"Boys, Keep Your Eyes on That Flag."* Keep your eyes on that Flag, boys; its azure-True blue-is the color of Heaven; Each star on its field is a treasure By Freedom from tyranny riven.

'Tis red with the blood of God's heroes, Who died for the weal of God's men; 'Tis white with God's justice to cheer us-Keep your eyes on it boys, to defend. Keep your eyes on that Flag-tis of Freemen. The Ægis and hope of the slave; The darling of soldiers and seamen,

The ban of the traitor and knave; Kings love not the banner which flashing Aurora-like light o'er the earth, Is the symbol of Liberty-clashing With the right to be despot by birth. Keep your eyes on that Flag, boys, in battle,

As it luringly gleams through the gloom; What recks it of musketry's rattle, It flaunts at the rebel his doom. Charge! charge, boys! the foeman is flying; A curse on the cowards who lag; What matter, though wounded or dying, Still, boys, keep your eyes on the Flag. Keep your eyes on that Flag, there is glory

To gain where it marshals the van; There are names to be won for the story Of Liberty's triumph for man. Shall Liberty triumph ? Then rally! And dash to the front with the brave, As Sheridan swept up the Valley, With your eyes on the Flag, boys, to save.

Keep your eyes on that Flag-'neath its waving on traitors shall sink to their doom: No man fellow-mankind enslaving, For Peace sweetly smiles through the gloom. When War's dread alarms are all ended, With children and wife by your side, As you cling to the homes you've defended, Keep your eyes on the Fiag, boys, in pride.

COOPER-SHOP REFRESHMENT SALOON.

This well-known particite institution, by which hundreds of thousands of Union Soldiers have been fed since the breaking out of the rebellion, still continues in its sphere of usefainess. There are continually going through our city, both to and from the scene of rebellion, many soldiers who are promptly cared for by the committee who have voluntarily imposed upon themselves the task of feeding the heroes. Though little has been publicly said recently about the famous old Cooper-Shop, yet the good work is going on silently. This was thought to be necessary, because the United States Government desired that the movement of troops should not be made known through the medium of the press. Therefore, the people should not suppose, for a single instant, that the work of feeding the soldiers has ceased because no mention is made of it in the newspapers. The committee are in want of funds, and will be happy to receive voluntary contributions. In reference to the institution, we may state that Miss Cordella Cappell, a gifted young lady, will appear at Concert Hall on Tuesday evening next, and give a series of patrictic readings and recitations for the benefit of the Cooper-Shop. Thus the public will have an opportunity of passing a pleasant evening of instruction, while, at the same time, they will contribute to a very meritorious institution.

SLIGHT FIRE.

A slight fire occurred yesterday morning in a one-story brick dwelling, at the southwest corner of Passyunk road and Federal street. The damage done was triling.

FOUND DEAD.

A man, apparently about thirty years of age, was found upon the Junction road yesterday morning. He is supposed to have failen from the cars. The decased had the letters "C. R. C." marked upon his left wrist. He wore a black beaver coat, a plaid vest, mixed purple and black pants, and a black Kossuth hat.

Alleged ROBEERY.

It was reported yesterday that $2,400 in gold, and over $500 in paper money had been stolen from a house situated near Eighth and Callowill streets. The money, it is said, was left by a deceased relation to the care of the gentleman whose house was robbed.

We are requested to direct attention to an advertisement in the Personal column of this day's Press, seeking important information in reference to the sister of Mr. J. M. Staples; who was Burdered on the list of July, 1864 while assisting in the arrest of highway robbers in El Dorado county. California, the process of the show of the angent of the care of the received collains of the care of the care of the received collains of the care of the defendant, she told him distinctly that all the money she had was a five-dollain of the list of July, 1864 while assisting in the arrest of highway robbers in El Dorado county. cited some suspicion. The affair was delegated to Detective Taggart, who worked it up diligently. In having an interview with defendant, she told him distinctly that all the money she had was a five-dollar note and her husband's wages. It was subsequently ascertained that she paid a grocer's bill on the same day of the alleged robbery, and tendered a $20 United States Treasury note in payment. On the afternoon, in company with an aunt, she purchased a quantity of goods at a store on Eighth street, above Chestnut.

The detective officer had an interview with the husband of the suspected woman, and expressed his opinion freely on the subject. The husband returned home at once, while the officer waited in an adjacent house. An interview finally took place between him and the wife in the presence of her husband: In regard to the $20 note offered to the grocer, the officer asked her how she accounted for that, inasmuch as she had told him that all she had was five dollars and her husband's wages. She replied that she found the note in the street. It was tied up in the corner of a handkerchief. These were the material facts adduced. It should be stated that the money taken was in $20 notes, United States Treasury. Not a particle of money was found upon defendant, nor in her possession. The counsel for defendant summed up briefly and asked for the discharge of his client, as there was no evidence that she had committed the robbery. She was a respectable married lady, whose character placed her above suspicion; and said it would require a very great stretch of the imagination to even think her gullty of any crime. The counsel for the prosecution presented the case in the strongest power of language, and though he would not say she was guilty, yet it was a case of circumstantial evidence that ought to go to a jury.

The magistrate seemed to think with the counsel for the prosecution, and therefore bound the defendant over in the sum of $1,500 to answer at Court. In regard to the defence, it is claimed to be excellent, a

THE PHILADELPHIA OLIVER TWIST CASE. The case of Chas. Howard, Wm. Davis, and C. L. Davis, charged with robbery, was called up at the Central Station yesterday afternoon. The two first-named were present. The other had "jumped his ball." An order was issued to sue out the recognizance. nizance. Mr. Masters was called to the witness stand. He Mr. Masters was called to the witness stand. He testified that he keeps store at 66 Montgomery street, Jersey City; that on the night of the 4th or morning of the 5th instant the window-shutters on the back part of the store were forced open, and a number of articles were stolen. Mr. Masters identified everal knives, a pair of gloves, a bottle of the extract of "true love," two or three counterfeit notes that had been passed on some of the attendants. These things, with others, were found in the possession of ohe accused. One or two paper boxes were also identified by private marks thereon. The knife, which, it is alleged, was given to the little boy to use for a murderous purpose, if such became necessary, was identified by Mr. Masters. The accused were committed to await the action of the authorities of the State of New Jersey.

FULLY COMMITTED. FULLY COMMITTED.

Frank McNamee, charged with the larceny of a watch, the property of John O'Hars, had a final hearing yesterday. Mr. J. Fox testified that the accused, a stranger, came to him for a ton of coal; he left a silver watch with him until the following day, when he would come and redeem it by paying for the coal. Witness never saw him before nor since until the present time. McNamee had nothing to say. He was committed in default of $1,200 ball to answer.

NOT DEAD-HEADS. The two young men arrested on the charge of beating the proprietor of a lager-beer saloon, &c., were not "dead headed" to prison. They entered ball to answer. They request a suspension of public opinion in reference to themselves.

ALLEGED LARCENY.

Thomas Makin was arraigned on Wednesday evening on the charge of the larceny of money, and two small barrels of ale, the property of Mr. Philip Gerkess, brewer. It seems from the evidence that the accused was until recently in the employ of Mr. G. After he left the establishment bills were made out against certain creditors, which upon presentation were found to have been paid some time ago. Receipts were exhibited at the hearing, showing that, on September 14th, the defendant collected $22 from E. T. Maguire, North Delaware avenue, and returned $16. On August 30th, he receipted for $11, and returned $5.50. On August 17th and 22d, he took out two barrels of ale, and he recepted for $11, and returned $5.50. On August 17th and 22d, he took out two barrels of ale, and he represented having delivered them to Messrs, E.T. Maguire and Philip Maguire. It was proven at the hearing that he had not delivered said ale. The defendant was required to enter bail in the sum of $800 to answer at court.

[Before Mr. Alderman Cloud.] LIBERATING PRISONERS. A man named Hugh Ray was arraigned yesterday morning on the charge of liberating a couple of juvenile prisoners from the lockup in the Nineteenth ward on Wednesday night. The defendant had permission to visit the lockup, and, taking advantage of the courtesy thus extended to him, unpolted the door and, it is alleged, let the prisoners go. This is a serious ofience. The defendant was bound over to answer at court. to answer at court.

Aldrich & Yerkes vs. Wm. J. Thomason & Brother. An action for damages. Defendants, it seems, manufactured for plaintiffs a large number of tin cans, into which they put liquid honey and shipped the same to Warren & Co., Cincinnati. The cans, it is alleged, proved to be leaky, and much of the honey was lost. This action is brought to recover for the loss thus occasioned. The defence denythat the cans were leaky when delivered to and accepted by the plaintiffs, and allege that the loss, if any, was caused by their own negligence. It was also contended that defendants could not be held liable for consequential damages. Jury out. H. T. King for plaintiffs; Charles Gilpin and J. K. Valentine for defendants.
