THE CITY. The Thermometer SKATING.

The skating at the parks on Saturday afternoon was slightly damaged by the snow storm. Notwithstanding the snow there was probably a larger number of skaters out than on. any previous day during the season. The parks at Fourth and Dlamond; the National, Twenty-first and Columbia avenue, and the Philadelphia Park. Thirty-first and Walnut, were all crowded with visitors. SUICIDE IN PRISON. Conrad Becker, a convicted thief, was found hanging in his collist the country rison vesterday morning. This man and his wife were convicted three charge of larceny, about four months since. The keeper, upon entering the cell to give the convict his breakfast, discovered him hanging to the upper beam of a weaver's loom. The coroner held an inquest. Verdict suicide. THE ICE CROP. ACCIDENT.

Ed. Callahan, the driver of a car on the Heston-ville Passenger Railway, was admitted into the hospital, early on Saturdar, with his leg broken, caused by his horse falling upon him at York avenue and Callowhill street. THE POLICE. TURNED OUT OF THEIR HOME.

The particulars of the alleged conspiracy and malicious mischief case, upon which charge a person named Pulty was bound over by Mr. Recorder Eneu a few days ago, were duly published in this column. The following additional particulars have since been made public. It seems that while the case was pending against Joseph Pulty, before the Recorder, a constable, under the warrant of a writ of possession, proceeded to the rooms cocupied by the aged maiden ladies, the two Misses Moore, burst the door open, and without ceremony put their household goods into the street. This writ of possession was issued by Alderman Hutchinson, upon an affidavit made by some one, which at present does not seem to come up to the requirements of the law in such cases made and proviced. This writ of possession, it is supposed, was issued under an act of Assembly, March 25, 1826, which provides that upon the oath of the landlord or owner, that the rent of any premises not having been paid, and there not being enough goods on said premises to pay the amount of three months' rent, then the writ of possession may issue upon the affidavit being made in accordance with a form as prescribed by law.

The following facts have been officially communicated to Recorder Eneu, which will probably be duly investigated to-day. The subject is one of very great importance to all persons who are what may be termed sub-tenants: The house No. 2000 Brandywine street was originally rented to a Mrs. Clark. She rented the second-story rooms to the TURNED OUT OF THEIR HOME. may be termed sub-tenants: The house No. 2000 Brandywine street was originally rented to a Mrs. Clark. She rented the second story rooms to the two Misses Moore, very respectable, orderly, and plous ladies. They paid the rent regularly, and interfered with nobody's business. It was deemed necessary to oust them, for what reason is not publicly stated. Mrs. Clark, it seems, rented, or pretended to have rented, her part of the house to the Pulty family. Of course, Mrs. O. must have been held responsible for the rent by the owner, as he could not have known anything of the Pulty family without implicating himself in the illegality of the whole praceedings.

The Pulty family having thus gained possession of Mrs. Clark's part of the premises, she remaining or living with the family, it is alleged that undue of Mrs. Clark's part of the premises, she remaining or living with the family, it is alleged that undue afforts were made to eject the two maiden ladies, as efforts were made to eject the two maiden ladles, as developed at the hearing before the Recorder. After that investigation, the two aged complainants returned to their abiding place, for which they had paid the rent; they found their little household goods in the street. Thus they were homeless on a keenly coid day, with the dull, heavy clouds of winter for their canopy, and the frozen earth for their pillow. A friend came to their assistance and gave them temporary refuge, otherwise they might have been compelled to lodge in a police station-house or freeze to death. The case has awakened a considerable amount of sympathy in the neighborhood of Brandywine and Twentleth streets. The proceedings before the Recorder will be looked to with interest. HIGHWAY ROBBERY AND ARREST.

William F. Gross, Dallas Meyers, alias Reedy, and Patrick McDevit, were arrested on Saturday by officers Hart, Houck, and Green, on the charge of highway-robbery. The evidence developed the following facts: It seems that Joslah Smith, of Newton, Bucks county, came to Philadelphia to "see sights." He had in his pockets between four and five hundred dollars in "greenbacks." On Friday night he appeared in the classic locality of Water and Callowhill streets, and was free in the display of his money, and asking of "the party" to take a drink. He soon found friends. One of the prisoners induced him to go to another publichouse, and while walking along the dark pavement the other two assailed him, knocked him down, and took his money. This was the fourth or fifth highway robbery that had taken place in that vicinity within a week. Officer Hert, who possesses superior detective qualities, arranged matters to arrest the party, and, if possible, to recover the money. The sum of $238.90 was recovered. A portion of it was found inside the tick of a bed in the house or room occupied by one of the prisoners. The accused made a confession of the crime. They were committed to answer. Ball in such cases can only be entered before the Court of Quarter Sessions. HIGHWAY ROBBERY AND ARREST.

INTERESTING LEGAL OPINION—INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS.

Estate of John Nagles, O. C. Exceptions to auditor's report. Judge Thompson, on Saturday, delivered the opinion of the court confirming the auditor's report, and Judge Ludlow read the following concurring opinion: cious for a trustee and for this scourt so to apportion the various legal investments which are from time to time to be made, as to secure the parties interested a variety of legal and safe securities.

With these views I am not prepared to say that these trustees erred in making an investment of one-sixth of this estate in these United States bonds, but I reserve the right hereafter in this, as in every other case of the same nature, to sorutinize every investment about to be made, and to determine its propriety in accordance with the principles heretofore stated, so that while surrounded by domestic convulsions, we may act advisedly and for the best interest of the widows, orphans, and beneficiaries who have a legal and sacred, right to look to us for protection. In doing so, however, we cought not, and shall not needlessly injure the oredit which ought to be given to the public securities of the As I see nothing in the other exceptions may be confirmed.

Price vs. The City Commissioners. This was an application for an injunction to restrain defendants from executing a certain contract for the furnishing of books, stationery, &c., for the use of some of the city departments for the year 1885. The application was based upon the allegation that proposals were not advertised for at the time prescribed by law; the advertisement having been on the, 6th of January, whereas the city ordinance of 1863 required that it should be on the 6th of November previous. The court granted the injunction, and in doing so Judge Thompson remarked that the law regulating these matters must be strictly observed. W. S. Price for complainant; Brewster for respondents. HOUSE OF REFUGE CARE.

In the case of Patrick Shay, whose parents ask his discharge from the House of Refuge, where he was committed in October, 1883, Mrs. Michaffy testified that she knew the father and mother of the boy; the mother had worked for her seven years, at shirt making; never saw the mother under the inducence of liquor; always thought the Boy was very well behaved, and was surprised to hear he was in the House of Refuge; never had seen any improper conduct in Mrs. Shay's house.

Mrs. McGuigley testified that she lived in tha house of Mrs. Shay, who was an industrious woman and did not drink. A number of other witnesses gave the parents and the boy excellent characters.

Mrs. McGuigley testified that boy; I lived in the same house with Mrs. Shay, and on going home I found the boy breaking the door, and the mother inside crying murder and watch; believe the father, and boy had "a little in them that day; in courred about election; time; never saw the parents or the boy drunk before that day; is courred about election; time; never saw the parents or the boy drunk before that day; if courted about election; time; never saw the parents or the boy had a difficulty with his mother, about some ashees; he got his mother by the fath; and I said it was a shame; he chased his mother up stairs, and pulled her out from under a bed; a woman came in, thumped him, and put him out the room; he then broke open the door; the boy was in liquor; she tasted it, like other people; the boy was hinduor, also the father.

Judge Allison said it seemed impossible to make some magistrates understand their duties. The law very plainly says that a child cannot be sent to the House of Keiuge by a magistrate unless its parent, guardian, or next friend complain that the child is a vagrant, incorrigible, vicious, and beyond their control; or that by reason of a parent, guardian, or next friend being morally deprayed and incapable of exercising proper care of the child under their charge.

The managers of the House of Refuge had no right to receive a child committed by any magistrate unless the face of the commitment shows the law has been complied with as stated above.

The evidence in this case showed the parents of the boy had a comfortable home, and never had been seen to drink liquor but on one occasion. If this constituted moral depravity large numbers of our citizens would come in this category.

The boy was discharged from the custody of the managers of the House of Refuge.

The case of James Moelhare was again taken up, THE M'ELHARE CASE.

The case of James McElhare was again taken up, and witnesses called to show that the father was a proper person to have the custody of the child, a girl ten years of age.

D. W. White testified that Mr. McElhare sold wood and willow goods on commission for him, and has made as high as $50 a week. He did not neglect his business by reason of intoxication.

On cross examination witness said that Mr. McElhare's salary would average fifteen or eighteen hudred dollars a year.

DITHRIDGE'S XX FLINT GLASS LAMP CHIMNEYS. LAMP CHIMNEYS.

The world-wide reputation which these Chimneys have acquired is due to their acknowledged superiority over all others. This superiority is derived from three sources:

1st. Being fifty per cent. heavier than the common Chimney, they may be handled with much less care.

2a. The oval shape is an adaptation to the flat fisme, the Chimney being at all points the same distance from the heat, so that the danger of cracking by unequal expansion is avoided.

3d. The material of which these Chimneys are manufactured is unequalled by any other glass as a rapid conductor of heat; and, practically, it is found that the combination renders them almost entirely free from liability to destruction by the heat of the flame. Hence the obstacle in the way of the universal use of Carbon Oil, found in the unreasonable expanse for Chimneys, has been met and removed by the introduction of DITHRIDGE'S FIRE-PROOF CHIMNEYS.

The popularity of these Chimneys has induced some unprincipled persons to make use of our name and trademarks, and their reputation has been partially impaired by the worthlessness of spurious Chimneys sold as ours. Parties who have been annoyed with the cracking of some glass Chimneys would do well to call and try the XX Fint.

We have appointed Messrs, PERRINE & DEYDEN, No. 10/2 South SECOND Street, Sole Agents for our Chimneys in Philadelphia, from whom they can be chtained in any quantity, at manufacturer's prices, with the addition of frieight.
