THE CITY. PAIRMOUNT PARK. PAIRMOUNT PARK.
On that sad day when the body of our murdered President was lying in state in our old hall, and our effizens were througing to show what reverence they atill might do to his memory, we sought relief from the long lines of mourning people and the longer lines of crape-clad houses, in a ramble among the beauties of our city park.
The skies were fair, nature was just bursting into the gay luxuriance of spring, and there was another crowd, another; yet the same—quiet, sad, subdued by the weight of the national grief. It was mainly mposed of workers, seeking, like ourselves, s holiday glimpse of nature, and the relief and soothing pleasure drawn from the simple scene, with its natural beauties of rock and river, was so clearly depleted on every face that we were glad for ourselves and them that such a spot was of ready access to the street-worn and shop-weary citizen. How beautiful the park is! How beautiful in its How beautiful the part is: How beautiful in its simplicity. There we see the country, not mangled and tortured into ornamental groves, not defaced and obscured by fancy architecture and would be rural bridges, but charming in its unburt natusurface, river scenery, and that unpurchaseable beauty-grand old trees. We cordially hope that no thirst for loading it with "improvements" will seize the city authorities; for, when the connecting link between the grounds around the reservoir and the park is fully completed, it will make a most If the dawning peace and prosperity give us the means to continue the work, let the proposed ex-penditure be made in purchasing an additional tract on the other side of the river, as wisely urged by our Mayor in his last message. Any one who observes the position of the two bridges will see the prospect of a most lovely drive looming in the distance of such a proposed extension; and the beauty, growth, and size of West Philadelphia fairly entitles her to a share in such a city blessing.

CHRISTIAN UNION ASSOCIATION. A meeting for the purpose of promoting a closer union of all Evangelical denominations of Chris-tians was held last evening at the Arch-street Prestians was fitted less than the subject of "the byterian Church to consider the subject of "the byterian of unity among Christians and how to promote it." The objects of this organization are o secure a greater unity of faith and feeling and o nding action among Evangelical Christians idea—the Cross—as truly as any party or sect, and seeks an answer to the question, In what way can they be made one in diversity? It points to the hope of a Federal Union of these sects, under one general Church government, by the very cons on of which unity may be secured, and the rights of individual denominations, however obscure, may be protected. At the same time, this which may appear feasible, even to the renuncia tion of its own. Feeling assured that one great source of effectual unity must be in having some great work to perform, it proposes, first of all, to "hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches," whear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches," by inviting all Evangelical ministers, whether in its evident that work enough may be found to engage the energies of a united Christendom. According as means shall be furnished to its treasury, it will commence the publication of all works tending to unite the denominations, and also all works that are not sectarized, or that shall serve to propagate or defend Obristianity against any of its foes, within or without. Its first quarterity meeting will be held in New York ofty early in January, at which its plans will be more clearly set forth.

The Rev. Dr. Brainard presided, and said the large attendance was a complete success. He referred to a similar meeting held in London in 1846, where eleven thousand persons, representing forty-six denominations were present.

Rev. Mr. Kimball, of Brooklyn, made a brief address, saying, that for two years meetings looking to the promoting of Obristian unity had been held in New York. A clergy man of the Preblyterlan Church first started them, and he was soon joined by Rev. Dr. Dix, of the Epicopal Church, and Rev. Dr. Spring, of the O. S. Presbyterian Church. A series of meetings had been continued with marked success. He read letters from distinguished clergymen endorsing the cause. endorsing the cause.

IGNORANCE IS NOT BLISS.

The residents in the vicinity of the Navy Yard were in a state of alarm on Sunday night, and it may be said that hundreds of families remained awake all night, fearing to go to bed. This was the result of the appearance of an armed guard stationed outside the walls of the Navy Yard. Nobody knew the reason why the guard was placed there. It was not long before a report was freely circulated that a rebel ram was coming up the Delaware. This story found ready believers; and we learn, from personal investigation, that quite a number of men ware on the watch during the night for bombmen were on the watch during the man shells bursting over the city.

Shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning two of the guard stationed near the haversack department at the United States Arsonal on Gray's Ferry at the United States Arsonal on Gray's Ferry at the what they supposed to be a man. The ment at the United States Arsenal on Gray's Ferry road, fired at what they supposed to be a man. The stranger was halled, and not answering the guard halled again. The individual thus summoned turned and fied, and proved to be a "black knight," for muskets were fired at him, and, of course, he escaped over a fence into a brickmaker's yard, and darkness hid him entirely from view. The stranger might have been considered a myth had it not been that a pistel was discharged at the guard from the direction where the disappearance occurred.

MILITARY FUNERAL.

The funeral of G. W. Rees, aged 21 years, son of John P. Rees, who has for a number of years been connected with the post office in this city, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning, from the residence of his father, Sixteenth street, below Shippen. Young Rees entered the service at the commencement of the rebellion, and during the part two years has been connected with the 20th Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was taken prisoner with Hunter's expedition, and atter his release from Libby Prison took the field again and served with Gen. Sheridan throughout all his campaign up to the capture of Petersburg. He received a wound at the battle of Five Forks which terminated fatally.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

The store of H. S. Henry & Co., on Front street, above Vine, was discovered on fire at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The building was used as a rag warehouse, and was filled with shoddy and like materials. The policeman on the best discovered the fire near the second-story front window. He had tried the door a short time previous and found it was secure. The fire burned with much stubbornness, and for a long time baffied the attempt of the firemen to subdue it. The building belonged the Gebhard estate, and was damaged to the extent of $1,600, which is covered by an insurance in the Fire Insurance Company. The damage to the stock is estimated at $5,000, upon which there is an insurance of $1,500 in the Kensington Insurance Company. The same building has been on fire several times before, and to spontaneous combustion the cause was attributed. DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

VISIT TO GENERAL GRANT'S MANSTON. VISIT TO GENERAL GRANT'S MANSION.

On Saturday the beautiful mansion, 2009 Chestnut street, purchased by loyal citizens, and presented to Lieut. General Grant, was opened to the inspection of a number of ladies and gentlemen to whom invitations had been sent. The house is furnished in a style of grandeur that reflects credit upon the liberality and judgment of the admirers of the great General who has subdued four rebel armies during the recent rebellion. Mrs. Grant was to have taken possession of the mansion yesterday.

The body was recovered and taken to the residence of his parents, No. 5 Colbrook place. A COUPLE OF PRIZE FIGHTS.

On Saturday afternoon a disgraceful prize fight took place in the southern rural part of the city, outside the police limits, between a couple of young men who pummelled each other for an hour and a half. The same length of time was occupied in another fight between two men in the extreme northern part of the city, yesterday morning. It is said that sixty rounds were fought. The public, of course, have no interest in such brutal and disgusting proceedings. A COUPLE OF PRIZE FIGHTS. AN OPENING.

The new salcon of Mr. O. W. Petted, at Tenth and Chestnut streets, was opened last evening. A supper was partaken of by the invited guests. THE COURTS. District Court-Judge Hare.

This court assembled as usual yesterday, but owing to the absence of witnesses no case on the day's list was ready for trial, and the court adjourned till this morning.

The Herman Building and Saving Fund Association, No. 2, vs. John P. Arrison. An action to recover certain dues alleged to be owing and unpaid upon certain shares of stock standing on the books of the association in the name of the defendant. The defence was that the association had loaned to the defendant a sum of money, for the payment of which he executed to them a mortgage. Subsequently the defendant paid off this mortgage, and he alleged that at the stellement then made all his responsibility as to the stock in question was disposed of. Verdit for plaintiffs 4846.

Heyer for plaintiffs; Drayton for defendant.

Catharine Smiley vs. Hannah S. Biddle. This was an action to recover damages for slander. The plaintiff, it seems, had lived with the defendant as a servant. Having left, and having applied elsewhere for a place, she referred the lady to the defendant for her character. The allegation of plainfiff was, that the defendant told the lady so referred to that while plaintiff had lived with her she had stolen from a locked closet some brandy, and being satisfied that the brandy was being taken by somebody, she had put a quantity of specae. In a bottle of it, and that shortly afterwards the brandy disappeared, and the plaintiff became very sick: The consequence was, as the plaintiff slegges, she did not get another place. She then brought this suit for damages. Judge Stroud entered a nonsuit, saying that the defendant was only exercising a proper privilege when applied to, as to the character of a domestic who had lived in her service, in stating what she knew about the person's character. Unless malice was shown she could not be held accountable.

Juliana Mintzer vs. Chas. M. Baker and wife and Sarah Thompson. This was also a feigued issue to test the validity of the will of Adam Mintzer, deceased. The case was not contested, and the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff.

Mary Mills vs. William Mills. This was a libel filed by plaintiff for a divorce-from her husband, the respondent, on account of cruel and barbarous treatment. The evidence showed that the respondent had used personal violence towards his wife, and had turned her out of his house. This was not contradicted, and the jury rendered a verdict for the libeliant. A PUT-UP JOB.

Two persons were arraigned, yesterday, on the charge of setting up a game of chance, at No. 833 Market street, contrary to the act of Assembly in such cases made and provided. This was evidently a 'putup job. The proprietor of the establishment was absent from the city, and on Saturday a man and woman visited the piace, and, after staying for more than hour, asked if there was not some jewelry to be put up for chances. The person in attendance tepplied there had been, but it was abolished, although there were some articles left. The visitors desired very much to take a chance or two, and finally prevailed upon the wife of the proprietor to let them try. They each paid half a dollar, took their chance, received their prizes, and, saying 'Now we'll have a little fun,' departed. For this transaction the woman was arrested, and also a young man who takes care of the museum, he not knowing anything whatever of the affair. The hearing, of course, being ex parte, the parties were bound over to answer at court. It is simply just to say that the proprietor is endeavoring to build up an attractive museum, and to make it popular. He disclaims all intention of setting up sun games of chance, or pursuing any other unlawful business. [Before Mr. Recorder Enue.]

William Miller, alias William Myers, was arraigned yesterday by officer Haas, on the charge of setting fire to Dr. Henry's barn and stable, on Micetown lane, near Second street. Several attempts had recently been made to fire the place, and awatch was set. Early yesterday morning the ppf soner was seen to approach and enter the stape. He pulled some hay into the manger, and then piled some under it. Just as he was about to apply the match he was seized, and the properly taus saved from general conflagration. The pilerable fellow is a roving wagrant. He was committed to answer.
