James Duff vs. William B. Dodson and John B. Adler. This was an action of replevin. Duff, the plaintiff in this suit, is the keeper of a livery-stable, between Fourth and Fifth streets, on Prune, which he some few years since rented from defendants. In the fall of 1863 it was alleged on his behalf, (and a written agreement to that effect was offered in evidence,) that the ostensible owner, Adler, sold or agreed to sell the property to him at a fixed price, at which he agreed to take it. Owing te the fact that Adler could make no clear title to the property, a deed was not executed to plaintiff under the agreement, but he subsequently purchased the same at sheriff's sale, and took therefor a sheriff's deed, under which he now claims title; and further, that his title should extend back to the date of the criginal agreement to purchase. Plaintiff's horses were levied upon to satisfy arrears of rent accrued up to the sheriff's sale, and this suit is brought to settle the dispute. Verdict for defendants. Rent in arrears, $112.50. INSUFFICIENT SCHOOL ACCOMMODATIONS. Mr. Hilles offered the following:
Whereas, The duty of establishing schools for the proper accommodation of all children who desire to avail themselves of our system of publiceducation, by law, falls upon this Board; and
Whereas, This Board would be derelict in duty, Whereas, This Board would be derolict in duty, and justly densurable by the whole community if it neglected to submit to Councits the present need of additional buildings, especially when from want of proper accommodations the lives and health of children and teachers are constantly imperilled; therefore,
Resolved, That the secretary of this Board be instructed to furnish a copy of these resolutions, and the following statement to the members of Select Thos. J. Munday, whose case upon a charge of false pretence and larceny was before reported, was yesterday convicted. The jury, however, recommended him to mercy. Sentence was deferred. Thomas Boyd was convicted of bigamy. It appeared in evidence that he married his first wife in Ireland twenty-seven years ago, and his second (the first being still alive, and having lived with him in this country for many years) in February last in this city. Sentence, to an imprisonment of eighteen months in the Eastern Penitentiary.

To-day being election day, none of the courts will sit. Council, viz:

That a large proportion of the buildings rented as school houses are utterly unit for the purpose, in evidence whereof we state that schools are held in manufactories, shanties, basements of churches partly under ground, hose houses, engine houses, and hook-and-ladder houses. In one instance a stamanufactories, shantes, basements of chirches partly under ground, hose houses, engine houses, and hook and ladder houses. In one instance a stable has been converted into a school house, in another a rope-walk shed has been partitioned off into division rooms, and in another case a school is dismissed on the occasion of hard rains, in consequence of the flooding of an adjoining creek. One school has a standing pool in the cellar two feet deep. Many schools have no yards, and many are crowded almost beyond human endurance. In one school one hundred and twenty-eight pupils are forced into a small room unable to accommodate half the number with due regard to comfort or health. In another school 300 pupils of five divisions are jammed into a room 22 by 57 feet. In one school 80 children occupy an attic. In another 250 are crowded into a single room over a gas-fitter shop. In all rented buildings, with very few exceptions, the cellings are low, the rooms badly lighted and miscrably ventilated. They are wretchedly heated in winter and oppressively hot in summer. It is, indeed, a rare thing to find a rented building suited either to health, comfort or convenience. There are cases where children are seated on floors, on tops of desks, and in chimneys.

The foregoing but feebly illustrates the utter unsuitableness of many of our schools, and we can procure no better accommodation. In such buildings are we compelled to keep the children of our citizens for six hours per day, and with these inefficient accommodations about three thousand children who have a right to be entered into our schools are waiting admission.

Resolved, That it be respectfully submitted to Sechildren who have a right to be entered into our schools are waiting admission.

Resolved, That it be respectfully submitted to Select Council that the condition of our schools requires the early passage of the loan bill now before that body, the same having been passed by a unanimous vote of the Common Jouncil.

Resolved, That the Board of Control, representing the educational interests of 75,000 children of our the educational interests of 75,000 children of our clitzens, earnestly urge the prompt passage of said bill, and that we ask this to save life and health. We ask it now because several thousand children are waiting admission into our schools; we ask it knowing that no large city of the United States is so inadequately supplied with school buildings as our own; we ask it because we know that the sentiment of the whole community is, Educate the young, but we beg you will not do so at the cost of life or health; and we also ask the passage of the bill on the score of economy.

DISHISSAL OF MR. CREGAR. Mr. Freeborn presented the following resolution:
Whereas, the true interests of the Girls' High and Normal School require a change of the principal, it is therefore. it is therefore

Resolved, That the effice of principal of said school shall be declared vacant on the 31st of December next, and that the services of Mr. Cregar, the principal, will no longer be required.

Dr. Nebinger moved to lay the resolution on the table.

The year and nays were required, and were as follows:
YEAS-Messrs. Abel, Fagen, Hookey, Levick,
Linde, McGeoy, Nebinger, and Witham—8.
NAYS-Messrs. Clark, Crout, Cushman, Duffy,
Fletcher, Freeborn, Haines, Hilles, Marks, Moore,
Noble, Rittenhouse, Stewart, Vaughan, and Shippen, President—15.
So the question was determined in the negative. pen, President—15.

So the question was determined in the negative.
Dr. Nebinger knew that there were several new members of the Board who knew nothing about the state of affairs at the Girls' High School. They had never been inside of the walls of the institution, and he believed that they would not deprive a man of his situation without a fair and impartial examination of the subject, and he offered the following:

Whereas, A large number of the present Board of Control have no personal knowledge whatever of the Girls' High and Normal School, or its principal, as they have never even been inside of the school house, and know nothing of its condition or management; therefore

Resolved, That this Board, exclusive of the Standing Committees on the School, be divided into four sub-committees of five each, whose duty it shall be to visit the High School successively at least once a month, and make monthly reports of said visits to this Board.

Mr. Levick opposed the resolution offered by Mr. Freeborn. He had visited the Girls' High School, and had seen its workings. He was aware that the principal of that institution was as open to faults as human nature the world over was, and he believed that a change would not be to the interests of the school.

Mr. Freeborn, in answer to Dr. Nebinger, said Mr. Freeborn, in answer to Dr. Nebinger, said that he, Dr. Nebinger, had said when the question of dismissing Mr. Oregar was under discussion, that if they would allow the matter to lie over that Mr. Oregar would resign. Now, Dr. Nebinger wants the matter postponed, because new members had come into the board, who did not know the issues involved. If the matter be postponed now, there will be other new members coming into the board in January, and the question could never come up for final decision before the board.

Dr. Nebinger denied having said that Mr. Oregar would reisgn. He said that Mr. Oregar had said that if the High School Committee would show to him that the interests of the institution would be forwarded by his resignation, he would resign. The committee had not attempted to do anything of the kind. Mr. Oregar had, since the charges were brought against him, entirely revolutionized affairs under his charge. He was now ready to stand the blame of every wrong that occurred in the institution.

Dr. Nebinger withdrew his resolutions at the sne. ncol. Mr. Freeborn, in answer to Dr. Nebinger, said Dr. Nebinger withdrew his resolutions at the suggestion of the Chair that he believed them to be out of order.

Mr. Abel moved that the resolution expelling Mr. Cregar be postponed till the 31st of April next. Lost—yess 11, nays 12.

The resolution of Mr. Freeborn passed finally—yeas 15, nays 8—the vote being the same as the vote on the resolution to postpone. RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF THOS. G. HOLLINGS-WORTH.

Mr. Shippen moved that, out of respect to Thos. G. Hollingsworth, at one time president of this Board, who has lately departed this life, the Board adjourn.

Dr. Nebinger heartily seconded the resolution of Mr. Shippen. The resolution passed. Adjourned.

The CHESTNUT STREET BRIDGE.

The Chestnut-street bridge building has been the object of public comment recently as to the cause of the delay. There is not the least doubt that the bridge would have been finished long since, but unforeseen obstacles arose incident to the war, such as the scarcity of vessels, &c. Besides this, the prices of material advanced and laborers became scarce. The stone work has been ready for the past four months to receive the iron work. The stone used in the construction of the abutments, plers, &c., was brought from the State of Maine; at least the greater part of it was brought from the quarries of that great down-east State. The bridge will be finished in as short a time as possible, and thus add another connecting link between East and West Philadelphia. RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF THOS. G. HOLLINGS.

SHOCKING CASE OF BRUTALITY.

Lewis J. Welsh was arraigned yesterday on the charge of committing a brutal assault and battery upon Josephine Dunn, a woman whom it is alleged he lived with as his wife, in the rear of St. Stephen's Church, on Tenth street, below Market. This fellow was arrested for garroting a citizen on Saturday night, near Sixth and Walnut streets. The garroted individual failed to appear. He is said to be a stranger in Philadelphia. In reference to the assault and battery on Mrs. Dunn, it is said that he beat her at intervals for two hours with a stove plate. The victim is not expected to recover. Her head and face are shockingly disfigured, and her body is full of contused wounds. The wonder is that she has so long survived her injuries. Alderman Welding proceeded to her residence yesterday and took her affidavit of the facts. The accused was committed to answer. SHOCKING CASE OF BRUTALITY.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] THE LATE SHOOTING CASE. Jacob Kitchen (not Ketchum, as printed yester-day) had a hearing at the Central Station, yester-day afternoon, on the charge of being concerned in the shooting affair at Mr. Becker's lager beer saloon, on Saturday night last. There was no evidence that on Saturday night last. There was no evidence that he shot Collins. He claims ownership of the pistol found on the floor. The prisoner was led to bail in the sum of $1,000 to await another hearing.

It seems that on Saturday night Chief Ruggles had his police force admirably arranged in case of riot. A desperate fellow, infufflated with bad liquor, made his appearance about Sixth and Chestnut streets, and behaved in a boisterous manner. At first the police officers remonstrated with him, and he defied arrest. Several officers ran him to the station house. Hughes, standing near the scene, sneered at the officers, and made the remark that one officer ought to be able to take a single prisoner. Detective Bartholomew, standing there, told the fellow to keep quiet. This he did not feel disposed to do. The result was a collision between him and Mr. Bartholomew, which resulted in the intermeddler being landed in the lockup. Upon searching him a bunch or handcuffkeys, and a commission from a provost marshal were found upon him. He was held until it could be ascertained how or by what authority he had these
