, which he had held for twenty years, and is succeeded by Mr. Craig D. Ritchie Mr. Alexander Prestley was elected Treasurer, in place of Mr. T. Sinclair. The other appointments are: Physicians-Drs. J. W. Mitchell, Robt. Burns, and L. Turnbull; Counsellors—Messrs. J. W. Wallace, M. J. Mitcheson, and R. P. Emancipation in Maryland. CELEBRATION AT THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE SU-PERVISORY COMMITTEE FOR THE RECRUITING OF UNITED STATES COLORED TROOPS. The abolition of human slavery in the State of Maryland becoming a fixed fact yesterday, by the not of the Governor, seconding the efforts of the people of that section of the Union, the event was celebrated in Philadelphia yesterday in a variety of ways. The colored population had their own time In their respective localities in our city. Lombard and South streets, where many of the "proscribed race" live, were gay, with flags fiving from all tha windows of many dwellings. Salutes of thirty-five guns each were fired in different parts of Philadelphia. Six companies of the colored regiment at. Camp Wm. Fenn made a parade, and their soldierly appearance was the subject of much admiration. The event of the day took place last evening-or, rather, the festivity culminated in a grand demonstration at the headquarters of the Supervisory Committee for Colored Troops, on Chestnut street, above Twelfth. The building, with its immense transparency when fully illuminated, gave the eniire structure a magical appearance—gay, attractive, and eminently patriotic. In the midst of the glare of red fire, reflecting upon ten thousand upturned faces, the waving of flags and other ensigns of patriotism, the musical notes of the band, a meetlng was improvised by Mr. Thomas Webster. An address was delivered by Mr. Thomas N. Coleman, though suffering from the effects of a blow that he received from a sneaking Copperhead assassin on Monday night. He was loudly cheered, and he thanked his God, as a Marylander, that the bright sun of liberty now illumines his native State.

Mr. Coleman was followed by Mr. Trimble, of Tennessee, Hon. Wm. D. Kellev, Captain N. H. Edgerton, of Chester county, recently promoted by the indomitable General Butler for gallant conduct. The Captain was wounded in a recent battle. He was followed by Wm. H. Maurice, who recited the poetry, "No Slave Beneath the Starry Flag." Major Dehring and other gentlemen made patriotic speeches, and the greatest enthusiasm provailed. THE TRANSPARENCY AND ILLUMINATION.

The transparency, taken as a whole, is the largest and one of the most imposing ever displayed to public view; it certainly is very appropriate to the age in which we live. It attracted the attention of thousands of people yesterday; and last evening, it being brilliantly illuminated for the first time, a dense mass of citizens congregated in front thereof. It may be said to be the production of the genius of Mr. Thomas Webster, a gen leman who has done the "State some service." in the supervision of the recutiting of the United States colored troops. The transparency consists of a number of pictures, graphically portrayed by the skill of members of the Artists' Sketch Club of Philadelphia. We commence our description of the scene at the top. On the centre is a cupola surmounted by a flag staff about fifty feet fong, from which the emblem of our nation is unfurled. In the gentle westerly breeze of last evening it displayed its glorious stars and stripes to admiring thousands. In the cupola is a large bell, with the motto the same as on old Independence bell, that was rung when young America struck for freedom from British usurpation and tyranny: "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, and to all the inhabitants thereof."

Beneath the bell, and extending across the top of the transparency, is the following in large letters. THE TRANSPARENCY AND ILLUMINATION. Beneath the bell, and extending across the top of the transparency, is the following, in large letters, constructed of gas jets: **$$$$$$$$$

GOD SAVE THE REPUBLIC.

Χορορορορορορορορο This motto is flanked on the right and left with we lights, each representing the lamp of life. Immediately beneath the motto is a large pleture, Immediately beneath the motto is a large picture, 24 feet 7 in. by 8 feet, reaching across the entire front of the building. This represents the storming of Port Hudson, a rebel stronghold taken by the black soldiers, and which success contributed greatly to the opening of the "Father of Waters," the Mississippi, by which rebeldom was split in two. The picture is very graphic and artistic. The motto, from a poem of Mr. George Boker, is on the top:—"Never in field or tent scorn a black regiment."

Immediately beneath the storming scene of Port Hudson are three panels, each being two feet by eight feet two inches, containing choice maxims or eight feet two inches, containing choice maxims or mottoes of Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry. They read as follows:

"There is not a man living who wishes more sincerely than I do to see a plan adopted for the ABOLITION OF SI AVERY." - Washington's Letter to Robert Morris.

Of slavery, Jefferson, the father of Democracy.  $444444444444444444444444 "It would rejoice my very soul that every one of my fellow beings was emancipated. I shall honor the Quakers for their noble efforts to Abo-LISH SLAVARY. !!—Patrick Henry. ***** ♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦

In the centre of the scene is a large arch, 13 feet wide and 21 feet high. The arch is very elaborately finished, being a representation of stone work, 13 in number, supported by Corinthian columns. Each stone represents a virtue, enumerated as follows: Religion, Liberty, Education, Charity, Fraternity, Frugality, Temperance, Truth, Courage, Justice, Love, Labor, Honesty. We may say that the Keystone of the Arch is labelled Justice. Upon the apex or crown of the arch is a representation of the coat of arms of the State of Maryland, over which is the word "Resurgeus," which means arising after awakening. Just above the spring line of the arch is the following:

♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦ We hold these truths to be self evident that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Ccreator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1770.

A well-painten eagle, holding in its talons the emblems of peace and war, has a picture within the scope of the arch. The scroll issuing from its beak, contains the following: "Emancipation in Maryland Accomplished in 1864." Beneath the eagle is the following: "Maryland settled by George Calvert, Baron of Baltimore—Ireland—a Catholic—ranked smorg the most wise and benevolent lawgivers of all ages. The first in the history of the Christian world to seek for religious security and Peace by the Practice of Justice; to plan the establishment of popular institutions with the enjoyment of Liberty of Conscience; to advance the cause of civilization by recognizing the rightful equality of ment of Liberty of Conscience; to advance the cause of civilization by recognizing the rightful equality of all Christian secies."

Now, A. D. 1884, by emancipating over 100,000 Christian slaves, by the free votes of the people, proves, that at last, she is entirely true to the noble teachings of her Immortal Founder, and that she realizes his grand ideas of Justice by adopting a Constitution which secures to all men the enjoyment of all their natural rights, without regard to creed, Hall to Glorious Maryland! "Our" Maryland.

first to guarantee "free liberty of religion," first to unconditionally disenthral her slaves, first to typify a regenerated South. Hall! "Liberty and Union, a regenerated South. Hall! "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

On each column, in scroll-work, we observe the names of the following illustrious men:
C. Carroll of Carrolton, Henry Winter Davis, William Paoa, H. L. Bond, R. Stockett Matthews, Archibald Sterling, Col. J. Edgar Howard, Com. Josh. Barney, Matt. Tilghman, Thomas Johnson, William Pinkney, Col. S. M. Bowman, R. B. Forten, (colored,) Whimin Faces,

The coat of arms of Maryland, that rests on the arch-crown, is fianked right and left by angels blowing the trump of fame. On either side of the grand arch are panels, four in number, each being ten feet six inches by five feet nine inches. The top panel to the left represents the wounded scout and contraband. The former is held in an upright position, being faint from exhaustion and loss of blood, which may be seen trickling from his arm. The contraband is looking towards heaven. The ground scene represents a Southern canebrake. This painting is taken from Robers' statuette, and it suggests a volume of history at once.

The top picture on the right represents a conflict between a colored soldier and a secesh officer. The former has his bayonet at the breast of the rebel, while the other has his uplifted sword, and is about to deal a second blow, the first blow having already former has his beyonet at the breast of the rebel, while the other has his uplifted sword, and is about to deal a second blow, the first blow having already drawn blood from the soldier. The countenance of the rebel is a blending of savage ferceity, wildness of despair, and fear. The soldier has his left foot firmly upon the rebel flag marked C. S. A. This represents a scene which already forms an interesting page in the history of the rebellion, as recorded in Major General Butler's congratulatory order. The contest took place at New Market Heights near Richmond, Sept. 28, 1344.

On the left lower corner represents a slave auction in the State of Maryland. A well developed descendant of Ham is already on the block. He stands with his arms folded. Behind him is the auctioneer, a long, lean, lantern-jawed specimen of a "niggor-seller," before lifth a group of men of all sorts and sizes, apparently engaged in bidding against each other for the possession of the "chattel." At the foot of the auctioneer's desk are the wife and the children of the slave grouped together. The wife is downcast; the tear of anguish at the thought of separation is trickling down her cheek. The children are too young to appreciate the enormity of the affair. The following mottoes are on this picture. On the top: **$$$$$$$$$$$$

"God fixed it certain that whatever day Makes man a slave takes half his worth away." At the bottom is the following motio:

♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦ "Thousands of men, women, and children sold annually under Maryland's old Constitution to the far South."

We now turn our attention to the picture on the right lower corner. Here we observe a school house in the distance, with its neat cupola and bell summoning the rising generation of the "proscribed race" to school. The scene is laid in St. Mary's county, Md. A fine, fat-looking specimen of a colored woman points to the building dedicated to purposes of popular education. A little boy and girl are on the way to the place thus pointed out by the matron. This suggestive picture cannot help receiving popular favor of all intelligent classes who know the value of education. On the top of this picture is the well-known motto: this picture is the well-known motto: $$$$$ "'Tis Education forms the common mind."

At the lower part of the panel or painting is the following inscription: "12,000 colored soldiers now at the front fighting for the Union."

The lower panel, which forms, it may be said, the base of the entire picture, is 18 feet 6 inches in length by 6 feet wide. It contains on one end, a good likeness of President Lincoln, and on the other an excellent representation of the next Vice President, Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee. Between these portraits are the following words: these portraits are the following words:

tions. The artists engaged in thus transferring to canvas the design of Mr. Webster are Messrs. Geo. F. Bensell, Joseph Beale, J. D. Wilson, E. B. Ben-sell, D. R. Knight, and Wm. E. Smith. In addition to the above, a fine painting of a colored soldier shot down, but still holding the flag up. Another soldier is about to take the emblem of nationality from him. This transparency was exhibited at the opposite side of the way. There were many flags also exhibited containing the following

mottoes:

"I call the American war an aristocratic rebellion against democratic government."—Richard Cobden.

"Oh! fear not the slave when he breaks from his chain.
The man made a freeman grows safe in his gain."

We learn that Colonel William B. Thomas and regiment left Gallipolis, Ohlo, on Monday, and are expected to arrive to day or to-morrow. The Committee of Arrangements have taken the necessary steps to secure a proper and creditable escort for the gallant Colonel and his command. Three times Colonel Thomas responded to the "emergency call" in the most energetic style. In the present instance his regiment did a vest amount of good in various ways, such as to reflect credit and patriotic ardor on the brave men under him. Colonel P. C. Ellmaker has been appointed to take charge of the escort. The Campaign Club and the Invincibles will, it is understood, take part in the interesting and patriotic ceremonies.

Were there not a great many people there?
Answer. The crowd had partly cleared away, so that I could see across. Q. Were there many on the pavement where the old man was struck? A. There were two or three men. One of them a United States officer.

ed States officer.

What size man was the one who was killed?

He was a low-sized man.

Did you notice the color of his hair? Yes, sir. The man was gray headed. Have you seen the body of the deceased? Yes, sir. I saw it this afternoon. Q. Is it that of the man whom you say the officer I can't say that it is—it looked like him.
What was the next thing you saw after the man was struck?
A. He reeled and fell upon the pavement. Q. What did you do then? A. I ran up the street and got into a doorway; they got to firing; I then went home; the officer who struck-the man was knocked down with a lan-Q. In what way did the officer strike him? A. I thought he struck him on the top of the head.
Q. Were you in company with any person?
A. Yes, sir; with John Graham; I go pretty much with him; he did not notice it much, for I called his attention to the fact, and said that man's George Gamble sworn.—Reside at 710 N. Ninth street. At 11 o'clock on Saturday night I was in Glenn's Saloon, at Sixth and Chestnut streets. I heard Mr. Glenn say that a man was killed on the street. He did not say who struck the man. I was not on the street; don't know anything about it.

Q. Did you not say to a person that you knew all Q. Did you not say to a person that you knew all about it? about it?

A. (thoughtfully.) I had a talk with a gentleman on Sunday, and said to him a man was killed, but I did not say I knew all about it. I told the gentleman only what I had heard.

The evidence here closed. One of the jurors suggested that Mr. H. W. Ditmar, who was present at a meeting at which resolutions were passed charging the murder on a police officer, should be summoned as a witness; also, to have present the author of the resolutions, so as to obtain his evidence. The jury then adjourned, to meet again on Thursday afternoon at half past 3 o'clock at the Coroner's office. Thursday afternoon at half past 3 o'clock at the Coroner's office.

The coroner was busy last evening in hunting evidence, and other gentlemen assisted him. One or two witnesses have been found, who say that a man stepped from the ranks of the procession and struck Mr. Campbell. A police officer tried to arrest the villian who did this work of death, but others in the procession knocked the officer down. THE BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP. The match for the championship of Pennsylvania billiards, between Mr. Victor Estephe, present holder of the cue, and conqueror at the late tournament, and Mr. Robt. T. Ryall, is announced to take place Dec. 14th. It will be managed in a way worthy of Philadelphia, and the presence of ladies is particularly desired. The contestants are masters of this beautiful game, and great interest is already felt in the match. As a proof of Mr. Ryall's confidence in his ability to win, he has doubled the stakes. SPEECH OF THE HON. MR. PENDLETON. The papers, generally, made a mistake in regard to the time that the Hon. George H. Pendieton delivered his address at the serenade. The event took place at the La Pierre House, at half-past one o'clock on Sabbath morning and not on Saturday evening. One of the tunes played at about the same time was "Away down South in Disie." same time was "Away down South in Dixie."

The alarm of fire, about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, was caused by the burning of the stable of Mr. John White, on Moore street, above Amber, Nineteenth ward. Loss about $300. The place was set on fire by some children playing with matches. Last evening, just before 10 o'clock, the colored public school house, on Sixth, above Lombard, was set on fire by fireworks. Speedily suppressed.

Fire was discovered bursting out in a large box of old paper at the Sunday Transcript office yesterday morning. For a short time it was feared the building would be involved in a general conflagration. The flames were speedily extinguished. Damage inconsiderable. INSTALLATION SERVICE.

The Rev. R. W. Henry, D. D., lately the associate of the Rev. Dr. McEiroy, of New York city, will be installed paster of the North Presbyterian Church, Sixth street, above Green, this evening. CASUALTIES.

A boy named Bedel was run over by a wagon, at Montgomery street and Girard avenue, yesterday afternoon, and was so badly injured that his recovery is hopeless.

A Mr. Piper was knocked down by a runaway horse, at Thirteenth and Chestnutstreets, yesterday afternoon, and was seriously injured. SALES OF REAL ESTATE, STOCKS, ETC.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] ASSAULT WITH A BILLY.

J. W. Gillingham was arraigned, yesterday afternoon, at the Central Station, on the charge of committing an assault and battery on Officer Lazalere, and striking him a severe blow on his left eye with a billy. Several witnesses were examined. The testimony summed up as follows: As the Soldiers' Campaign Club was passing along Chestnut street, on Monday evening, an attack was made upon some of the members by a gang standing on the sidewalk, near Sixth street. One soldier was struck a severe blow on the head. Officer Lazalere arrested the fellow who committed the outrage, and, while taking him to the lock-up, Gillingham was seen to pull a black-jack from his side-pocket, reach over one of the witnesses, and dealt the officer a blow. Several witnesses testified to the same state of facts, viewed from as many different stand points. The accused was bound over in the sum of $2,000 to answer at court. ASSAULT WITH A BILLY.
