In lot No. 25, on which is situated the Kepler Well.

The Hyde And Egert farm is asknowledged to be one of the best-producing farms in the whole region.

The following remarks are taken from the financial columns of the Philadelphis Press of Nov. 16, 1831:

The excitement in oil stocks is still increasing, and the price of some of the producing companies situated and the price of some of the producing companies situated on the Hyde and Eghert Farm, which is considered one of the best on Oil Creek, having rapidly advanced within the last few days. This is owing to some large wells baving been lately struck on this property, one flowing about a thousand barrels per day, and one flowing two hundred barrels per day. The entire yield of this farm is now between fitteen hundred and two thousand barrels per day, and some doodled by the above new wells going down on this farm, on one of which the largest oil crevice yet found is said to have been struck.

The following extract is from an editorial of the Public Ledger, November 19, 1834:

"One of the most remarkable features about the present oil excitement is that, while the territory known to posses oil is so rapidly extending in area, the older settled portions, where most oil has been drawa off, are daily raising in price. The price, too, of the oil is higher than ever, being eleven dollars and a half per barrel at the wells now. Yet, all arouad oil Greek new areas have been added of far greater extent than those before known The whole of Cherry Run may be said to have come into the market since the beginning of the year, and is now c nidered the most valuable territory anywhere to be found. Wells are supposed never to fail on it."

The Company are now receiving, from the producing interests, fifty-four (64) barrels of oil daily, which will enable them to pay a handsome and prompt dividend on its capital; also, an interest in eightem wells in various stages of completion. "The present differs from our previous series in the larger space accorded to hymns 'In Time of War' and 'For Oid Age.' We have been advised to include hymns by Watts, Wesley, Cowper, and others, which had been rejected hitherto as common in church edilections; and have also given as many as we could fad of the mystical, tender songs of Madame Guyon, they being out of print in this country.

"Nor have we failed to discover a few more of the rich old Latin hyms which, filtering down through German and English translations, sink as deeply into the heart to-day as if they had only now reached native ground, proving still that before the Eternal all bearts are one, and the centuries are but as watches of a night." WEST, NO. 97 CHAMBERS STREET, NEW YORK,

Are the owners of the patent and exclusive manufacturers of this,

J. W. BRADLEY'S

PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRTS.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel byrings, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible, and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibility, it oplace and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objection to hoop skirts, viz: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church psws, or in any crowded place, from the difficulty of contracting them to occupying a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty while fiving the skirt the usual full and, symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most styligh and graceful appearance for the street, opera, prominade, or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the hest quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable, and economical exitt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most different States.
