THE DRAFT-MEETING OF WARD DELEGATES.

Mr. Wm. S. Stokely, of the Ninth ward, was called to the chair, and Mr. J. F. Byrnes acted as secretary. Mr. Gliroy, from the Fourth ward, moved that the ward bounties be left to the several wards. A long discussion on the subject followed, and the resolution was finally adopted. Prof. Saunders stated that orders had been re-ceived to commence drafting as soon as reoruiting fell short of 40 men per day in each district. In those districts where the draft had taken place the same rule would apply in regard to the drafted men. He offered the following resolution: Resolved, That clargymen, who formerly were so ef-fell shore of the following resolution: Resolved, That clargymen, who formerly more so ef-dent in persuading members of this reoopergations to solist, and all other speakers who can influence large bodies of men ger of felet and Commo Goun-cils, the police force, and others cocmyping public posi-tions, be as nestly solicited to exart itemasives to the uncation was adopted. We rejolee to know that this excellent Ohristian lady has taken this matter in hand, and we feel sure that our readers will take pleasure in furthering an enterprise that so directly appeals to the best impulses of our nature. A much larger sum, we learn, is still needed to carry out her purpose of rearing a Home for the soldiers' orphans, and to pay for the cost of buildings lately bought, to be used as an Infirmary for the Northern Home and for the Orphans' Home. The latter idea is also an excellent one in a sanitary point of view ; for ex-perience has taught that it is almost impossible to keep a large number of side and well children under the same root, although in different apartments, without prejudice to the well children. A commit-tee of the Legislature pristed the Northern Home and this new building for the Orphans' Home, a few meeks since, and expressed themselves as highly gratified with both. They are under the same management. Mrs. Hutter boards at 307 New street, a short distance from the Lutheran Church of which the Rev.
