Sketch of General Edgar M. Gregory.
The following sketch of General Gregory is from	L
mirers in this city:

the pen of one of his many personal friends and ad-mirers in this city: Edgar M. Gregory was born at Sand Lake, Rens-selaer county, New York, January 1st, 1804. At the age of eighteen he went to Deposit, Delaware county, New York, where he was engaged in busi-ness for his brother many years, and afterwards for himself, as a lumber merchant. While at this place he associated himself with the Presbyterian Church; and at the age of thirty he became an elder of the Church; and here also he commanded a regiment of State milita. In 1840 he closed his businers at this place and removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was engaged as a lumber merchant and also as a banker. He took a very active part in affairs connected with the Christian Church in Oincinnati, and assisted in instituting a Sabbath school in the western section of the city, from which has originated one of the prominent churches at that place. He has always held a prominent sta-tion in public affairs, interesting himself in all the great and good objects of the day, and, in the lan-guage of a prominent citizen of Cincinnati, there was no good cause in which he was not engaged which had the glory of God and the good of souls for its object. In home and foreign missions, tract societies, &c., he always took an active part, and he early became the president of the Young Men's Bible Society of Cincinnati, which position he held for sixteen years, never forgetting the poor drunkard and dow-trodden slave; the first sharing his labors by night and day, when there was any hope or reclaiming him. And on the subject of slavery he has ever been one of its firm opponents, always predicting to his friends and family that it was the curse of cur land, and that if permitted to live 1007 thirty years his prayers have gone up dally for the delivery of slavery. Early in 1860 he became a resi-dent of Philadelphia, and at the breaking out of the rebuilton he took an active and prominent part among his follow-cititrens in onecourasi milet-cause of the Union and freedom. of Thirteenth ward. Shortly after the organization of this body, it was proposed to raise a regiment for field service out of the Home Guard of Phila-delphia, which was responded to by several different companies: Captain Gregory being among the first to respond in urging the formation of this regi-ment for the field, was, at the beginning of the organization, chosen as its colonel, and obtained authority direct from the Secretary of War to pro-ceed at once in its formation. In July, 1861, the enterprise began, and by January his regiment (the 91st P. V.) numbered nearly one thousand men. On the 21st of that month it left Philadelphia to join the army, and, through his exertions, the discipline, management, and line appearance of his regiment excited so much interest in the War De-partment that it was detained in. Washington to act as provest guard of that elty, a post of honor which discipline, management, and fine appearance of his regiment excited so much interest in the War De-partment that it was detained in Washington to act as provost guard of that city, a post of honor which it well deserved. In taking this position they relieved the 4th Re-gular U. S. Infantry. While his regiment was en-gaged in this duty; Coil. G. became well known to the Military Department at Washington as being a man of superior ability and intellect, and in a very short time he was ordered to the post of Alexandria, Va., as Military Governor, which laborious and re-sponsible position he filled with a dignity and firm-mess of purpose which none but a true patriot and soldier, a polished gentleman, and an upright, honest, business man could have done. In the ad-ministration of his office there he more than once showed evidence of such superior qua-lifications and fitness for his position that the authorities at Washington gave him the unin-terrupted management and control of Alexandria for soveral months. As Military Governor, the in-defatigable energy and persoverance with which he administered justice and the business of the Govern-ment can never be too much extolled. Ever at his post, his hours for business being unlimited, he was from surfise until midnight, and frequently far into the morning, found busily ongaged over the business of the day, never weary until all matters demand-ing his attention were thoroughly disposed of and Bettled. His faithfuness to the Government while in this position will long be remembered by those connected with him, and also by those who received justice at his hands ; and many of the soldiers who lay wounded and diseased in the hospitals in Alexan-dris, while he was there, will ever remember the kind and generous heart of Col. Gregory, who was ever mindful of their comfort and care. The celebrated fugitive slave case which he decided is well known to have been a feature of much interest and im-portance, at that time, which des not need to be re-cited here, as it so well, his conduct in the field was equally admira-ble, always ready in every emergency to lead and share the dangers of his men. In the most perilous of fields, his undaunted courage and gallantry have brought the heart-felt applause of his men. His gallantry at the battle of Frede-ricksburg filled his men with so much confi-dence and esteem that they shortly afterwards presented him with a fine horse and a magnificent and costly sword as a teken of their appreciation of his merits. His honorable and gallant deeds having been brought before the President by prominent been brought before the President by prominent

"Is that so?" said Carlin, "I didn't know that; you're a smart fellow." The scene at the room in the hotel was rather amusing. Officer. Carlin, having obtained all the points, proceeded to the door of the apartment oo-cupied by Charles Howard, and rapped. "Who's there ?" said a voice from within. "Open the door quick, Charlie," responded the rapper.

to the inmate. "Who are you, sir ?" demanded Charles. "Put your clothes on," responded the detective. "What do you want with me ?" "At this moment Carlin espying a revolver seized that and put it into his pocket. "What are you going to do with that ?" "Keep it, for the present. Put your clothes on, for I want you to go to Fith and Chestnut street; to see a friend."

See a friend." Subsequently the room was searched by Messrs. Crout and Carlin, and beneath the bed occupied by Wm. Davis the blackjack was found. The vallees, &c., of the prisoners were taken to the Central Sta-tion, and underwent the process of "stripping." The prisoners were committed to await a further hearing, at such time as it will be convenient for the proprietor of the robbed store at Jersey City to appear. appear.

[Before Mr. Alderman Welding.] FOURTH WARD ELECTION OFFICERS AR-

RESTED. Philip Madden, judge; Jahn McKeown and John O'Kanë, inspectors; R. P. Murray and Charles Mo-Oallister, clerks; W. H. P. Barnes and Jnc. Lough-lin, return inspectors; J. Finnegan and J. G. Ral-ston, return clerks, all of the Eighth division or pre-cinct of the Fourth ward, were arraigned yesterday, on the charge of cheating or defrauding at the re-cent clection. The frauds alleged to have been per-petrated there, and to which attention was called in The Pross some time since, are said to be as gross an outrage as was ever perpetrated on the rights of honest voters. The defendants were held to bail in the sum of $800 each to appear this morning at ten o'clock. The residents of that precinct, who are cognizant of any fraud committed, are requested to be in attendance at the hearing. RESTED.

[Before Mr. Alderman Hutchinson.]

[Before Mr. Alderman Hutonizson.] OUTRAGEOUS CONDUCT. Two persons, giving the names of H. W. Nagle and John Benners, were arraigned yesterday morn-ing on the charge of entoring a lager beer saloon, situate near Broad and Coates streets, on Monday night, beating the proprietor most unmeroifully, and then attempting to rob the money-drawer. During the disturbance the police pounced into the saloon, and arrested the two alleged aggressors. The defendants vere locked up in the nearest sta-tion-house for the night, and yesterday they were "dead headed" to the county prison to await their trial. trial.

> Before Mr. Alderman Miller,] STOLEN GOODS.

Dennis Killer and Dorothy Kehow were arraigned pennis kiner and Dorokly kenow were arraighed yesterday on the charge of receiving goods stolen from the United States Military Hospital, situate at Haddington, Twenty-fourth ward. The defen-dants have places of business in that section of the city, and it is alleged that goods stolen from the hospital were found there. The parties were held to bail.

[Before Mr. U S. Commissioner Smith.]

[Before Mr. U S. Commissioner Smith.] FULLY COMMITTED. James. Green had a hearing yesterday on the charge of enlisting a minor, and then enticing him to desert, as already mentioned at a primary hear-ing before Mr. Alderman Beitler. In addition to the facts developed, as published, it was in evidence yesterday that he was ready to furnish life preservers to enable deserters to cross deep streams in safety. The accused was bound over in the sum of $1,500 to answer at the present term of the United States District Court. The father of the lad is a member of the Legislature of the State of Maine. He will remain in Philadelphia for the purpose of attending the trial.

THE COURTS.

District Court-Judge Sharswood: Fanny Eshelman vs. Ellis Lewis. An action of ejectment to recover possession of certain property. In West Philadelphia. The plaintiff alleged that she became the purchaser in 1861, at sheriff's sale, as she supposed, of the property in question, through her agent, Jeremiah Bonsali, at all events, her money paid for it. It was bid in by Waldron J. Cheyney, as the testified, at the request of Mr. Bonsali, who gave him the impression at the time that it was for the Butchers' and Drovers' Association and not for plaintiff that he was acting. The theriff's tills was taken by and in the 'name of Mr. Cheyney, who soon 'after, at the instance of Jeremiah Bonsali, conveyed to Joseph Bonsali, and he in turn to the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank. From the Bank Mr. Lewis, the defendant, took title, which in this suit he defended. His defence was that he purchased of the Bank for value; and that he had no notice of an adverse claim. Verdict for defendant. Ramsden & Co. vs. Tomilinson. An action on book account; before-reported. Verdict for plaintiff, $J,041.65. Joseph R. Flanagan vs. The Oity of Philadelphia. army efficients, the well-earned rank of brigadler ge-neral has recently been conferred upon him for ser-vice rendered. He is a man whom Philadelphia can boast of as being one of the ablest and most worthy goldiers which she has sent to battle against the enemies of our Government. Few have borne as prominent a part in the fields and dangers of this war, although bat little of his merits have ever been brought before the public. As a colonel he has ac-quitted himself as one of the most competent and reliable officers in the army, and there is every rea-son to believe that in his new position as general he will not fail to render services worthy of his rank. He has been twice wounded in battle.

MISCELLANEOUS. WATER.

WATER. The work of extendidg the Kensington Water Works is being rapidly completed. The two piers are finished, and the suction-main is being put in its place. The reservoir at Fairmount and the forebay are being cleansed. It is ten years since this work was performed, and a deposit of mud of a foot in-depth has been formed in that time, diminishing to that extent the capacity of the reservoir. One basin at a time, is cleaned, and the mud is sent down through a chute or trough into a cart at the foot of the hill. It is then taken to fill up ground in the Park. The work is pushed forward rapidly by means of a portable steam-engine and other con-trivances. There are about 217,800 feet of mud to be removed. The space occupied by the basins is about five acres. The old wheel-house has not been in operation for some time, owing to the forebay being cleaned out. All the water now used is forced by the wheels and pumps in the new wheel-house. A large number of fish have been captured in the basins. Some of them were quite large, and have no doubt lived in the basins for some time. The old mineral spring near the Spring Garden Water Works, which was famous some thirty years ago, has been cleaned out, and a pipe laid so as to con-vey the water to the works for the use of visitors. The water is said to be much better than that from the spring in Fairmount Park. THE VOTE OF THE SOLDIERS.

Among the returns opened this morning, by the Prothomotary of the Court of Common Pleas, were the following: Seven companies of the 90th Regi-giment, Colonel Lyle, give 17 Lincoln, 33 McOlei-ian; seven companies of the 196th Regiment, 136 Lincoln, 17 McOleilan; Fort Mittlin, 27 Lincoln, 136 Lincoln, 17 McOleilan; Fort Mittlin, 27 Lincoln, 136 McOleilan; Company H, 1st Artillery, 5 Lincoln, 23 McOleilan; Camp Fry, Washington, 47 Lincoln, 4 McOleilan. The vote on board the United States steamer Powhatan stands 21 Lincoln, 30 McOleilan; on the New Ironsides, 39 Lincoln to 29 McOleilan. The soldiers' vote, as far as counted, stands Lincoln 1,844; McOleilan 900. Lincoln's majority 944. THE YACHT LELY. THE VOTE OF THE SOLDIERS.

THE YACHT LILY. THE YACHT LILY. We were informed last evening that the yacht Lily, capsized in a storm on Saturday evening last, was raised yesterday, and will probably be brought to Philadelphia to-day. At the latest account none of the drowned bodies had been found.

The plaintiff, it seems, was employed by a Mr. Lawrence to sell his farm, in Delaware. Mr. Lawrence took some of Mr. Os-borne's property in part payment for his farm, upon which the plaintiff charged both parties a commission. The defence was that Mr. Osborne did not employ plaintiff as his agent, and that he was represented throughout the transaction by his own conveyancer. Verdict for defendant. Court of Common Pleas-Judge Allison. Wilson C. Weeker vs. Thomas Hardin. A feign-ed issue to test the validity of the will of William Hardin, late of West Philadelphia, deceased. On trial.

Court of Quarter Sessions-Judge Thomp

Court of Quarter Sessions-Judge Thomp-son. Michael Myers was tried yesterday on a charge of riot and assault and battery on the night of the late Democratic procession. The evidence was con-flicting, and, before the case was concluded, the Commonwealth abandoned the charge of riot. As to the charge of assault and battery, the jury ac-quitted, but required defendant to pay the costs. Walter Barry, the keeper of a tavern at Tenth and Jefferson streets, was convicted of a charge of selling liquor to a drunken man. The wile of this man had notified defendant not to sell her husband any more liquor. He treated her with insolence; said that he made his living by selling liquor, and told hart ogo about her business. He was discharged from his situation one day while drunk at defendant's place. Sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and to under-
