The defence called a number of witnesses, who gave Mackin an excellent character. A former driver of Mr. Gurkus testified that the drivers were allowed to spend money to retain their oustom. The only restriction was that Mr. Gurkus told them not to throw their money away. He never heard of the five per cent. Mackin could dirty paper, but could not write.

Mr. Maguire was recalled, and stated that in a conversation with Mr. Gurkus he said he would like to settle the case if he had not gone so far with it with the lawyers. Witness said he would rather pay the money over again than go to court. John Shorty testified that Gurkert called on him to see his books, which he refused to show. Witness then paid Gurkert for half a barriel of ale, of which he had no charge whatever on Mr. Gurkus' books. Verdiet guilty, with a recommendation to mercy. A motion was made for a new trial. The law was positive against the election in the Board of Gontrol of any one not a member of the board of directors. After considerable debate, the credentials of Mr. McCutcheon were referred to a special committee of three. The president appointed the following gentlemen to constitute the committee: Messra. Haines, Vaughan, Fletcher.

Mr. Levick offered a resolution that a committee of seven be appointed to prepare a memorial to the Legislature, asking for a revision of the school laws of the Commonwealth. The resolution was adopted, and the chair appointed Messrs. Levick, Fletcher, Mcore, Freeborn, Nebinger, Hilles, and Marks.

Timothy Justice sworn.—I arrived here last night by the Baitimore train, and went to the tavern across from the depot; I came out shortly after; when a man came up, caught me by the coat, and said: "Come, you can go with me to any place, and it shan't cost you anything;" I said no, I intended stopping at the tavern all night; just then another man came up, and, running his hand is my pocket, took my pocket-book, and ran to a carriage and jumped on the box; I caught at him, when he beat me, and attempted to drive off; I seized the horses by the head and orled for help, when a policeman came up; I had $55 in money in my pocket-book, and my discharge from the army.

The policeman who made the arrest corroborated the statement of the witness as to the arrest, and said it was a nightly occurrence that men were robbed and beaten at the depot. The court fixed $3,000 as the ball for the appearance of defendant this morning, when he will be tried.

ANOTHER CHARGE OF ROBBERY. FAST CONDUCTORS.

In the course of an argument made in the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday, District Attorney Mann referred to the rapidly increasing ovil of stealing, and the manner in which it was countenanced by the community. Men receiving small salaries suddenly splurged out and erected large houses, not warranted by their means honestly obtained, yet the friends who, a few years ago, under the morals of that period, would have forsaken them as being dishonest men, now cling more closely around them. being dishonest men, how oling more closely around them.

He cited the case of a conductor on a passenger car in this city, of which he had knowledge, who took on a down trip $1.25, of which he returned to the company five cents, and retained $1.20 for himself. On the up-trip he took up a number of passengers, and said to the starter that he had succeeded in making something for the company as well as himself, but he always took care of himself first. ANOTHER CHARGE OF ROBBERY. Joseph Frenc was also arraigned on a charge of attempting to steal, and pleaded not guilty.

This transaction also occurred at the depot on Monday night.

To a charge of maliciously breaking the cells at the First-ward station house, he pleaded guilty.

The prosecutors in these cases are strangers, and are left in this city penniless, and without personal friends. Alderman Lutz took them from the court house, and will no doubt see to their wants for the present. Adjourned. well as himself, but he always took care of himself first.

This certainly was a very fast knight of the rear platform and strap in a financial view, and this reminds us that conductors generally are getting very fast. If persons are so unfortunate as to be of the male gender, but few conductors ever stop the car for them, and they get on the best way they can. With those of the lemale gender, however, these knights are more courteous, for they permit a woman to get one foct upon the step, when "click" goes the gong, and away goes the car, the would-be passenger sorambling on to the platform of the car or falling off, as the case may be. This is no fancy sketch, but a sad reality, as many of our citizens can substantiate. THE POLICE. substantiate.

The monthly meeting of the Board was held on Tuesday afternoon. John P. Crozer, Esq., president, occupied the chair. A letter was read from ex Governor Pollock, acknowledging his recent election as a vice president of the society. Resolutions offered by Mr. Wm. V. Pettit, Esq., were manimously adopted expressing grief in view of the death of Hon. R. R. Reed, a vice president of the society, of Washington, Pa. Mr. Wm. F. Nelson, of Barbados, was introduced, who made, in connection with Mr. J. S. Attwell, interesting statements about the spirit of emigration on the part of hundreds who wish to settle on the St. John's river, in the republic of Liberta. Liberal subscriptions in aid of this new and important enterprise were reported by the corresponding secretary.

J. M. BILLINGS & CO. CAMP CADWALADER.

There are numerous complaints freely circulated respecting the monstrous courages upon the rights of the people of Philadelphia that have been computed at Camp Cadwalader. 1. M. BILLINGS from recruits, form a subject that every person in Philadelphis must feel an interest in. Much of the money retained by the officials there under a military rule, which is probably proper in itself, has been furnished by Philadelphia; and as recruits have received passes and deserted, the money ought to be restored to the city government, whence it was issued. The committees of the wards who are interesting themselves in filling up the quots of the city under the next draft should take some action in the matter. It is vaguely reported that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been withheld. The real amount might possibly be ascertained if proper inquiry should be made. A special committee, representing the City Councils, would probably be respectfully received, as it was recently stated by a high Government official that the United States Government did not want the money so retained. pounds.
