Lippincott & Co. we have a handsome volume entitled "Autumn Leaves," by Samuel Jack. son Gardner, published by Hurd & Houghton, New York, and printed at the far-famed Riverside Press. essays, upon a variety of topics, with a sprinkling of original poetry. Dr. Gardner writes English admirably; knowing the exact meaning of the words he uses, he is always lucid in expression, saying precisely what he intends to say. There is a subdued generally brief, terse, and racy. He invests ordinary subjects with grace, and the traces of a reflective mind are visible all through. His prose, to our taste, is better than his poetry. In the lines upon Boston he commences a verse,

Bo gracefully she sits. Upon her gentle heights, and thereby violates the law that rhymes must agree in sound, which sits and heights never did and never can. In the remarks entitled "Exaggeration in Conversation," .Dr. Gardner properly censures a habit that many persons have (it is more espe cially an English abuse), of interlarding their talk with current cant phrases, and says, "One ple's talk for several years past; it is the phrase 'you know.' A gentleman of this school addressed us the other day somewhat as follows: 'On my arrival at Washington, you know, I was sent for by the President, you know, who wanted to see me on a matter of importance. I did not suppose I should see Miss Lane, you know, but I was shown, you know, by express command of the President, into charming in conversation, you know, as she was fascinating in person, &c. Now I did not know any of these things, and, what is more, I did not eve them; but such poor gabble as this prevails extensively." Our readers may take our word for good deal above the ordinary level of essay writing. The December number of the Journal of the Fran lin Institute, closing the 78th volume, copies from the London Civil Engineers' and Architects' Journal a paper upon Steam Bollers, read before the British Association, and written by Zerah Colburn-son we believe, of the mathematical prodigy, Vermont born, whose wondrous powers of mental computs tion excited great surprise not only in this country but in Great Britain and France, over fifty years ago. In this paper an account is given of the Steam Boiler invented and manufactured by Mr. Joseph Harrison, Jun. LAUNCH OF THE IRON CLAD SANDUSKY.—The fron-clad Sandusky, which has been in course of construction the past eighteen months; was launched on Wednesday afternoon from the shipyard of Tomlirson, Hartupee, & Co., on the Monongahela, above Pittsburg. The Sandusky is one hundred and seventy-two feet long, fifty feet breadth of beam, and, as the sits in the water, draws about three feet forward and four aft. At twenty minutes to 2, overything being in readiness, the bonds which held the vessel on the ways were severed, and she sped like

She ran across the river nearly to the opposite bank before her bow was turned downward, and rode the water beautifully. The launch was a perfect success, and the boat, so far, is also deemed a triumph of Pittsburg mechanical skill.

THE CITY.

CHAPEL FOR THE CULLER HOSPITAL.

An appeal to the churches and to the Christian community generally has been made for aid in the erection and furnishing of a chapel for the use of the sick and wounded soldiers quartered at the Cuyler Hospital. It is proposed to use the building for library and reading room purposes, as well as for religious exercises. The apartments formerly occupied for these purposes have been taken for beds and other uses. The dining hall, being the only available place, has been used for the purpose. The accommodations consist of bare benches without backs, and are of course unfit for men suffering from sickness and wounds. The hospital accommodates from seven handred to eight hundred men, and has been well filled during the past year. The men appreciate an effort that is made for their comfort, and we should not be slow in doing something for these men that have done and suffered so much for us. It is estimated that $600 will defray all the expenses of the chapel and necessary furniture. MILITARY.

The decision of the prize commissioner is based on the fact clearly established that the Massachusetts was envaged in the chase of that the Massachusetts was engaged in the chase of the Lillian. Mr. Karns and Mr. Holtzman testified to having heard the boy Stinson say that Hannah Barker, the prosecutrix, sent him to the store of defendant, the next day after the alleged assault, to purchase things. The boy said Hannah asked her sister Lib it the boy should go to the store, and the sister said "Yes, there is no harm in it."

The daughter of defendant testified that she was present when the boy came to the store. Her aunt asked her if the Barkers got trust there, and she replied in the negative. The boy then said that Mr. James had been down to Barker's on Thursday, and agreed that they should have trust. The articles were then given and charged to Hannah Barker.

A JOKE AT THE EXPENSE OF THE MAYOR. There is a police officer, and we may say a good one, attached to the forca, who does not know the Mayor, having seen him only once during the past five or six years. Yesterday the officer was at his station, at Second and Arch streets. A well-dressed gentleman stepped up to him and said:

"Sir, can you inform me where I can find a police officer?"

"I am one," replied the accosted individual, at the same time more fully exhibiting his badge of authority. the same time more fully exhibiting his badge of authority.

"Well, sir, why don't, you report that pile of ashes, so that it may be removed?" inquired the gentleman, as he pointed out a pretty large collection of the obstructing material.

"Why not report it?" rejoined the official; "because, sir, a person has been delegated by the Mayor to attend to that very business."

The strange gentleman was soon lost in the busy throng. He had not gone far before a citizen, stepping up to the officer, asked him what the Mayor wanted.

The officer was struck rather dumb with astonishment upon being assured that the strange gentleman was no less an individual than Mayor Henry himself.

The land is designated on the original map of Venango county as the Dennis Job Tract: upon it are several houses, barns, &c.

This particular location, although at present undeveloped, will, it is believed, prove very productive, as upon the adjoining property a natural oil spring has been known for more than a cantury.

No. 2. Forty five acree in fee simple, adjoining Tract No. 1, on Snyder Run. This Tract has been selected by experienced oil operatives because of its extraordinary surface indications, and will undoubtedly prove equal to the best oil territory in Venango county.

The property of the Company, consisting of two separate tracts containing 315 acres in fee simple, is located in Athens county, Ohio, about two miles and a heliform the town of Athens

TEACT No. 1, containing 200 acres, consists mainly of botion Land, with a frontage of three-quarters of a mile upon the Hocking river and canal, presenting an almost unlimited space of the finest boring surface.

This tract is located in one of the best oil-producing districts in the State, and parties who have developed lands in the vicinity have, in almost every instance, unceeded in procuring the finest quality of Inbricating Oil, worth from $25 to $30 per barrel, at the depth of one or two hundred feet. This property abounds in oil springs and other positive indications of the richest deposits of Petroleum. On the adjoining lands, within a few years of this tract, a number of wells have been sunk, some within a few weeks past, which are yielding oil in larage quantities.

A portion of this tract, a number of wells have been sunk, some within a few weeks past, which are yielding oil in larage quantities.

A portion of this tract is rich farming land, which, with the improvements, comsisting of a double brownstone mansion, barns, and other necessary buildings, will yield a handsome rental to the Company.

TEACT No. 2 contains 115 acres, and, although unconnected with Tract No. 1, is located about the same distance from the town of Athens (2½ miles). This property bears the most positive evidences of being exceedingly rich oil territory, and presents the same features in its oil springs, &c. as No. 1. Amid the ravines, and upon the streams which flow through it, are found the finest sites for boring purposes that could be desired.

This tract, apart from its rich deposits of oil and large surface of boring territory, contains immense beds of COAL, which can be mined and shipped with comparatively little expense. Large collieries are in active operation on the adjoinin greatly enhancing their value in the facilities presented for transportation.

The Company own no uncertain interests or temporary leases, but offer to stockholders 315 acres in fee strape, of the rishest Oil and Coal lands, located in a section of country regarded by eminent geologists as the great centry of the oil region.

To those desirous of investing in a substantial organization we submit the above facts for consiceration, and feel no hesitation in presenting this enterprise as one of the safest and most reliable that has yet been offered.

A working capital of 330,000 has been reserved and a committee of the directors are now making active preparations for an immediate development of the property, which will in a very short time yield the largest returns to stockholders. But fifty thousand shares of the stock are offered for sale.
