THE CITY: CHRISTMAS AND ITS ATTRACTIONS. Whatever be the duliness of the skies or the times; whether war is desolating the fields and saddening the hearts of a people, or the heavens are overcast, and weigh us down with their leaden, sulien look, the return of Christmas is as a flood of sunshine over a darkened world; and the more sombre the hour of its advent, the more fitting is the day, for then it paints the occasion which it celebrates in appropriate colors. It tells us that, in gloom and despondency, in a scene of humble poverty, and in a time of the year when nature seems mourning for her dead, occurred the most momen. D*{LONDON PRINTING AND PUBLISHING } * E tous and joyful event of the world's history. Is it not fitting, then, that we should celebrate this time as with one universal voice, "It is fitting."

with thanksgiving and merry making? Yes, there needs no seer to tell us this; our hearts respond, To reach the first celebration of Christmas we must follow the muse of history far, very far back into her ancient traditions, until we near the great event itself. But the manner of doing honor to the day was very different from the present, and has been different still in all ages and in all countries where Christianity spread her benign influence. The memory of the old yule log and the boar's head, and the rest of the jollity of the olden Euglish Ohristmas is one of the earliest and most pleasant of our childish recollections of history. But in these days we have a different and more quiet way of enjoying Christmas, and we think it an improvement on the olden one. We appoint no master of the revels, but in his place we have that delightful old fellow whom all of us when we were young loved so much, and towards whose mythical memory we still look with such tender regret. The custom of bestowing presents upon Christmas day is one to the pleasure of which we can all testify. both as to the giving or receiving. And the display of bright goods and costly ornaments which this custom causes affords a very grateful pleasure to

There is another custom, too, incident to our Christmas merry making and very popular with nearly all clases. On one night in the year the strict authority of the law relaxes with the kindly influence of the time, and Christmas Eve is allowed a night of uproar and riotous mirth. Last Saturday night exhibited this custom, not to such a great extent as we have seen it, yet so full that Eighth and Chestnut streets seemed then pandemontums and not earthly places. From early dusk, when, by the questionable music of the horns, which custom has adopted to make this of all nights hideous, till midpight passed and ushered in the happy Christmas Day, these streets were thronged with pleasure-seekers, of all ages and conditions. The swaying of the vast crowd to and fro. the clamor of a thousand voices, the rushing hither and thither of excited people in search of missing friends, the braying of trumpets and horns, all combined to make the scene a vast Babel, in which no sense or reason seemed to dwell. And yet the happy time which called this vast throng forth from its dwelling-places, kept it in a rude good-humored kind of order. Very few disturbances occurred, and this were only of a triffing character. Bacchus had his usual number of intemperate votaries, some of whom were taken patronizingly by the arm by the tall reserves of the police force, and escorted to Fifth and Chestnut streets whence, after a short continuance in "durance vile," they were dismissed with wishes of a merry Christmas and the usual compliments of the season. And so Christmas eve passed merrily. Christmas day came fast upon its heels, with its brightness and gayety and joy, and worship of the Source of all its pleasures. Let us thank God for Christmas.

WORKING-WOMEN'S FAIR. WORKING-WOMEN'S FAIR.

The Working women's Relief Association is now holding a fair at No. 736 Arch street, where are offered for sale, besides the usual quantity of toys and sweetmeats, clothing, and other articles of use and fancy, which have been made by worthy women necessitated to work for their living. The entire profits of their labor was paid over to these women, and the fair, conducted as it is for so estimable an object, should certainly receive the kindest attention at the hands of our hencycleric tiltzens. It will tion at the hands of our benevolent citizens. It will be continued during the holidays. SOLDIERS FROM NASHVILLE.

Capt. A. Haight, with 157 soldiers and 25 guard, from Nashville, Tenn., was fed at the Cooper Shop Saloon yesterday afternoon. They all expressed themselves highly gratified with the reception. Last week Morton L. Kellogg, late second lieute-nant 162d New York Regiment, a student of this school, passed the Board of Examiners for Officers of Colored Troops, at Washington, and was recommended for captain.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE. Jas. Clatterly was arrested on Saturday evening, at Twenty-first and Spruce streets, on the charge of drunkenness. He was taken to the Central Station and placed in a cell. Soon after he was heard making a strange noise, and it was found he had out his throat. The wound, although serious, was not immediately fatal. The wounded man was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital. According to his own admission he is a deserter and a bounty jumper.

FIRES. On Saturday morning, between one and two o'clock, fiames were discovered in the coffee-roasting and spice mill of J. L. Bowles, situated upon an alley on Second street, above Race. The building is a two-and-a-half storied brick. The roof and upper portion were destroyed, and the lower partwas flooded with water, doing some damage to the machinery and stock.

Yesterday morning a frame house on Spafford street, near Shippen, was slightly damaged by fire.

THE POLICE.

[Before Mr. Alderman Beitler.] SHARP PRACTICE.

SHARP PRACTICE.

A young woman, named Jennie Brown, was arraigned on Saturday, on the charge of defrauding a colored woman, named Reed, out of the price of making up a dress. It seems that a short time since the defendant, having produced the material for a haudeome dress, desired to have it made up in a style of fashion that should appear second to nothing on Gneshnustreet. The work was accomplished, the seamstress being required to procure certain trimmings. On sending it to the young lady's residence, in the vicinity of Lombard and Twelfth streets, the messenger was told that she mut not leave the article without receiving the pay therefor. Upon taking the dress home the message was communicated to the defendent, who replied very pleasantly that "it was all right; certainly, come in." The dress was tried on, and it fitted in every teapeet. The defendant requested the messenger to be seated until ste should return with the money. The young lady, thus attired, went into another room, from which she started for the threet. The messenger waited and waited, until she came to the conclusion that she had been taken in and done for. The defendant was required to enter bail in the sum of $200 to answer at court.

VERY DISORDERLY CONDUCT. William Hagert and John Carberry were arraigned on Saturday on the charge of misdemeanor. It is alleged that y went to the lager beer 22,000 of Louis Grosch, near Twenty third and Vine atreets, a few rights since, beat Mr. G., and also his wife then broke pitchers, glasses, shutters, and smashed things genorally. One of the defendarts, it is alleged, made an attack upon the officer who arrested him. The prisoners were required to enter bail in the sum of $1,200 to answer at court. A BOUNTY-JUMPER OR DESERTER ARRESTED. A BOUNTY-JUMPER OR DESERTER ARRESTED.

On Saturday evening a man who was behaving disorderly in the vicinity of Twenty, first and Sprace streets rushed into a barber shop in that neighborhood, and suddenly estizing a razor cut his throat, but did not inflict a very severe gash. He was either insane from the effects of strong drink, or affected to be so. He was taken into custody by a police officer. While on the way to the station bouse he had what might be termed a lucid interval, for he remembered that he had a document in his pocket that he desired no one to see. Taking it from his pocket that he sidewalk. A following police officer picked them up. On putting them together it was ascertained that his name was James Statterly, aged 22 years. It is supposed that he is a bounty jumper or deserter. He was taken to the Central Station and a physician was called in, who recommended that he be removed to the Pennsylvania Hospital, whither he was taken.

DISORDERLIES.

DISORDERLIES.

During Saturday evening there were immense crowds and plenty of mud in the prilicipal streets of the city. The police allowed the usual license and to a very great extent the people seemed to outdo each other in blowing tin horns, whose mingling sounds did not seem like those of bell chimes. Thus the people passed their time away, as a general thing, on Chestant and Eighth treets. Towards the latter part of the evening, disorerly parties, recking with the fumes of bad whisky and stale is people, aking advantage of the police license, went a little too far, and were arrested. The lockup at the Central Station was soon filled. Alderman Beitler entered upon his magisterial duties, and heard the parties up to the hour of midnight. Some were discharged with a reprimand, and others were required to enter hall in the sum of $300 each to be of future good behavior. Quite a number of the prisoners, not being able to enter the required amount, were in a fair way of passing their Christmas day in the county prison.

THE COURTS.

Court of Common Pleas-Judges Thomp-GROUND RENT—IMPORTANT DECISION.

Kinike vs. Mathers. This was a case stated. Plaintiff caimed on two ground-rent deeds, dated October 12. 1773, in each of which there was a reservation of a ground rent of twenty one pure silver coined Spanish places of eight and one-third of such place of eight, each place of eight weighing seventeen pennyweights and six grains, or so much of the lawful money of the proto to time to "purchase or procure" the same; with a covenant for the payment of such rent by the grantee, his heirs and assign, in the same words as the reservation. At the time the annual rents fell due, October 12, 1863, the defendants, who were then owners of the lots out of which the ground rents were reserved, tendered twenty-one dollars and one-third in legal-tender notes of the United States as satisfaction of each of said annual rents. Plaintiff refused to accept the tender cotes of the United States as satisfaction of each of said annual rents. Plaintiff refused to accept the tender to the plaintiff claimed that he was entitled to a judgment for the highest value of the pieces of eight between the lime when the rents fell due and the time of trial.

Judge Thompson, on Saturday, said that the case did not call for any examination or decision upon the constitutionality of the legal-tender acts of Gongress, and held:

1. That the covenant was not satisfied by the fender of the notes; that the reservation was of a particular kind of coin, with the alternative of its value in lawful money:

2. That the measure of damages was the value of the coin at the time the rent fell due, and that the plaintiff could not recover more on the ground that that the spiritular to the particular hind of coin or its real value in lawful money:

2. That the measure of damages was the value of the coin at the time the rent fell due, and that the plaintiff could not recover more on the ground that that the spiritular coin of the index of Pennsylvania. LIFE OF GENERAL HANCOCK.

WINFIELD, THE LAWYER'S SON, and How he Became a Major General. By Rev. C. W. Dennison, late Chaplain U. S. Volunteers. Illustrated with handsome portrait and spirited designs by White and Cadet Hancock. Printed on fine white paper, cloth binding. The following letter received from B. F. Hancock, Esq., father of our distinguished hero, will be read with interest:

Sir: I awin receipt of the advance copy of, your life of my son 'Winfield,' and have read it with pleasure. I acknowledge the compliment implied in the unexpected honor of the dedication of the volume to me. The style is pleasing, and the historical statements are correct. It is written with spirit and in a faithful manner. The work is nearly gotten up: the likeness is a good one. I cannot but hope that 'Winfield' will be a useful volume, not only in interesting and instructing the youth of our country, but in promoting sentiments of patriotism among all our people.

Respectfully yours.

Translated from the German of George Blum and Louis Wahl. By A. L. Wister. Printed on the finest tinted paper. Handromely illustrated by White and there. One of the best fairy books yet issued. The children are all delighted with it. Price $1.75.

The American Publishers' Circular of Sect. Ist says: It is acknowledged by everybody that the German language is peculiarly rich in a class of stories comprehenced under the term "Mährchen," which are especially attractive to juvenile readers. The Grimm collection has become almost connecticated in our houses. We have here another brimming draught brought up from the same olden well. It is just such a collection as will delight the hearts of bright boys and girls. We almost envy the little folks the pure, hearty pleasure which the book will give them, as their wide opened eyes go staringly from page to page, and their little hearts beat an excited accompaniment to the unfolding of strange events. Messra. Astomeda & Evans have issued the work in the handsome style which it deserves. It is, in every way, a highly creditable apacimen of book-making. The typography is admirably executed, the paper is delicately tinted, and the binding, the gilt top and the lettering, present an attractive external appearance. We should also add that there are several appropriate and expressive illustrations. It is both a pleasure and a duty to commend such a work.

BUSY HANDS AND PATIENT HEARTS:
Or, the Blind Boy of Dresden and his Friends. A story from Germany. Price 65 cents.
From many flattering notices of this little book we clip the following:
This "Busy Hands" we shall not soon forget. The darling bright little Magda, the support of her rheumatic old mother and blind brother, is as pretty and helpful a Christmas picture as we ever set eyes on; while good Master Tanzer's and Mr Gloaming's kindness to the poor afflicted ones will lead old and young at Christmas time to think whose hearts and lot they can make blither and brighter ere the new year is rung in. We will not tell the story of the book, but begout readers who have children to buy it and read it themselves. —London Reader.
One of the very best of recent story books for children. The old struggle of cheerful piety against want, misfortune, and trial, and the final victory is told with simplicity, tenderness, and discrimination. We commend it to families and Sabbath schools. —American Presoluterian.
