FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

THE GREAT NATIONAL CALAMITY PHILADELPHIA MOURNS THE LOSS OF OUR GREAT CHIEFTAIN. SORBOW, INDIGNATION, VENGEANCE SUSPENSION OF BUSINESS. JOY CIVES PLACE TO MOURNING THE FLAG OF VICTORY HIDDEN BY THE BADGE Four years of rebellion have brought to the heart of nearly every citizen of this Republic deep and fleavy sighs for loved ones lost evermore to them. There are vacant places at the hearthstone, and voices which had been heard only to be loved, have been hushed in the silence of death. Never, how-ever, in the history of any people has there been euch universal grief, such intensity of sorrow, such irrepressible indignation, and such unmitigated desire for revenge, as occupied the minds of the loyal American people on the receipt o the news, on Saturday last, of the murder of Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States. President Lincoln, by his unassuming manners, his simplicity of character, his honesty of purpose, his untiring efforts for the best good of this whole people, North and South, had endeared him to every patriot heart. These feelings have increased in intensity as the true character of Abraham Lincoln has shone out under the searching rays of the sunshine of a political contest the most fierce, libelious, and unforgiving in its character that ever agitated any people. This, too, after four years of agitation by fierce and bloody war, in which the wisest of the nation differed, in which heads of armies were conquered, and their forces scattered or driven like chaff before the wind. In the midst of all these excitements we say, and we say it with pride and love for Abraham Lincoln, there was not one word that could be said against him. There was no question about his honesty of purpose-what he said he meant, and what he meant he said. There was no mistaking his acts. There was no duplicity in him. As the people began to know him better they began to love him more. His acts were full of kindness and love, and when, in the hour of victory, he was s merciful, when it was known that the soldierly and generous terms offered by General Grant, and acgenerous terms offered by General Grant, and accepted by General Lee on his surrender, were prompted by the affectionate heart of Abraham Lincoln, and given by him to General Grant those who had before apposed Abraham Lincoln, loyal, conservative Democrats, now respected, if they did not love him. President Lincoln visited this city several times. His last visit was during the Sanitary Fair Exhibition, at which time received all of our citizens who called upon him with a cordial shake of the hand and a kind word to each. All well remember the visit of Mr. Lincoln to the Sanitary Fair, and those who have had the honor of his acthe genuine idea of an American citizen. Were we called upon by a citizen of another land to point out one whom we considered a good representative American, we would point to Abraham Lincoln. No false ideas of aristocracy occupied his mind; no oride ever reigned in his heart. He took the poor the help of God and by the assistance of my people forever." Knowing these things, is it to be wondered at that our people on Saturday last united in sorrow at his loss—respect for his memory? Stout men wept, women gathered on the doorsteps and sidewalks and condoled with each other, and little children joined in the general grief. There were few dry eyes—there were fewer troubled hearts. Early on Saturday morning most of the flags with waich the street were glorious were still fluttering in the breeze. As the terrible tidings became known they were reof the President came flags were hung in mourning closed, and emblems of woe hung upon nearly every house in the city, and the transition from gladness to dismay was as observable i the house fronts as on the faces of the people. There was a general expression of indignation, and a desire for revenge among all classes was universal. Work was suspended everywhere and the lowing: "A nation mourns for a father slain."

THE TOLLING OF THE BELLS.

When the actual fact of Mr. Lincoln's death became settled the old State House bell rang out a solemn requiem knell. Its reverberations striking heavily on every loyal heart. But a few days since it blithesomely rang forth a merry, joyous peal over the great news of Lee's surrender, and now how great the change! Soon the church and engine bells followed in the solemn tolling, and did honor to the great departed.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COURTS. that he could have been spared, but it has been ordered otherwise.

is called to wear his mantle, prove, under the guidance of Providence, a worthy successor.

Judge Grier then said that the Court would be

Judge Cadwalader announced that the United States District Court would stand adjourned till

THE CITY.

KINGSESSING AND DARBY.

The sad news of the assassination of President Lincoln was conveyed first to the residents at these places by the Darby passenger cars. The gloom scom became general, and the newspapers, what few reached these sections, were eagerly sought for and the despatches from Washington were reading to groups of people who collected in squads. The citizens were appailed, and universal sorrow prevailed among them: With one impulse the old fing was draped in the emblems of mourning, and the sad tokens of grief were displayed from many houses. The people could scarcely realize or believe that President Lincoln was no more. OPPIOE OF THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, April 15, 1865—The recommendation of a general illumination of the city on Monday evening next, is hereby countermanded.
By order of the Mayor.
S. G. Ruggles, Chief of Police.
The Displays of Mourning.
In addition to the displaying mourning already dent, announced the sad event in a few appropriate words.

E. Harper Jeffries said: I hold in my hand a preamble and resolutions, which I beg leave to offer, and in doing so I but express our universal sorrow and sadness for the greatest calamity that has befallen our country since the foundation of our Government. We all feel this sad bereavement and loss in the death of our pure and patriotic President. He was indeed an upright and honest man. The nation mourns the loss of a true statesman, and a good man. My heart is too full for further utterance, and I will new read the preamble and resolutions, and move their adoption:

Wiereas, in the death of President Lincoln, the conting has suffered a national and irretrievable loss; Resolved. That are a recognition of the continuous and the present and and are the continuous and the same and a suffered a national and irretrievable loss; THE DISPLAYS OF MOURNING.

In addition to the displays of mourning already mentioned there were numbers of others worthy of note. Indeed, so many and various were they that this paper would not contain descriptions of all those worthy of mention.

A hours on Second street had suspended from the talons of an immense spread eagle three figures—the centre-was a skeleton, representing Death. On one end was a figure of Justice, and on the other the Goddess of Liberty, weeping. Over the Godess of Liberty were the words, "Our Chief is Dead." Over the figure Death were the words, "In the midst of life we are in death." Over the head of Justice were the words, "We smite those who smite us." As soon as the news spread in this growing portion of our city, the residents in great numbers appeared in the streets and mingled their tests of sadness with each other. Here, too, as in many other places, they could not believe the report. Many of the splendid mansions of the wealthy were enrolled in mourning; black sitk and crape were gracefully entwined with the red, white, and blue, and festooned from window to window and from the cave to the pavement. In the more humble abode of honest poverty the same tokens of respect to the memory of the Great Martyr were displayed. The large hotels and public meeting houses exhibited craped flags, and other testefully arranged emblems of grief at the nation's loss.

The Surrecounding Country. WEST PHILADELPHIA. therefore, Resolved, That as a recognition of this event, and as an expression of our deep sorrow and sadness for this sudden calamity, this body do now adjourn. Resolved, That our hall and fiss be draped in mourning for the space of ninety days.

Mr. George Keck seconded the motion for the adoption of the resolutions, and they were unanimously adopted. THE BOARD OF BROKERS. The Board adjourned without transacting any MEETING OF THE BAR. grief at the nation's loss.

THE SUREOUNDING COUNTRY.

We learn from parties who arrived in Philadelphia yesterday alternoon and last evening that for many miles the American fiags, in the surrounding country, were displayed with orape. At West Chester, Old Chester, Media, Lancaster, Easton, Bethlehem, Mount Ephraim, Mount Holly, Woodbury, Atlantic City, and hundreds of other places, the same sad tokens of the nation's loss and grief were visible to the passing eye of travellers. A meeting of the members of the bar will be held to day, at noon, in the United States Court room, to take action on the calamity.

DOUBLEDAY COURT-MARTIAL. On the opening of the court the Judge Advocate. Col. John A. Foster, announced in choice language and feeling terms the death of the President of the United States, at the hands of an assassin. Colonel Mallory, the president of the court, responded feelingly, and the court adjourned. THE NAVY YARD,

The workmen at the Navy Yard were dismissed at noon, Commodore Hull having made an order for the closing of the yard after that time as a mark of respect to the memory of the President. The flags on the shipping were placed at half-mast. GREMANTOWN.

Here also, at the historical village of Germantown, were many pretty devices, all exhibiting sadness because of the shooking calamity. Even the mills became idle, and their industrial occupants mingled with the people in general, some weeping, while others, unable to realize the appaliting event, stood in silent grief. All, however, soon became shadowed in universal gloom. The stores were resorted to, and in a short time every article of goods denoting sadness and sorrow was purchased and arranged in the front of dwillings. The American flags, holsted so recently upon prominent buildings as the bright heralds of victory and coming peace to the land, were draped, and business was generally suspended. The stores were closed, and the window shutters of the dwellings generally were bowed. THE JEWISH SYNAGOGUE: The melancholy tidings of the President's death were announced to the origregation assembled at the Synagogue, in Seventh street, above Arch, when the minister, Rev. S. Morais, made a suitable prayer, trusting that the soul of the departed may meet that reward in Heaven which his actions on earth so justly entitled him to.

CITY COUNCILS.

A special meeting of Councils was held as Satura A special meeting of Councils was held on Saturday alternoon, at which the following business was transacted: transacted:

SELECT COUNCIL.—In consequence of the absence of the president, Mr. Barlow (U.) moved that Mr. Zane (U.) take the chair, which was agreed to. Mr. Van Cleve (U.), in a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, introduced the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereze. Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, has been assassinated, and the death of so good a man, so pure a partict, and so efficient a Chief Magistrate, at this juncture of our Fational troubles, has smothered the scurces of joy that but yesterday were heard in all the loyal States of the Union; therefore, better the contractions of the Union; therefore, but the contraction of the Union; therefore, and the contraction of the Union; therefore, but the contraction of the Union; therefore, and the contraction of the Union; therefore, but the contraction of the Union; therefore, and the contraction of the Union; t MANAYUNK AND ROXBOROUGH,

These sections, contiguous to each other, were also convulsed and shocked when the appalling fact announcing the death of the President was made known to the residents through the medium of the press. Business in the mills was suspended generally. At some of these industrial places the operatives twisted together red, white, blue, and black yarn, and with the me!erial thus arranged festcomed the fronts from window to window. The public houses displayed draped flags. The dwellings in Roxborough were also arrayed in mounting, and the loyal people of the upland section joined in the expression of general sorrow. They all felt, indeed, that death, for the clive, had woven a cypress wresth for the capital of the nation. MANAYUNK AND ROXBOROUGH smothered the scurces of joy that but yesterday were heard in all the loyal States of the Union; therefore, be it Resolved, That Independence Hall and these Chambers be draped in mourning for six months, and the nembers of Conneils attend his funeral in a body; and that the Mayor be requerted to issue a proclamation, calling inpon the officers and all corporations to close the Chambers of Conneils and all corporations to close the Chamber of the Matten and all the public buildings be draped in mourning and nut the public buildings be draped in mourning and nut the State House bell be toiled upon the day of the funeral Resolved. That has a mark of our unfaigned corrow for the national loss, and our regard for the virtues and abilities of the deceased, a joint committee of five from each Chamber be appointed to draft resolutions expressive of our respect for his me mory, and also to make the necessary arrangements for carrying out the provisions of these resolutions.

Resolved, That he public illumination fixed for Monday evening, the 17th inst, he postponed for the present, and the Commissioner of City Property be directed to suppend preparations for the same.

Resolved, That the Commissioner of City Property be and he is hereby directed to drape the State House building and these Chambers in biack.

Resolved, That we will give to Andrew Johnson, the successor of Abraham Lincoln, our earnest, undivided, and patriotic Support, and that in this hour of the pational trial invoke the blessings of Almight; God upon our efforts to restore the nation to peace, union, and happiness.

The preamble and resolutions were adopted by g. The people of this ancient place were also wrapped in the mantie of sorrow when they recovered from the stunning shock they received when the intelligence first reached them. So great a national calemity was hard, indeed, for many of them to really believe. But the truth, astounding as it was, shone out like the bright sun amid the general gloom, and universal sadness prevailed. The National Bank, and other large, handsome, and commanding buildings were artistically draped, the deep black being relieved with the tri colors of the nation. A change of sentiment overcame several prominent ohange of sentiment overcame several prominent persons residing here, and they, sorrow stricken like their neighbors, went home with heavy hearts. The most profound grief prevailed, and as the day passed the dwellings and stores were robed in the emblems of mourning. CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY.

The city of Camden, also, was draped in the sad tokens of sorrow. The shock incident to the reception of the news overcame many of the citizens. The people generally assembled in the streets to discuss the appalling event, and it was some time before they were willing to believe the report. In this particular they were very much like the residents of Philadelphia. Flags were displayed allower the town, and to the observant eye it was indeed a city of mourning. There are many beautiful dwellings in this rural city, and these were craped with symbols of a nation's wee. In many instances the featonings, grouped up with red, white, and blue, presented an attractive, though solemn appearance. A meeting of the citizens of Camden was called at a late hour of the afternoon of Saturday, April 15, at the hall corner of Fourth and Federal streets, dent Linnoln. The preamble and resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote, and the following committee was appointed to carry them out: Messrs. Van Clove, Spering, Freeman, Barlow, and Armstrong.

Mr. Wolbert moved that a recess be taken for fifteen minutes to await the action of Select Council. iffeen minutes to await the action of Select Council.

Mr. Harper opposed this, and, after a few remarks,

The committee being appointed, a motion prevailed that the Select Council be informed of the action of the Common Council. The following named gentlemen constitute the to take action in reference to the murder of President Lincoln.

The attendance was very large, and the deepest feeling displayed. Mr. Huity was chosen chairman, and Mr. Saltor secretary.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting at the great calamity which has befallen the nation. The committee consisted of Messrs. James M. Scovel, R. Henry Lee, Ralph Lee, T. C. Knight, Mr. Sharp, and Mr. Ramsden.

During the absence of the committee Mr. Brinck made an appropriate address.

On the return of the committee, the resolutions were read by Mr. Scovel, who spoke at some length to a deeply interested audience. He spoke of Mr. Lincoln's tearful parting with his friends at Springfield, on his way to Washington, when he requested the prayers of his friends for his guidance in administering the duties of his office. He gave a brief the following named gentlemen constitute the committee: Messrs. Harper, Marcer, Nickels, Willetts, and Gill.

Mr. Willetts submitted a resolution that the Commissioners of City Property be authorized, in respect to the memory of our late beloved Onief Magistrate, to drape the State House and all other public buildings in suitable mourning.

Mr. Fox moved to amend by inserting, provided that the appropriation does not exceed $500. This was steonded by Mr. Oreswell.

Mr. Wolbert said, at such a time as this we should not table about amounts of money; he was prepared to vote for any amount to drape the public buildings of Philadelphis, and in this he was sure the people of the city, whom we represent, will endorse it. THE CORN EXCHANGE.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

On Friday, the anniversary of the day when Major Anderson evacuated Fort Sumpter, the First Baptist Church of this city met at their meeting-house, Broad and Arch streets, to celebrate the event in an appropriate manner. The interior of the beautiful edifice was decorated with the tricolor flowers and small flags, while in the rear of the pulpit a large flag was displayed, covering the entire space.

The services consisted of prayer, reading of portions of the Bible, and singing by the entire congregation, accompanied by a select choir. The organ was played by Mr. M. Warner.

Prayer was offered by the venerable Rev. Thomas H. Stockton, D. D., and the address was delivered by the Rev. George Dana Boardman, the pastor of the church. It was a noble-effort, and was delivered with most powerful effect, eliciting time and again frequent applause. His reference to President kincoln was most touching and eloquent, and the tribute he paid to his eminent worth and nobleness of heart will not soon be forgotten. As he closed with "Long live Abraham Lincoln!" the whole audience seemed carried away with enthusiasm. THE HIBERNIA.

The honorary members of the "Old Hibernia" have formed themselves into an association, to be styled "The Honorary Association of the Hibernia Fire Engine Company, No. 1." This is a new move in this city, and is patterned after the "Old Guard," exempt firemen of New York, and we expect other fire companies will follow the fagal of the Hibernia. The new association will meet to-morrow evening to complete its organization. UNERAL OF THE LATE COL. W. SERGEANT. The funeral of Colonel W. Sergeant, who died of wounds received before Petersburg, took place on Saturday afternoon, and was attended by the Provost Guards, the Veteran Reserve Corps, the 1st City Troop, and officers of the army. The body was borne on a bier to St. Peter's Church (P. E.), where the services were held. Colonel Sergeant was of the regular army. SUDDEN DEATH. PICKPOCKET COMMITTED.

A young man giving the name of James Ambrose, halling from Mulberry street, New York, was arraigned yesterday on the charge of picking a gentleman's pocket, at Sixth and Chestnut streets, on Saturday evening. It seems the gentleman was crowded upon or pushed by defendant. It was the work of a moment; the intruder passed on. Presently, the gentleman turning to another, saked him if he would know the man who pushed against him. The man replied yes. Both these persons proceeded on a search, and, overhauling the follow at a square distant, he was arrested. Upon searching him the pocket book of the gentleman who was pushed against was recovered. The defendant was committed to answer.

Two half-grown boys, giving the names of Kerran Curley and Patrick Gallaxher, were looked up in the Eighth ward Station House, yesterday, on the charge of larceny and assault and battery. It seems they entered the Trinity Chapel, Rev. Mr. Duhring, at Twenty-second and Locust streets, yesterday morning, and selsing a ladder with felonious intent, attempted to get away with it. They knocked the sexton down, and said that if the minister did not stop preaching the way he had been in the habit of doing, they would knock him down also. The young villains belong to a disreputable gang of petty thieves, who intended, it is supposed, to use the ladder to facilitate them in stealing craped flags from the upper windows of houses, SHAMEFUL ROBBERY. Mrs. M. G. Brown-Madam; — have been to the city several times but had not time to call. I have got emirely well, and under God I owe it to you. My left ear, the flashings left it just after harvet; in this way: I took a distinct of the straight poise in my ears. I was so bad that I could not hear without they would halloo at the top of their voices. I first got a prescription from a physician, which consisted of almond oil and something else (it can' itell what). I also tried almond oil alone, but it did me no good; then I got some Homeopathle medicine, but with the same effect. I then tried old women's cures by the score; stil in o henefit; I went to Philadelphia, put myself under the care of a celebrated Aurist; he bored at my ears with instruments, and run others up my nostrils, for five weeks, and ended by cheating me out of seventy five dollars ($75), as that was all the benefit I received from him. I then saw one of your advertisements; I got the Metaphysical Discovery, used not more than halfof it, and have recovered my hearing, which I had loat for years.

I remain yours truly. THOMAS B DIMERY.
