ed by the graves of thousands of the noble heroes of the Republic, who, in the battle of July; 1863, fell victims to the slaveholders' rebellion ! Will you, on Tuesday next, so insult their ashes, so dishonor their memories, as to vote in sympathy with the traitor-arms that laid them in your soil? Against such a deed of perfidy and shame, ten thousand quivering instincts of patriotism and humanity remonstrate.

VOTERS OF FRANKLIN ! your beautiful county-seat is a pile of ruins, made so by | cendiaries and assassins ! On the contrary, the torches of those fiends incarnate, GIL-MOR and MCCAUSLAND. Will you, by | either silently winked at their atrocities or your suffrages on Tuesday next, endorse | openly justified and defended them! Now. that deed of diabolism?

VOTERS OF CUMBERLAND ! your countytown, Carlisle, in the memorable summer of 1863, was raked with shot and shell by the ruffian hordes of EARLY. Will you, on Tuesday next, by your ballots, say that those bullets were deserved by you ?

THE PATRIOTS of Luzerne county deserve the credit of having published the names of all deserters from the draft in hand-bills, so as to prevent them from voting at elections, and this expedient kept four or five hundred men from voting against the Union ticket on the eleventh of October. Our friends in York, Cumberland, Perry, Franklin, Fulton, and in all of the northern and northwestern borders should not fail to follow this admirable example.

IRISHMEN! You who are appealed to by those who have heretofore led the Native Americans and Know Nothings, and slavery, where do you think DANIEL were alive ? The great Liberator, the fearless Abolitionist, the hater of every form of human servitude, would stand appalled .at the spectacle of those who still continue to worship his name-and class him among the saints, to be forever remembered-giving their active support to the only party in the civilized world that justi. fies the right of one man to own another.

HAVE the Irishmen ever recollected that the leaders of the Southern rebellion, with probably a single exception, have always been against emigration, and hence against naturalization, and that, in the event of their success, the adopted citizen would of the times. Colonel STEBBINS is himself soon be as degraded as the slaves themselves ?

GERMANS! every American that has visited Germany since the beginning of our war with slavery returns deeply impressed with the strong sympathy of the German people for our cause, and yet there are many who live amongst us who do not hesitate to support the so-called Democratic candidate for the Presidency, knowing that his success would be the downfall of our free-institutions.

THE Tribune warns our friends that frauds are intended in the mining region of Pennsylvania, saying that it has received notice of an extensive and evidently preconcerted emigration of aliens to that quarter. We can manage our mining districts. In October, coal and iron and oil went for the Union ; in November, wheat and corn will do as well.

After a canvass in this and other States_ of unexampled energy and eloquence, untold ruin, multiplying the evils of war DANIEL DOUGHERTY will, this evening, speak, under the auspices of the Union League, at the Academy of Music. His appeal to the people of New York, at the Cooper Institute, last night, was, from all accounts, one of extraordinary power. At a time when so many Catholic Irish-

Devoted to his church, which Gen. McCLELLAN's position is based, he has never for a single moment hesitated in his devotion to his country. Every Union man and woman should listen to his address to-night.

> THE letter of Hon. HENRY G. STEBBINS. of New York, published in THE PRESS of yesterday, is one of the manliest utterances a type of the genuine Democrat and gentleman. Elected to Congress without seeking the office, he entered the House of Representatives with a heart beating for his country, but had not long occupied his seat before he discovered that the leaders of his party were committed, body and soul, to the rebellion. Too upright to give them his support, he was too proud to retain a position and to vote against those to whom he owed his election, and he therefore resigned his place and took his stand under the flag of his country, avowing his purpose to co-operate with the friends of Mr. LINCOLN. Here now is one of those examples which, like the star in the firmament that guides the mariner along the pathless deep, should arouse the convictions of all honest men and lead them away from wrong. Colonel STEBBINS is a gentleman of immense fortune, rare acquirements, and lofty personal character.

If he had chosen to act with the present Democratic leaders they would have showered honors and offices upon him ; but he preferred to sacrifice office to his stern sense of public duty, and is once more in private life, where he will always be loved cipate in this imposing ceremony, and we think we may promise one of his most inspiring effusions.

ORDERS No. 65. 1. That the interest of the Government and the welfare of this Department may be main-tained, it is ordered that refugees, deserters from the rebel lines, and citizens of States in rebellion, who are now within this Department, or who may enter it before the eighth (8th) day of November. inst., shall report to the nearest district or town provost marshal, that they may be registered and description recorded, and to receive proper certifi-cate and papers. dicating her own laws? It matters not what the decision may be here, the State of New York demands the offender, if there is one, and insists upon receiving him. It is the justice of New York that must overtake these men, if they have been cultur. If they have been guilty. If any other tribunal tries them; what is the measure of punishment for them? In all laws there is a punishment for their violation, but what is to be the punishment here? If there is no limit, then there is no boundary

If there is no limit, then there is no boundary beyond which the court cannot go. There are in this matter grave consequences, both to the laws of the country and to the parties charged. It is a theory of all courts that have not a gene-ral jurisdiction, that before they carry into effect their findings, they must make up the record, and what law can this court cite, giving them jurisdic-tion over this case? Will they assume it because it would have been a proper subject for legislation ? Mr. Gillette then-cited the case of a court martial ordered at Puebla during the Mexican war, by an officer named Hughes, and he was afterwards mulcted in heavy damages in the district, because the military court had no jurisdiction over the offence charged. The counsel said he believed in all sincerity this court had no jurisdiction over the case. If the parties charged with a crime had been subject to military duty, the court would then have had jurisdiction. .... .... ...... .... 14,486 ***** ..... .....

And jurisdiction. Col. Foster, Judge Advocate, in reply, said that if the last argument of Mr. Gillette were true, then a military commission could not try a spy or a gue-rilla, for they were not subject to the military or-ders of the United States. They toget of tried by jury were a sight to blab.

* There was no opposition to the election of Mr. Smithers to Congress. There has been roreal test vote in Delaware in EGS 64, and it is therefore placed among the doubtful States. The vote for Judges of Supreme Court in Missouri was a contest between radical and conservative Union-ists. The complexion of the Legislature of 1863-64 is 81 for Emancipationists to 49 Democrais. I this election Gilmore (U.) lost 4,372 votes, given to Harriman (War D.) Gilmore was elected by the Le-gislature. This is a case which shows that the elec-tions of 1863 do not thoroughly show the present politi-cal status, for Gilmore was re-elected this year by about six thousand majority. In 1862 Oregon gave between three and four thou-sand Union majority for Governor. MAJORITIES IN 1864. The right of trial by jury was a right to which all claimed to be entitled, yet a guerilla couid not de-mand such a trial, nor could a traitor demand to be conducted in a court before trial. In time of war, conducted in a court before trial. In time of war, certain peace powers were necessarily suspended. Col. Foster referred to the case of Vallandigham, and quoted largely from the decision of the United States Supreme Court upon the application of Mr. Pugh for Vallandigham's release, to show they re-cognised the fact that in urgent and pecultar cases military courts had full powers and jurisdiction. In all these cases the state and condition of the rights of the soldiers have been violated, and as they are in the field, and not in a State where there are recognized courts of law, military tribu-nals were the proper ones to take note of the matter. The District of Columbia has been considered as in the field. The parties charged with the crime here were also considered as in the field, and consequently, assuming that fact, soldiers in the field had been defrauded, and by parties also in the field, and amonable to answer to a military court as the only one having a proper jurisdiction. A man is tried for murder, under circumstances of grave suspicion. The trial scene is all but a failure, for the evidence, though well delivered by all the witnesses does not bring out the facts, and the speeches of counsel are feeble in the extreme. The mise-enscene of this act, and, indeed, of the whole play, is good, but we beg leave to say that the two heroes, Jonathan and Jasper Roseblade, blunder in appearing as moustached English yeomen, and ought to sacrifice their hirsute honor to the reality of the costume. Business has been suspended, and everybody is arming. A tug has been sent out to reconnoitre. Three men have been arrested for firing in the street. Men and arms have been sent for.

[SECOND DESPATCH.] OGDENSBURG, Nov. 8-8 P. M.-A boat arrived to:

day, and reported that an organized rebel force was occupying Wall's and Maple Leaf Islands, eighteen miles above this place. She also reported a number of armed men on the islands below. A large number of strangers have been in town all day, most of whom disappeared at dusk, in the direction of the islands.

Five men were arrested, who refused to give any account of themselves. They were all armed with revolvers. A tugboat passed down this afternoon, hugging the American shore, with about forty mer on board. A force has been sent out to reconnoitre in the direction of the islands.

The citizens are forming companies, which are stationed at the railroad depots, etc. Flour, grain, etc., are being sent away, and preparations are going on for an attack.
