In addition to this, the Company owns an important interest class paid for) in a well located within 400 yards of the great Lewellyn well, which has flowed 2,000 barrels per day, and is directly among fine celebrated Rathbone group (see map). These are, it is said, the greatest producing wells in the country. The former owners of this well were forced to abandon it on the breaking out of the rebellion, but the Company has now made arrangements to reopen and tube it, when a large yield of oil may reasonably be expected from this source alone. In addition to the above described properties, the Company owns in fees simple some 400 acros of mineral lands in Pennsylvania. This Company is most fortunate in possessing every facility for rapidly developing the oil, having on its own property both timber and coal in great abundance, and in also having the resident Superintendent of the works.
