FREDERIOK A. VAN CLEVE,

Chairman. JAMES A. FREEMAN, James A. Freneman, Joshua Spering, Geo. W. Nickels, Thomas H. Gill, James Armstrong, Joseph F. Marcob, Alexander J. Harper, Thomas A. Barlow, Samuel C. Willits, THE CITY MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE. The orry measures of the legislature, of this city, held a meeting at the rooms of the National Union Club yesterday afternoon. The following members were present: Nichols, of the Senate; Thomas, Freeborn, Tonnelly, Ruddiman, Steiner, Shippen, Occhrene, Watt, Josephs, Quigley, Miller, Les, of the House. Mr. Lee presided. Mr. Occhrene agregative. Lee, of the House. Mr. Lee presided. Mr. Coch-tent acted as recretary.

A committee was appointed to prepare a suitable badge. The members of the city delegation, and other members now in the city, will meet at the Na-tional Union Club House this morning, at 11 o'clock, to proceed to Harrisburg. They will meet at 6 o'clock this evening, at the Jones House, Har-risburg. They will accompany the body to this city. that he was instructed to vote that the members appear in equipments.

Several delegates hoped this would be voted down, as the department were not to go out for a show, but to perform a sad duty.

Mr. Andress preferred that citizen's dress be adopted, but, as many of the members of the department could not afford to obtain silk hats and black suits, he thought the number in procession would be greatly reduced. As most of the comparies had abolished capes and adopted dark coats, he thought they would look well.

Mr. Hutler said he had just returned from Washington with his company, the Perseverance Hose, and hoped that the motion to appear in equipments would not prevail. In the procession at Washington there was not an organization that appeared save in citizens' dress—black suits and hats. We all know that the firemen of Philadelphia was able to appear in a proper dress on this cocasion, save in outside these-black saids and hats. We sail know that the firemen of Philadelphis was able to appear in a proper dress on this occasion, on and he would rather not see them parade at all than to appear in equipments.

The motion to appear in equipments was not magreed to, but one delegate voting for it.

Mr. Little moved that a committee of five be appointed to make the necessary arreangements, and report on Friday evening.

An amendment was made that the committee consist of one from each Fire district. Agreed to, and the following gentlemen were appointed:

First district, Thomas Little; Second, Matthias Stratton; Third, John Mirkil; Fourth, George W. Dull; Frith, Theo. F. Weiser; Sixth, no representation; 7th, John Morgan.

On motion of Mr. Heppard, the chairman and secretary were added to the committee.

Mr. J. G. Butler moved that the Ohief Engineer and his assistants act as marshals and aids of the department in the procession. Agreed to—yeas 44,

While indulging the pleasing hopes of peace afforced by the successes of the national arms, the citizens of Philadelphia, in common with their fellow-countrymen, have been appalled by the great calamity which, in the death of the President of the United States, has overtaken them; that the ruler of a nation who derived his high office from inheritance or by appointment, and who had used his great trust for the gratification of his passions, should be assassinated by some victim of his power, has not in the history of human affairs been of rare occurrence; but it has been reserved for this age, so proud of its refinement and its civilization, to furnish the only instance of the murder of an Executive chosen by the unforced suffrages of a free people, and unliting, as did the late President, a meakness of disposition and loveliness of temper that won the affections of all with whom he had to do, the atrocity of such a crime is without a parallel. As if it were possible to augment the wickedness of his act, the assassin followed it by the cry of have had a personal enemy in the whole land, who is not charged with having inflicted a single personal wrong, whose conspicuous virtues and proverbial honesty of purpose were endearing him to every heart, and whose only doubtful virtue was his lenlency to his country's foes. Attorney for David Evans, Executor. TREASONABLE LANGUAGE.

George Turner employed as an actor at the New Chestnut street. Theatre, was arraigned yesterday for. Theatre, in consequence of language used by him of an exciting nature. The following evidence was adduced:

Richard Robinson sworn.—I board at 1235 Chestnut street, as also does Turner; at the dinner table yesterday, Turner produced a likeness of J. Wilkes Booth, and handed it to a fellow-actor, named Brink; the latter, on receiving, said "yes, that is a likeness of Booth, and he is a gentleman;" I said the man who had committed a murder was not a gentleman in my opinion; both Turner and Brink said I was a liar. Another gentleman at the table reitersted what I had said, and both Turner and Brink again said "that any one who said Booth was not a gentleman was a liar." Brink has upon many occasions said that Booth was an intimate personal friend of his, and he had a likeness of him at his house in Washingten; Turner said at the dinner table that if the Government were to offer a reward of $100,000 for Booth he would screen him if he could; Brink said "yes, and if they would offer a still larger amount, I would do the same thing."

Mits. Lewis remonstrated with Turner and Brink for acting as they had done in her house before strange gentlemen. Turner was committed in default of $2,000 bail to answer at court, and Brink is still at large. Mr. Sinn, one of the proprietors of the Oheshut street theatre, called at the alderman's, and upon hearing the evidence adduced against Turner he refused to have anything to do with him.
